STATE DRY LAW REPEAL SPEEDS IN BOTH HOUSES

Downstate G. O. P. Tries to Delay Bills.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Steady progress was made in both chambers of the general assembly toward repeal of the Illinois dry laws on this, the first day of actual legislation in the 58th session. Drys protested, but measures to abolish the blue law statutes were advanced without difficulty.

Downstate Republicans in the senate again, as last week, proved to be the principal stumbling block in the way of the liberal measures. They kept their record consistent by attempting to delay the wet bills and were joined by a new senator, Louis O. Williams [Dem., Clinton], who first surprised his colleagues six days ago by opposing the advancement of the bills to second reading without committee reference.

One Democrat Fights Move.

That this first termer, who was elected in the landslide on a national platform calling for immediate repeal, intends to side with the drys seemed certain today when he repeated last week's performance. He was the only Democrat so listed.

The chief protagonist of the liberal cause today was Senator Harold G. Ward of Chicago, who introduced the bills last week. They were drawn by a committee of Democratic members and like bills were given the house today by Representative A. B. Lager [Dem., Carlyle]. They went swiftly to second reading without comment.

Of only secondary importance to the repeal action was the dragging into the open of dissension in the minority ranks of the house. There have been reports of a struggle between retiring Speaker Shanahan and Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago as to who should act as Republican leader in the naming of minorities on house committees.

Roe Confers with G. O. P.

Mr. Shanahan was the choice for speaker at the caucus a week ago, but was defeated by the Democratic majority when the house organized. At the same meeting Schnackenberg was elected minority leader.

It was reported last week that Speaker Arthur Roe was inclined to favor the retiring speaker's recommendations for Republican memberships on the committees, and this morning Mr. Roe verified this after a meeting with Schnackenberg and Shanahan in his office by declaring from the rostrum that in his 20 years in the house the man chosen by the minority party for speaker had always acted as floor leader.

"But in going into this matter," he said, "a tacit agreement has been reached which I feel more than confident will work successfully." Then he recognized Mr. Shanahan.

No Desire For Leadership.

"I have said that I have no desire for leadership," said the veteran legislator when he took the floor. "I feel that I have done my full share and I desire to rest.

"There has been enough trouble in the past. But in the interests of harmony I have selected a committee of five men—three from downstate and two from Chicago—who will send the list of committee recommendations to the committee on rules when it is organized. I don't want the committee to consult with me; I want nothing to do with it."

Mr. Shanahan named Schnackenberg chairman and appointed the following members of the committee: Roy M. Green of Rockford, H. D. Sparks of Shelbyville, Sol P. Roderick of Chicago, and Henry F. Scarborough of Payson.

Plan Displeases Libonati.

Schnackenberg then took the floor to say that he would work in the interests of harmony. He was interrupted by R. V. Libonati of Chicago, who was dissatisfied with the situation, and he soon became involved in verbal tilts with three or four Democrats who also desired to talk. The high light of that incident came when Speaker Roe granted Libonati the floor on a question of personal privilege and a comment, made with a smile, about getting along with the "gentleman from Cook," meaning Libonati.

"You don't have to get along with me, Mr. Speaker," Libonati fired back "I'm a Republican."

Frank McCarthy of Elgin said he regretted the making public of this quarrel in the Republican ranks and suggested an immediate caucus "to settle the matter." This was not held

2 HIRED KILLERS SLEW BANDMAN, ASSERTS STEGE

Predicts Arrest in Short Time.

A full month of investigation of the murder of Edwin O. Schildhauer, Austin High school bandmaster, has convinced Police Captain John Stege that the killing was accomplished by men hired for the job.

"We have information indicating that two men with records as robbers kidnaped and killed Schildhauer," said the captain, who has been leading in the search for the slayers. "We hope to arrest them in a short time."

Plan to Exhume Body.

Meanwhile the police are planning to exhume the body of Schildhauer in the hope of finding a letter which Mrs. Frances Schildhauer, the widow, is reported to have secreted in his casket on the day of his burial. This letter may contain information leading to the solution of the murder, they believe. Schildhauer's father resides in New Holstein, Wis., and he will be asked for permission to exhume the body. Lieut. Thomas Duffy and Sergt. Blake drove last night to Sheboygan, 30 miles from New Holstein, and will see the father today.

Capt. Stege declined to discuss the exhumation phase of the case. He concentrated on the maze of conflicting statements that have been made to the police since the murder investigation began, and the apparent efforts to cover up. He drew his own portrait of Schildhauer, quite a different one from that drawn by the widow in her statements on Monday.

Pictures Mate as Unfaithful.

She had described her slain husband as gay and unfaithful, a drinker, and a person of low moral status.

"The further we go in this case," declared Capt. Stege, "the cleaner becomes the record of Schildhauer and the more clouded the records of those who have cast reproaches on his memory. We interviewed every member of the high school band he headed, all the business men of the sections in which he lived and worked, and his teaching and musical associates. Without exception, they asserted his moral character was excellent and that there had never been a breath of scandal about him during his lifetime."

Quite frankly, Capt. Stege declared that he did not believe Schildhauer had been kidnaped in the manner described by the widow. She told of his leaving his home at 3435 Fulton street at 8:15 the evening of Dec. 10 and being forced into an automobile by a short man. Standing at a window, she witnessed this event, she said, and then ran screaming to the street "as I never screamed before."

Quiz Schildhauer Neighbors.

Police have questioned all the neighbors of the Schildhauers, it was said, and not one heard the screams. Moreover, Capt. Stege asserted, he is convinced that if Schildhauer went home after eating dinner with his wife in a hotel he could not have left again before 9 p. m.

"He stopped in a barber shop at 8:15," said Capt. Stege. "Mrs. Schildhauer said he went home after that and played the clarinet for a half hour before setting out to attend a bandmasters' dinner. It is my conviction that he stepped into the automobile for his death ride before getting home that evening.

"The men who carried him away were known to him. He was still carrying a partly smoked cigar when he was shot and the body dumped in Cicero. If men unknown to him threatened him on the street he would not have clung to the cigar. Nor would he have taken off his right glove. He believed that he was with friends and continued to smoke, and he took off his right glove to shake hands.

"These are logical assumptions. Some one who knew this man well wanted him killed and hired the job done by experts. He was lured deliberately into the death car by some one who was acquainted with him."

Search for Weapon.

In the hope of finding the weapon used in the slaying, forty residents of Cicero, all on the relief rolls, were sent yesterday to search the vicinity of 58th court and Pershing road, Cicero, where the body was discovered.

Last night Capt. Stege and Sergt. Frank Donohue of the coroner's office requestioned Mrs. Catherine Showalter, 130 East 68th street, a sister of Carl Bradberry, ex-deputy sheriff, who has admitted an illicit love affair with Mrs. Schildhauer.

Previously Mrs. Showalter had as-

THE GREAT WALL OF AMERICA

Son Is Born to Libby Holman; Heir to Riches

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds, widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, gave birth to a son tonight in the Pennsylvania hospital here. Dr. Norris W. Vaux, who was in attendance, said both the mother and son were "doing nicely."

Mrs. Reynolds arrived at the hospital early this morning by automobile from Wilmington, Del., where she had been living with her mother since the death by gunshot of her 20 year old husband last summer.

At the hospital during the day it was said unofficially that she had come for "observation" and would remain only a short time. It had been announced that the baby was expected about the middle of February.

Will Name Child Smith.

Mrs. Reynolds had said that the child, whether boy or girl, would be named Smith Reynolds, after her husband.

If she is appointed the legal guardian she will receive an income of $200,000 a year until the boy reaches the age of 21, according to a recently published estimate.

While young Reynolds' will, filed in New York by the Guaranty Trust company as executor of his estate last October, made no mention of his actress-widow—having been drawn up before their marriage—lawyers pointed out at the time that the rights of any child born to his widow to a share in his estate would be absolute. Attorneys for Mrs. Reynolds estimated that the child's inheritance might amount to as much as $18,000,000.

May Be Legal Fight.

Much of young Reynolds' estate is tied up in a trust fund established by his late father, R. J. Reynolds, however, and a long legal fight is in prospect before it is finally apportioned. Two sisters of Smith Reynolds, Mrs. Mary Babcock and Mrs. Nancy Bagley, were reported only a few weeks ago to have retained New York attorneys with a view to preventing his widow and her expected child from sharing in the estate.

The will was dated Aug. 21, 1931.

Smith Reynolds, heir to one-fourth of the R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune, was fatally shot at Reynolds, the family estate at Winston-Salem, N. C., last July 6, after a party there.

Mrs. Reynolds and Albert Walker, 19, of Winston Salem, a friend of young Reynolds, were indicted on charges of murder early in August, after a coroner's investigation had previously called the shooting suicide. In November the cases were dropped. Solicitor Carlisle Higgins told the court he did not have sumcient evidence to warrant a trial.

This was in accord with the wishes of the Reynolds family. W. N. Reynolds, an uncle of young Reynolds, some time previously made public a letter to the authorities in which he stated the family would be "quite happy" if the charges were dropped.

Married in Michigan.

Young Reynolds married Libby Holman six days after his divorce at Reno from Anne Cannon Reynolds. The ceremony was performed by a justice in Monroe, Mich., late in November, 1931, but was not announced for some time later. Reynolds and his first wife had one daughter, Anne. As a part of the divorce settlement between Smith and the first Mrs. Reynolds she signed an agreement waiving all claims of herself and of her daughter to any further share in the Reynolds fortune. Her legal power to relinquish the inheritance rights of her child, however, are in doubt.

Prior to her marriage and for a short time afterward Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds was a star in several musical stage productions.

RAPIDAN CAMP GIVEN TO VIRGINIA; HOOVER WANTS NATIONAL PARK

Richmond, Va., Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover's Rapidan camp has been donated to the commonwealth by the President who expressed the wish that it be made a part of the proposed Shenandoah National park, available for the use of his successors.

Announcement of the donation was made today by William E. Carson, chairman of the Virginia conservation and development commission, to whom as trustee the deed was made.

A letter from President Hoover to Mr. Carson, incorporated in the deed of trust, reiterating his original intention regarding the camp as expressed Aug. 2, 1929, follows:

"As I told you some months ago, I should like to put it in permanent form for the use of my successors. . . . I desire that the camp shall ultimately become the property of the Shenandoah National park so that at the expiration of my term of office, they may hold it for my successors for a week-end camp, or, if future Presidents do not wish to avail themselves of it, it is at the disposal of the park itself. Therefore, I would be glad to either deed it now or await the transfer of the park to the federal government, whichever you think best."

The area covered in the deed includes three tracts: The camp tract of 164 acres, the President's school tract of 1.58 acres, both owned in fee simple by Mr. Hoover, and 46.5 acres near the camp in which leasehold rights were held by the President.

French Police Seek to Expel Tribune Scribe

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 10.—An attempt by French police to expel Alex Small, columnist of the Paris edition of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and a contributor to THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE, was frustrated by the ministry of foreign affairs today after the American embassy and the association of American correspondents intervened.

Small was notified of the decision to expel him Friday as the climax of a mysterious persecution by police about which the government apparently had no knowledge. Last August Small was arrested and held incommunicado for 24 hours on the pretext that a minor crook had stolen his identity papers and used Small's name. The police, however, refused to investigate the confusion of identity and informed Small that they had sufficient reason to expel him anyway.

Refuse to Give Reasons.

They refused to state what the reasons were and told Small they held an order for his expulsion which was two years old, but which had been held in suspense. Later they declared the expulsion order had definitely been withdrawn.

On Friday, however, Small was ordered to the police station, forced to give up his identity card and informed that a new order had been issued by the ministry of interior on Aug. 13—the day after he had been released by the police under the old order.

When this correspondent protested to the Quai d'Orsay today, officials said they did not know anything about it, but an hour later assurance was given that the order had been withdrawn and that Small would not be bothered "unless new developments occurred."

Seek to Censor Articles.

Foreign ministry officials refuse to explain Small's persecution and heads of departments became unreachable when further information was sought.

After Small's first arrest it was suggested that he submit translations of his daily articles and today it was hinted that he would not be troubled in the future if he took special care not to write anything in his column which might be interpreted as unfriendly to France. Strangely, Small is noted in Paris for the friendly tone of his comments on French policy and for explaining the French view to foreigners.

Stork's Arrival Interrupts Hitler at Election Rally

DETMOLD, Germany, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Not political opponents, but the stork caused a ten minute interruption in Adolf Hitler's speech at an election massmeeting last night at Hohenhausen, near here, a woman in the audience prematurely giving birth to a boy. After the commotion had subsided it was announced that mother and baby were doing nicely. The Nazi leader promised to appear at the baptism next Sunday, when the Lippe diet election will be held.

Michigan Av. Merchant Is Found Slain

Joseph Fingold, 49 years old, was shot and killed last night in his trousseau shop at 503 North Michigan avenue, in the Medinah Athletic club building.

The body of the merchant-dressmaker, with two bullets in the head, was discovered by his son, Milton Fingold, 25 years old, 5749 North Spaulding avenue. It was slumped across a table in a workroom on the second floor, over the salesroom of the shop, which was known as Sellet-Meyers.

Beside the body lay a pair of scissors, which the man slain had apparently been using when he was shot down. There was no pistol found; this in the opinion of the police precluding the possibility that Fingold had committed suicide.

Son Tells Story to Police.

Questioned by Capt. Charles McGurn, Milton Fingold said that he had left the shop just before 9 o'clock to get a soda in the Medinah drug store, which is also in the athletic club building. Harry Chambers, doorman of the club, fixed the time as 9:05. Miss Leona Bauer, 4132 Sheridan road, waitress at the soda counter, said she had seen young Fingold in the store a half hour earlier.

The doorman added that after getting the soda Fingold went back to the shop at 9:20 and reappeared a few moments later with the announcement that "something terrible has happened." The killing was then discovered. Young Fingold, the doorman said, was the only one he saw leaving or entering the shop. Police asserted that the elder Fingold had been dead an hour when his body was found.

$55,000 of Life Insurance.

Young Fingold told Capt. McGurn that he had handled all his father's financial affairs. The police revealed that the father carried two life insurance policies, one for $25,000 and the other for $15,000. The $15,000 policy, the police said, provided for double indemnity in case of death by violence.

The son was held for further questioning. One physical fact suggested a theory that a robber might have slain the elder Fingold. The right pocket of his trousers had been turned out, as if in search for money.

Officials of the Medinah Athletic club said the Fingolds were not connected with the club in any way, except as lessees. They said the rent on the shop had been paid regularly, and that otherwise they knew nothing of the Fingolds' affairs.

Others in Family Questioned.

In addition to the workroom on the second floor, there were several smaller rooms which some members of the Fingold family used as living quarters. The wife of the man who was killed, a second son, Benjamin, and two daughters all were absent from the building when the killing occurred. They were taken to the Chicago avenue station for questioning. Mrs. Fingold collapsed and was taken to the home of a relative by Benjamin.

The police pointed out that the stairway to the second floor was difficult of access and that it was unlikely that a robber unfamiliar with the store would take a chance of being trapped upstairs. This led them to a theory that the merchant had been shot by some one who knew him and the habits of the family.

JUDGE ORDERS INQUIRY AFTER DENYING CLAIM

Federal Judge John P. Barnes late yesterday halted a war risk insurance case in which a veteran sought to collect $5,000 from the government for alleged war disabilities, and ordered an immediate grand jury investigation of the matter.

Evidence in the case will be presented to the grand jury this morning. If the jurors desire, they may broaden their investigation to include any of the 500 other war risk claims which are still pending. These claims involve $5,000,000. According to United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, the jury is not limited in the scope of its work.

Judge Orders Inquiry.

However, the one specific case only will be considered this morning, it was said. Under Judge Barnes' instructions all persons involved in that matter may come under the jury's scrutiny. Among them are Richard Birdwell, 42 years old, a Negro, of 5217 South Dearborn street, the veteran claimant; Attorney Edward H. S. Martin, who actively represented him in court; State Senator James J. Barbour of Evanston, whose name appears as a counsel in the records, and Dr. Orlando F. Scott, physician and psychiatrist, Birdwell's principal witness.

Immediately after halting the case by ordering a directed verdict in favor of the government, Judge Barnes cited Birdwell for contempt, hinting that there was perjury in the case. He fixed the veteran's bond at $2,000 and ordered him to jail when he failed to raise the bail. Birdwell may appear in court on the contempt citation today.

Seeks Evidence of Fraud.

Judge Barnes then called Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Kennedy to the bar.

"I want you to begin a grand jury investigation of this case as speedily as possible and with due diligence," said the judge. He added that he wanted the prosecutor to go to the bottom of the matter to determine if a conspiracy to defraud the government existed.

Judge Barnes' action brought to a close a trial that had started on Jan. 3. In it, Birdwell through several witnesses and Dr. Scott asserted that he had developed tuberculosis while in military service at St. Nazaire, France. He also said that since 1919 he had been unable to work because of this disability.

Dr. Scott Gives Testimony.

Dr. Scott, who has appeared as an expert witness in many other cases—including ten or twelve war risk cases—gave medical testimony that Birdwell was suffering from tuberculosis. He arrived at this opinion, he said, by means of stethoscope and lung tapping tests and by an X-ray photograph.

Government witnesses attacked this X-ray test, and asserted it was "absolutely worthless as a diagnosis for a lung condition." These witnesses included Dr. Nathaniel Adams, 105 North State street, an expert on tuberculosis, and five physicians from the Hines memorial hospital. They testified that Birdwell was not suffering from tuberculosis but from a chronic bronchitis. Other government witnesses also testified that the Negro had actually worked one year on a job in West Virginia and six months elsewhere.

The plaintiff's witnesses were offered by Attorney Martin and the government's witnesses by Assistant District Attorney Kennedy. At no time did Senator Barbour appear actively in the case. At the conclusion of the testimony, Judge Barnes ordered the directed verdict and the grand jury investigation.

Law Allows 10 Per Cent Fee.

Had Birdwell won his suit, he would have received $5,000 back insurance, dating from 1919, and $57.50 a month as long as he lives. Under the law his counsel would be entitled to a fee as high as 10 per cent of the lump sum received and of all future monthly payments.

This would be true, in varying degrees as to back sums, in any of the pending 50 cases which might be won. There would be a total minimum settlement of about $10,000 in each case, it was pointed out, but an indeterminate maximum, depending on the length of a claimant's life. On the basis of a $10,000 minimum to each of the 500 pending cases, $5,000,000 in claims would be involved.

"Perhaps $6,000,000 would be involved in all these cases," said District Attorney Green last night. "I have be . watching this situation as closely as possible for some time. I consider these cases important, involving the sum of money they do. My office is constantly watching for fraud."

Many False Claims, He Says.

Assistant District Attorney Thomas Dodd Healy, who represented the government in war risk claims cases for two years, estimated that perhaps 30 per cent of them were fraudulent. He pointed out, however, that there were many meritorious claims. The bogus cases, it was explained, are those in which veterans suffered disabilities after being mustered out of service and now try to lay those injuries to war services.

During the war every service man was entitled to $10,000 insurance on the payment of a small monthly premium. This insurance was made available to veterans on their return to civilian life. Many veterans allowed their policies to lapse, however, and virtually all of the 500 pending claims are based on lapsed policies. The insurance is separate from veterans' compensation.

Comparatively few claims were filed during the boom years, but with the depression the ex-service men instituted action. The statute of limitations on these claims, originally closed in 1922, was extended several times until last summer. The government with difficulty fought the assertions of veterans claiming war disabilities, juries being sympathetic to the veterans.

One case tried in federal court here was that of a veteran who asserted he had fallen on a bayonet while training at Camp Meade. This man is still a government hospital patient. He appeared at the trial, and exhibited a scar to the jury. The government produced witnesses to show that when this veteran was mustered out he did not have the scar, but that the scar resulted from an operation in Philadelphia. He lost the case.

In another case a veteran said his spine was injured in the cave in of a trench. The military records showed that the worst disability he had suffered was influenza. He also lost.

According to one federal prosecutor, the insurance claims are now growing into a racket, sponsored by people who hope to profit.

Lawyer and Doctor Comment.

Dr. Scott and Senator Barbour commented on the Birdwell case last night. Dr. Scott, in St. Louis, said that he examined Birdwell, gave him approved tests and reached his opinion as to tuberculosis.

"I did not base my opinion alone on the X-ray plate," he asserted. "I refused to diagnose on that alone."

The X-ray picture was significant only in connection with lung and stethoscope tests, Dr. Scott asserted. Furthermore, he said that Birdwell's discharge papers showed he was suffering from arrested tuberculosis. The main symptom in determining the disease, he said, was Birdwell's high daily temperatures.

Senator Barbour, reached at his Evanston home, indicated he was indifferent to the results of the Birdwell case. He said that Attorney Martin had offices with him but that they were not associated. He declared he had never appeared or been interested in a compensation case. When told that his name appeared as of record in a number of war risk claims, Senator Barbour replied that "if Martin put my name on record, that's all right. He's a reputable man."

Assistant District Attorney Healy asserted last night that Attorneys Martin and Barbour appeared as counsel of record in perhaps 70 per cent of the war risk cases in this federal district.

HIS FAKE PLEA COSTS 60 DAYS MORE IN JAIL

Robert Seiders, 22 years old, a confessed bootlegger, of North Riverside, who pleaded that his wife was an expectant mother, in an effort to win probation was sentenced yesterday to sixty days in the county jail for contempt of court by Federal Judge George E. Q. Johnson. Assistant United States District Attorney Eugene A. Tappy presented evidence to show Seiders hired a woman to pose as his wife in an effort to win leniency. In addition to the contempt sentence Seiders must serve sixty days for the prohibition violation.

CERMAK CLOSES CITY DUMPS IN GARBAGE STRIKE

Declares for Showdown with Carrozzo Union.

Garbage and ash collection by the city came to a virtual standstill yesterday when Mayor Cermak ordered all city dumps closed except those at which the city does not pay for dumping privileges. He took the action, he said, as a reply to the action of Michael Carrozzo, head of several unions of city laborers, in calling strikes of his men at a number of dumps. This action, the mayor charged, was an effort to force the city to use higher priced dumping spots.

City officials ordered 38 laborers, members of unions which Carrozzo called on strike, back to work yesterday. The men, who are civil service workers, compiled, but the situation was complicated by city truck drivers, said to be members of one of the "outlaw" unions controlled by "Three Fingered Jack" White, the gangster. The truck drivers refused to haul refuse to the dumps where Carrozzo called out his men, and as a result were themselves laid off.

Strikes at Two More Dumps.

Carrozzo called his strike on the assertion that owners of the dumps had been paid by the city for the privilege of dumping there, while city employés who handle the garbage and refuse remained unpaid. He called strikes at two more dumps yesterday.

Carrozzo's action in one of these cases, Mayor Cermak pointed out, hardly bore out his previous assertions of the reason for the strike, since the dump has been in use only ten days and the owner has received no payments from the city.

When Carrozzo called out his men city officials remarked that it was "peculiar" that his action did not affect the dumps controlled by the Industrial Refuse Disposal company in which Sanitary Trustee Paul V. Colliani is interested. This company, with one exception, charges the city higher rates per cubic yard for dumping privileges than any of the dumps on which Carrozzo called strikes.

Cermak Takes Action.

"Garbage and ash employés are on strike on the pretense that the city has paid dump owners ahead of employés," said Mayor Cermak in announcing his action. "The truth of the matter is that the strike has been called to compel the city to dump its refuse at dumps which charge the most and which still remain open.

"I will not permit the city to be coerced into spending the taxpayers' money in this manner, nor will I tolerate this interference with one of the city's most important functions. If Chicago is to permit one or two representatives of labor to call a strike whenever they feel like it and thus close down the city's activities we're in mighty bad shape. Now is the time for a showdown. We refuse to be bluffed.

"I am closing all of the city dumps today, and I ask that citizens bear with us for a short time if their garbage and refuse is not properly removed."

Mayor Cermak said that the Dickinson Seed company has been permitting the city to dump refuse with out charge on some land near 104th street and Lake Calumet. He will ask the company to permit more extensive dumping on this land, which now receives garbage and refuse from a part of the 9th ward. He will also ask Gov. Horner, he said, to authorize dumping by the city in the old Illinois and Michigan canal, to which the sanitary district trustees have already assented on condition that the city assume responsibility for any damages which might be demanded by the state.

Mayor Cermak said that the only payments to refuse disposal companies which the city has made past the dates for which its employés have been paid have been made to those companies which haul the refuse away in railroad cars.

WEALTHY BROKER AND HIS AUNT, 84, SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Miss Ettie L. Alford, 84, and her nephew, R. H. Chapman, 67, wealthy retired real estate broker, were wounded seriously tonight in a mysterious attack by gunmen hidden in shrubbery bordering the driveway into Chapman's Altadena home.

Chapman, who also was attacked last September, and his aunt were mowed down by a hail of lead from sawed-off shotguns and possibly revolvers.

Miss Alford was struck in the body and face. Because of her advanced age physicians said she may die. Chapman, a former Pasadena councilman, was grazed by ten pellets which furrowed the left side of his head.

A small roadster in which Chapman and his aunt were riding was perforated by more than 30 lead pellets.

Chapman said he knew of no reason why assassins should persistently seek his death. Miss Alford said she had no enemies.

PLANES DRIVEN BY WEST GALE MAKE RECORDS

A strong westerly wind yesterday helped pilots on air lines operating out of Chicago to establish new speed records. A transcontinental plane of United Air Lines, carrying six passengers, mail, and express from San Francisco to New York, via Chicago completed the journey in 16 hours and 16 minutes, an average speed of 175 miles an hour across the continent. The wind averaged 86 miles an hour from the west at 5,000 feet altitude, according to Pilot H. C. Munson, who brought the plane from Omaha to Chicago.

A. F. Kalberer, flying a United plane from Kansas City, flew 152 miles from Moline to Chicago in 40 minutes, or at an average speed of 228 miles an hour.

Pilot W. A. Brooks flew a trimotored plane of Transamerican Air Lines from Chicago to Detroit in 88 minutes at an average speed of 175 miles and hour, breaking the record set on Sunday by Dan Lindsay of the same line of 90 minutes for the trip.

2,500 PROTEST OUSTING HEAD OF CICERO SCHOOL

Demand Open Hearing by Board of Morton High.

About 2,500 persons at a meeting in Cicero last night of the J. Sterling Morton High School Parent-Teachers' association voted to demand that the school's board of education hold a public hearing of the charges on which Harry V. Church was dismissed Monday from his post of school superintendent.

Earlier in the day the board had appointed P. R. Shelly, a science instructor, as temporary superintendent.

The demand for a public hearing on Mr. Church's fitness for his place was first formulated by the Berwyn Ministers' association, of which the Rev. Henry C. Hoover is chairman. The resolution was read at last night's meeting by Jerome J. Cerny, president of the parent-teacher association. It was said less than fifty votes were cast against the resolution.

School Board Under Fire.

Preceding the call for a vote, George A. Works, secretary of secondary schools of the North Central association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, spoke in favor of Mr. Church and against the conduct of affairs by the school board. He declared that the board had not made a budget, that it was spending beyond its means and that it kept on the pay roll more guards than were needed to control the pupils.

Another charge of Mr. Works was that politics had entered into the operation of the school cafeteria. Because of these conditions, the North Central association fears that the accredited standing of the high schools will have to be lowered, Mr. Works said.

Practically the entire membership of the Parent-Teacher association, it was said, was at last night's meeting. Their numbers were augmented by several hundred pupils who have been stout defenders of Supt. Church.

Church Backs Up Pupils.

Trouble between the superintendent and board has been in existence for months. After the pupils complained of the guards and the cafeteria service and prices Mr. Church declared that they were in the right. A counter movement was a petition signed by 4,000 members of the United Taxpayers' association asking the superintendent's release. It charged that under his régime school property was being destroyed and discipline was lacking.

Mr. Church, who was not present at last night's meeting, went to his office in the morning and cleaned out his desk to make way for Supt. Shelly.

"I've been here 34 years," Mr Church said. "The board and I disagreed. Somebody had to go. It couldn't be the board because the members are elected by the people—so I was it."

He wrote a letter in which he thanked pupils and staff members for their aid and encouragement during his régime and asked them to support his successor.

NORMAN KERRY AND WIFE, WED ONLY 3 MONTHS, SEPARATE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The separation of Norman Kerry, film actor, and his wife, the former Helen Mary Wells of New York, who were married less than three months ago, was confirmed tonight by Mrs. Kerry.

She has moved from their Beverly Hills home to a hotel.

"I expect to continue to live here at this hotel," Mrs. Kerry said. "I do not know whether Mr. Kerry will continue to live in the house we occupied in Beverly Hills."

Unwilling to discuss the reasons for the abrupt ending of their romance, Mrs. Kerry would only confirm that the separation had occurred last night. Kerry could not be reached for a statement.

BAIN'S ATTORNEY OPENS FIGHT TO PREVENT TRIAL

An effort will be made by Attorney Harry Olson, former chief justice of the Municipal court, to prevent a second trial for John Bain, head of the defunct string of twelve Bain banks, John H. Bain, his son, and W. Merle Fisher, his son-in-law. The charge is receiving deposits in an insolvent bank. The attorney yesterday filed a plea in bar, contending that the prosecution at the first trial before Judge John M. O'Connor had tried to show knowledge of insolvency, but that the judge ruled the evidence did not support the charge. John Bain was convicted of conspiracy at that trial and sentenced to prison.

Attorney Olson said that a second trial would be, in effect, placing his clients in jeopardy twice. He said that if he loses his fight on this plea in the Criminal court that he would carry the case to the Supreme court.

Judge Thomas J. Lynch, who was to preside at the second trial, sent the case back to Chief Justice Prystalski for reassignment. It was assigned to Judge James J. Fardy, who said he would hear the plea in bar on Jan. 27. Assistant State's Attorney Edwin J. Barry asked for a continuance until he is able to get an assistant to help in the prosecution. A fourth defendant in the case is Edward C. Barry, vice president of one of the Bain banks who was not a defendant at the first trial and is not affected by Olson's plea.

$600,000 More than Any Possible Resources.

Department heads of the public school system hammered away at the 1933 budget yesterday, and at the conclusion of the conference Howard P. Savage, business manager, announced that the proposed appropriations still totaled $74,551,825. This is about $600,000 more than any possible resources available during the year.

Supt. William J. Bogan agreed to furnish at the resumption of the conference this morning, a program to effect a saving of $446,000 in the educational fund. This amount represents the excess in the educational appropriations over the possible resources.

Auditor Lists Resources.

According to School Auditor Harry Brackett, the resources total $73,971,485, including surplus, $11,347,938; miscellaneous revenue, $5,233,472, and 1933 tax levies, $57,300,075.

The surplus, it is said, exists only on paper, because it consists of the excess of taxes over the expenditures for previous years. It is a question whether the board should appropriate against this "paper" surplus, which consists largely of uncollected taxes.

Await Word from Sargent.

Several of the school trustees say they are waiting for a recommendation from the Sargent committee on public expenditures before making a decision on the surplus.

With the surplus included in the resources there are deficits of $87,864 in the free text book fund and $69,191 in the playground fund as well as the deficit in the educational fund.

The regular meeting of the school board is scheduled for this afternoon. The public hearing on the budget will be at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

POLICE SLAYER WINS CLEMENCY FROM EMMERSON

The life sentence of Paul A. Porter sent to Joliet penitentiary in May, 1918, for the murder of Detective Michael Shea of Evanston, was commuted by Gov. Emmerson during his last day in office, it was learned yesterday. The outgoing governor followed a recommendation of the state pardon board that Porter's sentence should expire on May 16, 1933. Another killer, James Davis of Franklin county, who was sentenced to life in prison, also received a commutation from Gov. Emmerson. He went to Joliet in June, 1926, and is to be released Feb. 25, 1937.

serted she never met Mrs. Schildhauer. This time she admitted that she had been untruthful and confirmed the widow's statements that they had been together several times. She added that she knew of the trip taken by her brother and Frances to Memphis in October.

The investigators were satisfied Mrs. Showalter had no valuable clews to the murder and that, as she claimed, she had lied at first in the hope of keeping Bradberry's immoral excursion out of public notice.

Another questioned was Mrs. Louise Birkinshaw, mother of Frances Schildhauer. Her most important statement was a disclosure that the Schildhauers quarreled about Nov. 1 and that Frances had gone away from home and remained ten days. Schildhauer, according to Mrs. Birkinshaw, objected because his wife was to become a mother.

To add to the perplexities of the case, it was made known yesterday that Mrs. Schildhauer has engaged a firm of detectives to make a private investigation of the murder.

BRUNKER PUTS HIMSELF IN A STATE OF SIEGE

Albert Brunker, wealthy reformer, was reported to have placed himself and his home at 190 North Ahwahnee road, Lake Forest, in a state of defense last night after a day in which his strife with his divorced wife over the custody of their two children flared up anew. Both the reformer and his former wife, who is now Mrs. Frederick Ruppel of Pasadena, Cal., went to court in their fight, he at Waukegan and she in Chicago.

As evening fell Brunker appealed to Police Chief Frank Tiffany of Lake Forest to place a guard at his home, saying he feared that Mrs. Ruppel, or somebody in her employ, would try to enter and take the children, Barbara, 5 years old, and Robert, 2. The request was granted and a policeman was assigned to stand watch.

Meanwhile Brunker, it was reported, had enlisted a gardener as another guard and he himself announced, according to the police, that he was carrying a gun and that it would be "too bad" for unwelcome visitors.

Brunker Gets Injunction.

The day's controversy began in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan where Brunker made charges against his former wife in an action which took an unusual course from the viewpoint of legal procedure.

Almost an hour before the opening of court in the morning Brunker's attorney, former Circuit Judge Claire C Edwards, appeared before Judge Ralph J. Dady in chambers and presented a petition for a temporary injunction restraining Mrs. Ruppel and other persons from interference with the children. The injunction was granted on the strength of the allegations made in the petition, and the petition was immediately withdrawn from the court clerk's office, it was learned.

Later Judge Dady said he did not learn of the petition's withdrawal until several hours afterward and that this was a matter concerning only the clerk's office. He said he would not order the petition returned unless Mrs. Ruppel or her attorneys sought a copy.

Ex-Wife Also Wins Writ.

Meanwhile in Chicago Mrs. Ruppel won a writ of habeas corpus to compel Brunker to take the two children into the court of Superior Judge Charles A. Williams tomorrow. She alleged that he refused to turn over the children on Jan. 1 in violation of the terms of their Reno divorce whereby, she said, each was to have custody of the children during six months of the year.

After it became known that Judge Dady had granted the injunction in Waukegan, Attorney Edwards explained that Brunker's petition had been withdrawn from the clerk's office because it was "of a sensational nature that would besmirch the character of the former Mrs. Brunker."

"Mr. Brunker," said Edwards, "now as always wants to protect the character and reputation of his former wife because she is the mother of his children."

Other Defendants Named.

Judge Dady said he could not recall the contents of the petition except that Brunker asked for permanent custody of the children "for their best interests."

Besides Mrs. Ruppel the petition named her present husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gaylord, as defendants.

The injunction restrains all or any of them, or any of their attorneys, agents or representatives, from removing the Brunker children from the jurisdiction of the court or taking any action seeking to gain possession of them or to interfere with their custody until further order of the court. The defendants are required to appear at the next term of court, beginning on the first Monday in March, and present their answers.

Mrs. Ruppel in Lake Forest.

Mrs. Ruppel, it was learned, arrived on Monday from California and spent the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strotz in Lake Forest. Attorney Edwards said he was informed by Brunker that Mrs. Ruppel slipped into Brunker's home and spent fifteen minutes with the children Monday night while Brunker was away.

Edwards also explained that Brunker refused to give up the children on Jan. 1, in keeping with his agreement, because they were suffering from influenza.

The Reno divorce decree was granted in May, 1931.

Brunker has a suit pending in Oshkosh, Wis., charging Ruppel and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord with alienation of affections. He alleges that Mrs. Ruppel's parents conspired to persuade her to leave him.

Brunker has long figured in reform activities. As chairman of the civic safety commission in February, 1931, he made a speech in Boston charging that "80 per cent of Chicago's judges are criminals and 6,000 to 8,000 public officials are on Capone's pay rolls." He was summoned before the Cook county grand jury to substantiate these charges and the jury termed them hearsay.

WARREN WRIGHT RESIGNS AS HEAD OF LINCOLN PARK

WARREN WRIGHT.

Warren Wright, president of the Lincoln park board, last night sent a letter of resignation to Gov. Horner. He explained that business interests would demand much of his time in the near future and that he was planning a trip. Mr. Wright is president of the Calumet Baking Powder company and has many other interests.

He was appointed president of the park board three years ago by Gov. Emmerson. His record as head of the system has been considered excellent. Last year he caused a reduction of 17 per cent in the park tax levy and at the same time slashed operating and maintenance costs by nearly $1,000,000 a month.

During his incumbency the park board has completed many improvement projects and has remained in excellent financial condition. A few months ago a bond issue was retired. Interest payments on other issues have been met promptly.

Mr. Wright's letter of resignation to the governor said:

"I hereby tender my resignation as president of the Lincoln park board, to take effect as early as it is convenient to your plans. I will, however, appreciate your relieving me as early as possible, as I am arranging to go south. I also have some business matters which are going to take a great deal of my time. If at any time I can be of assistance in the Lincoln park affairs, please don't hesitate to call on me. I will always have a great interest in the welfare of Lincoln park."

MERCURY AT 52 SETS A RECORD; COLDER TODAY

With the mercury standing at 52 degrees at 2 and 3 p. m., yesterday was the warmest Jan. 10 in Chicago since the weather bureau office was established in 1871. The previous record for the date was 49 in 1928.

A sharp reaction to colder was indicated by the official forecast for today. Clouded skies and possible snow flurries are expected, while tomorrow is scheduled to be fair and continued cold. Yesterday's warmth was attributed to southwest winds. So far this month there has been an excess of 114 degrees in temperature, the daily mean averaging more than 11 degrees above normal.

Temperatures over most of the country, except the Pacific coast, were abnormally high yesterday. In San Francisco the low temperature was 38.

A "sign of spring" was reported yesterday by Prof. Carl J. Stuebel of the Y. M. C. A. College of Arts and Sciences, 19 South La Salle street, who said he saw an 18 inch snake sunning itself on the shore of Lake Michigan. Prof. Stuebel was taking a swim in the lake at the 57th street beach last Sunday when he observed the snake.

Suspect in Jail Delivery Is Seized when He Speeds

Morris Brown, alias Friedman, 27 years old, of 637 Cornelia street, sought as one of five men who freed three bank robber friends from the La Salle county jail at Ottawa, was arrested last night by Detectives Richard Kelly and William McCarthy. He was later turned over to Sheriff E. J. Welter of Ottawa. Brown was seized for speeding over the new Ogden avenue viaduct. When his car showed Minnesota instead of Illinois license plates the policemen sent him to the detective bureau for examination. His identity was thus learned.

HORNER TAKING HAND IN STATE MINE STRUGGLE

Gets the Strikers' Plea; Meets Col. Davis.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Telling about fifty persons, calling on other business, to return tomorrow, Gov. Henry Horner gave most of his first full day in office to the mine strike crisis, following a telegram received from the executive board of the Progressive Mine Workers of America.

Gov. Horner dismissed other callers shortly before Lieut. Col. Davis, commanding the companies of the 130th infantry in the mine strike zone, appeared for conference. That National Guard officer was sent at once to the governor's private office. The governor announced that he had nothing to say now, but he later would prepare a statement on the mine situation in Christian county.

Strike Leader's Message.

The message to the governor from President Claude Pearcy of the Progressive Mine Workers was sent from Gillespie, Ill. There the board met and declared that unless something were done "to restore the constitutional rights of our people," a call would be issued for a nationwide strike of miners.

"Whenever the law enforcement breaks down in any community," the message from Pearcy added, "the people are justified in taking what means are necessary to protect their homes and lives."

The faction represented by Pearcy split from the United Mine Workers after declining to accept a wage scale based on $5 a day. Pearcy said late today he had talked with Gov. Horner by phone.

Orders Grand Jury Quiz.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Christian county grand jury was recalled today by Judge William B. Wright for Thursday morning. He wants it to investigate the shootings at Kincaid during last week. Two men and a woman were killed.

Today passed quietly. The striking Progressive mine workers made no attempt to vote for officers.

At 1:30 this afternoon the Pana chief of police found a case of blasting powder near a B. & O. railroad bridge a mile west of Pana. He confiscated it and placed it in a vault in the Pana police station.

It was said this morning that the sheriff had ordered troops and deputies to Pana to prevent a meeting of insurgent miners there. That aroused protest there.

Protest to Gov. Horner.

Pana city officials sent this telegram to Gov. Horner:

"There has never been any disturbance in Pana and we protest the sending of troops to this city. We have ample police protection to cope with any situation and have never experienced any trouble. See telegram to Gov. Emmerson about ninety days ago signed by one hundred-one business men at that time protesting against like movement and troops did not come in. This is a peaceful city and we strongly protest any movement of this character."

Complain to Court.

Attorneys for the Progessives today filed a supplemental petition to their bill of injunction against Sheriff Weineke. They charged unarmed pickets have been beaten, resulting in the death of three persons; that the Progressive mine unions' places of meeting have been closed, and that an election scheduled for today was prevented; milk stations in Jerseyville and Stonington closed, all the dishes and utensils having been destroyed.

COP GETS BACK STOLEN CAR AND 5 GALLONS OF GAS

The automobile of Policeman Edward Palczynski, who is assigned to the stolen automobile detail at the Racine avenue police station, was stolen Monday night from the street in front of his home at 2239 Cortez street. The car was recovered yesterday at Damen avenue and Augusta boulevard after the thief abandoned the car and ran under police fire. Policeman Palczynski found that his car contained five gallons of gasoline more than it had when it was stolen.

FLAMES DESTROY C. W. FOLDS HOME IN LAKE FOREST

Fire originating from unknown causes virtually destroyed the Lake Forest home of Mrs. Charles W. Folds at 590 East Crabtree lane last night. The loss was estimated at $75,000 by Mrs. Folds' daughter, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell, of 410 North Washington road, Lake Forest. Several valuable paintings were lost.

The house has been unoccupied since Dec. 30. Mrs. Folds, widow of the investment banker, is living in Chicago at the Whitehall apartments.

The fire started shortly after 7 o'clock, and was discovered by Mrs. George Malcolm of Elm Tree road. The Lake Forest fire department, commanded by Chief Edward Larson, arrived within a few minutes, but it was too late to save the home. Chief Larson was slightly injured battling the fire.

The loss shattered a unique record established by the Lake Forest fire department which kept the total fire loss of the suburb under $1,000 in 1932.

SAVES A WOMAN EXPECTING BABY FROM EXECUTION

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Gov. Ibra C. Blackwood today changed the death sentence of Mrs. Beatrice Ferguson Snipes, 29 year old expectant mother, to a sentence of life imprisonment, saying his action of clemency was "in accord with the general sentiment of the country." She was the first woman ever to face electrocution in South Carolina.

The former textile worker, who admitted shooting a rural policeman, Elliott Harris, to death with his own pistol, but who claimed self-defense, was notified of the executive's decision as she sat in the sunshine at the state penitentiary.

"I wish you'd tell the governor that I sure appreciate this," she told Capt. H. H. Kester of the prison guard, who read the commutation to her.

"Yes, and tell everybody who had anything to do with it how much I appreciate it. Tell the governor I'll do anything in the world he wants me to, if he will just let me know."

Gov. Blackwood's announcement of clemency came within a few hours of a statement that he did not expect to take any action as long as the case was on appeal. He said he reached his decision after attorneys for the woman told him she was willing to abandon her appeal to the Supreme court.

"This course," he said, "was recommended by the Circuit judge, is acceptable to the attorneys for the defendant, and is in accordance with the general sentiment of the country."

Any hopes Mrs. Snipes may have of eventually regaining her freedom will be based upon the possibility of a pardon.

CALLS FOR NEW "I WILL" TO CUT CHICAGO COSTS

Consolidation Will Do It, Merriam Book Says.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Chicago prsents a ghastly picture of governmental confusion and financial chaos in an analysis of the 1,642 independent taxing and borrowing bodies of the metropolitan region made by Prof. Charles E. Merriam and associates in a book just published by the University of Chicago.

Several ways out of this morass are suggested, both in the form of an immediate program, which is offered to the approaching session of the general assembly at the request of Gov. Horner, and a longer time program which would require constitutional amendments.

A Challenge to Citizens.

The whole subject presents a challenge to the citizens of Chicago which Prof. Merriam, formerly an alderman and now professor of political science, is not any too hopeful of their accepting, for he dedicates his book to "The Young Men and Women of the Greater Chicago" and says in the course of the discussion of remedies

"If the people of Chicago and vicinity admire, enjoy, and are willing to pay the cost of this proliferation of governments, that is their high prerogative."

He has been preaching reorganization, more economy in government, for a quarter of a century, without observing much progress, but now he writes:

"The strength of Chicago lies in its broad economic basis and position as capital of the Middle Empire, in its new blend of racial types, in its dynamic energy and drive.

What the City Needs.

"Its free spirit opens the way to leadership in urban progress, if and when the city can find the political courage and competence to shape a government as broad and noble as the sweep of our urban possibilities. It is not the law that binds us now as much as our lack of a vivid sense of common interest, the failure in our civic imagination, the lack of steel in the symbolic 'I will' of Chicago."

Further drift may be stopped, in his estimation, by the pressure of taxation and financial distress, for there is little hope of financial improvement and the prudent management of public finances in a region which has "no central reporting system, no accounting system, no budget or budgetary control, no coördinated financial plan looking either to the present or to the future, no unification of personnel, no advantage taken of the opportunities for central purchasing or pooling of credits or handling of deposits or dealing with debts, long or short time.

"Financial Canons Violated."

"Nearly all the simplest canons of sound financial administration are violated so freely and generally that enumeration of further particulars becomes tedious."

Prof. Merriam is co-author of the book with Spencer D. Parratt, assistant professor of political science at Syracuse university, and Albert Lepawsky, research associate. It is the result of a study begun several years ago in which several investigators of the social science department at the University of Chicago coöperated.

Chicago does not stand alone in such a problem, but is one of 96 metropolitan regions where live 45 per cent of the population of the country, their evolution constituting one of the major problems of American government. A wise reorganization of the whole framework, rather than patchwork, is needed, in the opinion of these experts.

For Immediate Action.

1. Consolidation of park boards within Chicago with the government of the city.
2. Consolidation of the school system with the city of Chicago.
3. Consolidation of the sanitary district with the city of Chicago through interlocking directorates.
4. Establishment of a board of budgetary control with power to fix maximum budgets for Chicago governing bodies and other governing bodies of Cook county (if desired), and to examine and report upon all budgets, bond issues, and legislative proposals for financial relief, and further to use its good offices in the improvement of financial methods and results.

Home Rule for Chicago.

5. Grant of home rule to Chicago and other municipalities.
6. Restoration of constitutional representation for Chicago and Cook county in the general assembly.
7. Passage of a bill providing for the establishment of an interstate port authority of Illinois and Indiana, and further exploration of the possibilities of interstate agreement on health, police, and other common functions.
8. Conferences and consultation among suburban towns, particularly in the case of contiguous communities, for the purpose of fostering cooperation among themselves, and development of friendly governmental relations with the city of Chicago and the county of Cook.

These are the suggestions in the way of a longer time program:

1. Complete consolidation of the government of Chicago, Cook county, and the sanitary district (requiring constitutional amendment.)
2. Organization of metropolitan services through the agency of a joint city-county authority, as represented by the mayor of Chicago, the president of the county board, and a third chosen by these two, or through some other agency with comparable representation—all this directed toward the unified organization of the Greater City.
3. Establishment of a broad optional plan for the transfer of local functions to a central common agency, if and when desired.

A Unified Judicial System.

4. Organization of a unified judicial system in the Chicago region.
5. Development of a series of interstate compacts respecting the administration of common affairs of the regional sections of Illinois and Indiana, such as health, police, and parks.
6. Serious and responsible consideration of the whole problem of regional organization under various alternative forms, looking toward some type of closer coöperation between the 1,642 governments of the region or the 419 of Cook county.
7. Serious consideration of independent statehood for Chicago and for the Chicago region, and the development of more detailed plans for such a system.

Warns Against Narrow View.

If the builders of Chicago allow a local attitude to color their view of the greater city, they may find that Chicago has crumbled into a pile of petty municipalities ringed around a central area of waning numbers and power, it is stated in the findings of this book.

No such view hampers the activities of what are described as "informal governments pulling the strings of power" within this region.

"These are the two great parties and these in turn are split into factions which often fight each other more cheerfully than they fight the other party," the book says. "In the Republican party there have been for a generation three or more well organized factions, and in the Democratic party usually at least two. No one party has control of the local governments; and, if it did, no one faction would ordinarily be in command of the whole situation." [This was written evidently before the last election.]

Where Economy Is Possible.

"If some one party or faction should control all the agencies of local government, it is true that progress might be made very rapidly," it is stated in another part of the book dealing with unification of service and the cutting of costs. "It is not easy to set up a reliable estimate of the possible savings under unified and competent government, but it is clear that there are large possibilities in the direction of both cost reduction and service improvements.

"Some of these advantages would be gained by consolidation as such, and others from the fact that government might be viewed more closely by the general public than is the case with the present many ringed affair, and hence a higher level of integrity and competence might be reached. If Jacobs' [Cook county assessor] estimate of a possible saving of 40 cents on each dollar of public expenditure is attainable with efficient management, the gain on the basis of an annual expenditure of $350,000,000 would be enormous.

"If a more conservative figure of 10 to 20 cents is taken, or if consolidation should as a first step be restricted to Cook county, the saving is still very large and important."

Asks Help for Needy

Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., national head of the Knights of Columbus, last night urged 2,000 officers of the 65 Chicago councils of the order to mobilize their forces for a fight against the depression and to help the idle in the same way that the Knights of Columbus helped the soldiers in the war. The meeting was held in the ballroom of the Palmer house.

"During these trying days," said Supreme Knight Carmody, "let there be such affectionate and meritorious service on behalf of our neighbor, our fellow member in the great common fraternity of mankind, who is out of employment, out of money and out of touch with his fellow man, that he, like the doughboy in the trench, may know that he is not forgotten and that fraternity still lives."

Mr. Carmody related in detail the work being accomplished by the Knights of Columbus, stressing the aid being given disabled ex-service men and their families. He said the order has expended more than $43,000,000 for this work in the United States.

Brief addresses were also made by Bishop B. J. Shell and former Judge James Donohoe, supreme director and state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, who presided.

'TECHNOCRATIC PARTY' NESTS IN LOOP OFFICE

Incorporation papers for the Technocratic party of the United States were filed yesterday with Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes at Springfield. Headquarters of the party will be at 32 North State street. Dr. Perry Lemon Clark, proprietor of a school of "sanatology" at 2637 Prairie avenue, is one of the incorporators. Others are H. R. Joseph and David H. Pontius.

All three are said to be connected with the International Humane league, Taxpayers' and Voters' league, Illinois Dog Defense league, Anti-Rodeo league, Mental Patients Defenders' association, and Chicago Humane Education society, which also have headquarters at 32 North State street.

In 1929 the American Medical association tried to have Clark barred from practice as a quack as a result of his "sanatology" broadcasts. His $100,000 damage suit against the association is still pending.

HELD FOR ATTACK ON GIRL OF 7; HE CONFESSES

Peter Kaiser, 52 years old, 1749 Cleveland avenue, a laborer, was held last night by the Hudson avenue police on a charge of attacking a 7 year old girl in the basement of his home. He was taken to the showup at the detective bureau, but was not identified in any other crimes. He was seized after an investigation of the story of the girl, who was taken ill recently, and under continued questioning told of being attacked by Kaiser last August. Kaiser confessed, police said.

COUNTY ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF SECRET SIX TRAP

Commissioners Denounce Planting of Bomb.

Detectives of the Secret Six came in for criticism yesterday from members of the Cook county board, who are ex-officio heads of the forest preserve district. The commissioners denounced the actions of Secret Six agents in planting a bomb in the forest preserve near Riverside and ordered the public service committee of their board to conduct an investigation at its meeting tomorrow.

The Secret Six detectives planted a bomb on Dec. 30 in an effort to trap an extortionist who has been sending threatening letters to Solomon A. Smith, Chicago banker. Their quarry entered the trap and set off the bomb on New Year's eve, but made his escape before the detectives, who were concealed some distance away, arrived on the scene.

Set Bomb Near High School.

The ire of the commissioners was aroused by the fact that the bomb, which contained a large quantity of explosive flashlight powder and two sticks of dynamite, was placed only a few hundred yards from the Riverside-Brookfield High school, and that the guards watching it were too far away to warn any children who might have tampered with it out of curiosity during the thirty-six hours before the suspect arrived on the scene.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board by Commissioner Frank J. Kaspar, one of the five members who represent the country town districts. Commissioner Kaspar introduced a resolution instructing forest preserve executives to oversee any future bomb planting activities by the Secret Six, to see that the public is not endangered. It also calls upon State's Attorney Courtney to investigate the financial responsibility of the Secret Six, to determine whether it is capable of paying damages incurred through "the carelessness or foolhardiness of its agents."

Amendment Is Offered.

Commissioner George A. Miller, who also represents the country town area, which includes Riverside, immediately offered an amendment. He asked that the state's attorney also determine whether the agents of the Secret Six had committed any criminal act laying them open to prosecution.

The resolution, as originally introduced by Commissioner Kaspar, follows:

"Whereas, there is in the city of Chicago an organization styled the Secret Six, which is not responsible to or sanctioned by any duly constituted public authority, but which, on the contrary, is supported by private contributions.

"Whereas, in an effort to apprehend a suspected extortionist, detectives employed by the so-called Secret Six concealed in a hollow stump near Riverside, on the property of the forest preserve district of Cook county, an infernal machine, composed of a mousetrap, explosive cap, flashlight powder, dynamite, bits of string, fuse, etc., which infernal machine was left without any guard closer than several hundred feet for a period of more than 24 hours before it was exploded by the suspect, who then eluded the detectives of the so-called Secret Six, and Cites Danger of Fire.

"Whereas, this unguarded infernal machine, being placed within a few hundred yards of the Riverside-Brookfield High school, might easily have been the cause of death or serious injury to some innocent child or respectable citizen, or by reason of the large amount of flashlight powder which it contained, might well have been the cause of a forest fire which would have inflicted heavy financial and esthetic loss on the taxpayers of the forest preserve district of Cook county, therefore "Be it resolved by the board of commissioners of the forest preserve district of Cook county that the Hon. Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook county, be and he is hereby requested to investigate the financial condition of the so-called Secret Six, with a view to determining whether this unofficial body possesses sufficient funds to pay for any personal injuries or property damage which may be inflicted through the carelessness or foolhardiness of its agents, and be it further Demand a Permit.

"Resolved that the superintendent and chief of police of the forest preserve district are hereby instructed to prevent the so-called Secret Six, or any of its officers, employés, or agents, from again planting any bomb or infernal machine upon the property of the district until they shall have first obtained a permit such as issued for any display of bombs, fireworks, or pyrotechnics; and shall have posted a bond or surety of not less than $10,000; and shall have paid in advance the expense of posting in the neighborhood of the bomb or infernal machine members of the police force of the district, whose duty it shall be to warn innocent persons of its existence and to guard against any outbreak of fire which may result from its discharge."

"That bomb was a dastardly and dangerous thing," exclaimed Commissioner Miller when the resolution had been read.

"I feel that great danger attended all those who visited the Riverside forest preserve on the week-end, and I feel that State's Attorney Courtney should investigate the circumstances to determine whether criminal action shall be taken against the Secret Six for setting this trap."

Seconds Kaspar's Motion.

"There was a hideous thing hanging over the forest preserve when that trap was set," declared Commissioner Marie Plumb. "I think it wrong of us to sit idly by while such actions are carried out by such unauthorized individuals. By what right did they go into the forest preserve? I second Mr. Miller's amendment, and also Commissioner Kaspar's motion.

"This is just another example of the invisible government which carries on regardless of, and in many cases, in spite of the constituted authorities."

"There are circumstances here that ought to be looked into carefully," said Commissioner Peter M. Kelly. "It should be referred to a committee. I suggest that we call in representatives of the Secret Six for an explanation of the affair, and ask State's Attorney Courtney and Superintendent Sauers of the forest preserves to be present."

Refers Case to Committee.

The board accepted his suggestion, referring the matter to the committee on public service.

Later Commissioner Walter J. La Buy, a lawyer, in commenting on the liability of the Secret Six for damages done by its agent, pointed out that it is not a corporate body, and therefore cannot be sued. That, he said, was brought out in the case of William S. Kuhn Jr., who was arrested as an extortionist following an investigation by Jamie and other agents of the Secret Six. The charges were dismissed when the case was brought into court. Kuhn sued Jamie and several others involved in his arrest on charges of false arrest and malicious prosecution and won a $30,000 verdict, but the Secret Six, as an organization, was not a defendant.

HELD FOR ATTEMPTING TO BLACKMAIL RICH CAROLINA TEXTILE MAN

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 10.—(AP)—E. E. Conroy, of the United States bureau of investigation, tonight said he had in custody a man who admitted writing letters to Joe Cannon, wealthy textile manufacturer of Concord, N. C., threatening to "kidnap or kill" Cannon's infant granddaughter, a child of the late Smith Reynolds, or Joe Cannon Jr., a student in a Rome, Ga., school.

The investigator said the man gave the name of O'Dell C. Boyles, and that a woman taken into custody with him said she was Boyles' wife. The letters demanded ransom ranging from $10,000 to $20,000.

Officers said they caught the woman as she picked up a package planted in an unoccupied house in Hapeville, an Atlanta suburb. Conroy said the package had been wired so as to ring a bell when it was lifted, warning the waiting officers.

Boyles was arrested a short distance from the house and the two were taken to the office of Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, who worked with the federal officers for weeks.

Conroy said some of the letters to Cannon referred to the kidnaping and killing of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., the reference being "See what happened to the Lindbergh baby."

ARGENTINA 18TH NATION TO JOIN FAIR EXHIBITORS

World's Fair officials received word yesterday that Argentina has officially decided to participate in the exposition this summer. The announcement was made by General Manager Lenox R. Lohr after the state department at Washington was notified by the American embassy at Buenos Aires.

Argentina is the eighteenth foreign government to signify its intention of participating. The personnel of the Argentine government's exposition commission will include: Dr. Roberto M. Oritz, minister of public works under President Alvear; Dr. Arturo Goyeneche, Dr. Justan Acheval Rodriquez, and Señor Alberto Ibarra.

Plans to bring thousands of Knights of Columbus to Chicago for a supreme convention between Aug. 14 and 18 were announced by Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme grand knight, at a luncheon given for him at the exposition's administration building.

FIGURES STRESS NEED TO LIMIT TAX WARRANTS

Collections Show Steady Decline for 3 Years.

The citizens' committee on public expenditures has suggested to local tax appropriating and spending bodies that during the present year they confine their sales of tax anticipation warrants to 50 per cent of their levies.

The citizens' committee is regarded as a spokesman for the banks, which are the only large purchasers of tax warrants. Legally, taxing bodies may issue anticipation warrants up to 90 per cent of their levies. In recent years some have actually sold warrants up to 75 per cent of their levies.

Figures on tax collections prepared yesterday by George Hagenauer, auditor for County Treasurer McDonough are interesting to the public. The statistics are on the collection of the 1928, 1929, and 1930 tax levies. These are the levies which were placed in collection after the involuntary two year tax moratorium caused by the 1928 reassessment, and their record may be said to comprise the modern history of Cook county's tax muddle.

Steady Decline in Payments.

On July 1, 1930, the penalty date on the 1928 levy, 74.8 per cent of the total taxes extended had been paid. On May 15, 1931, the penalty date on the 1929 levy, only 65.4 per cent of that levy had been paid. The penalty date on the 1930 levy was June 1, 1932, and on that date only 45.3 per cent of the levy had been collected.

Thus, for the three years the average decline in percentage of tax payments before the penalty date was 14.7 per cent. If this curve of decreasing tax payments continues on its course and applies to the 1931 levy, to be placed in collection this year, only 30.6 per cent of that levy will have been collected when the penalty date arrives.

Payments Coming in Slowly.

Payments on the 1928, 1929, and 1930 levies have continued to come in, however, since the penalty dates. The 1928 levy is at present 84.7 per cent collected. Collections on the 1929 levy have risen to 72.5 per cent of the total levy, and those on the 1930 levy to 58.1 per cent of the extensions. Since the penalty date on the 1930 levy collections of delinquent taxes on that levy have been made at an average rate of 1.83 per cent of the total extensions each month.

Assuming that collections of 1931 taxes were to fall to the unprecedented low level of a 30.6 per cent payment at the penalty date, and that delinquent taxes for that year come in later at the same rate that they have come in on the 1930 levy, it would be about eleven months after the penalty date before collections on the 1931 levy reached 50 per cent of the total extensions.

Collection in Two Installments.

For the first time, the 1931 taxes will be collected in two installments. The penalty date on the first half of real estate taxes is March 1, that on the second installment Aug. 1, and that on personal property taxes May 1. The double payment plan, combined with lower assessments and lower budgets by tax spending bodies will stimulate tax payments, the officials hold.

There are other factors, however which will undoubtedly operate to make tax payments more difficult, it was said. The depression has been felt one year more than when the last tax bills went out, and owners of income producing real estate find their income lower than it was a year ago.

Furthermore, the burden of delinquent taxes on property has increased.

GRAVE TASKS CONFRONT U. S. AS 1933 OPENS

[Article 8 of a series presenting the country's cost and revenue.]

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
ARTICLE NO. 8.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—While counting upon a recovery from the depression to yield sufficient tax revenue to balance the budget the government is pursuing a course the effect of which is to discourage the revival of business.

The heavy investment by the banks in short term government obligations at only nominal rates of interest is an eloquent revelation of economic conditions. Industry and commerce are marking time, making no great demands upon the banks for financing. The banks are exhibiting fears of departing from a high state of liquidity of deposits and consequently are not in the market for loans to commerce and industry.

The failure of the government to balance its budget for the third successive year has aroused the apprehensions of business men generally. They are sitting tight, waiting to see what is going to happen. The doubling of income taxes in the 1932 tax bill is driving capital that might otherwise finance recovery into idle investment in tax exempt securities. The delay in repeal of national prohibition clouds in uncertainty the recovery of the source of liquor revenue which it is estimated would net the federal government a billion dollars a year, enough to balance the budget without recourse to other devices.

The failure of the administration and congress to take any substantial steps in the direction of that radical reduction of the cost of government which would be sufficient to balance the budget without boosting taxes is accounted another discouraging factor in the attitude of the business world. Many business leaders are declaring that there can be no substantial recovery so long as it is the disposition of congress to retain the present government plant and magnitude of expense and to meet the deficit partly by piling on more taxes and partly by continued borrowing which is steadily increasing the public debt.

For a decade and a half income tax revenue has been the government's golden egg, but the depression killed the goose that laid it. Time was when individual and corporation income taxes combined furnished three-fifths of the revenue of the central government. The peak was in the 1930 fiscal year, when income taxes totaled $2,410,259,230. In the 1932 fiscal year they fell to $1,056,756,697, and for 1933 Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills estimated them at 860 millions at the increased rates provided by the 1932 act.

Whether even that amount will be realized is problematical. This latest Mills estimate is 176 millions below the Mills estimate last spring. This 176 millions represents an expected yield from improved business activities in the last half of 1932 which failed to materialize. Mr. Mills now says that the increased rates will fail to produce the expected amount of revenue by 55 millions for corporations and 81 millions for individuals.

Receipts from individual income taxes dropped from $1,146,844,764 in 1930 to $427,190,582 in the fiscal year ending June 30 last. How much further we have sunk into the depths of the depression is revealed by Mr. Mills' comparison of the receipts by calendar years up to Dec. 31 last.

"During the calendar year 1929," says Mr. Mills, "current collections of individual income taxes were $1,163,000,000. During 1932 they will be only $250,000,000. We estimate that during 1933 they will be less than $150,000,000 computed on the basis of the 1928 law." How much additional, if any, the 1932 act will yield he considered guesswork.

Corporation income taxes dropped from $1,263,414,466 in 1930 to $629,566,115 in 1932, and now have fallen still farther. By the end of the 1934 fiscal year Mr. Mills guesses the boosted rates on individuals and corporations will produce altogether $1,010,000,000.

CONGRESS NEAR AN ALL TIME DO NOTHING RECORD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Indications today were that the "lame duck" session of the 72d congress is well on the way toward an all time "do nothing" record.

With a floundering and dying congress working at cross purposes with an expiring Hoover administration little in the way of major legislation seems likely to be enacted into law. Outside of the supply bills and possibly the beer bill virtually every measure which has been passed or which may receive congressional approval appears to be headed for a White House veto.

A charge by Representative Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.], minority leader of the house, that the Democrats have no intention of passing the budget today served to throw the spotlight on the legislative situation as it stands seven weeks short of adjournment.

It also directed attention to the confused situation in both major political parties in advance of the calling of a new congress, where new realignments of party leaders and party control will be forthcoming.

Here's Situation.

This is the way the situation stands: The house has passed a beer bill but it is held up in the senate. If finally approved it must hurdle a possible White House veto. President Hoover has given no definite indication of what he will do.

The senate and house are at odds over the type of 18th amendment repeal resolution to be approved. The chances today are against approval of a resolution of this character this session. Senate drys have forced the senate judiciary committee to report out a compromise repeal resolution which bans the saloon, retains certain federal control over prohibition and attempts to protect dry states.

The house leaders have announced they will not accept the resolution as now written and will allow it to die unless changed radically to provide for outright repeal. An attempt will be made by senate wets to amend the judiciary committee resolution to provide for outright repeal, but they have little hope of success.

Farm Bill Faces Veto.

Congress will probably pass a domestic allotment type of farm relief bill. Close friends of President Hoover say he will veto it within forty-eight hours after its arrival at the White House.

Congress passed the Philippine independence bill. Officials close to the White House say there is no doubt but that it will be vetoed.

All indications today are that nothing will be done by congress to balance the budget for the next fiscal year [1934]. As sent to congress the budget was out of balance by more than half a billion dollars.

"It is perfectly evident," Minority Leader Snell said today, "that the Democrats are not going to do anything about balancing the budget at this session. They have thrown it up in despair.

"The Democratic platform was just as emphatic on balancing the budget as it was on beer, and while they have spent more effort on beer than on balancing the budget, it is evident they will fall down on both."

TRIBUNE ARTICLES TO EXPLAIN NEW INCOME TAX LAW

The significance of the new income tax laws is now being brought home forcefully to the average citizen. Taxpayers are awakening with alarm to the meaning of the changes which were incorporated in the revenue act of 1932.

Taxpayers are now receiving the forms which are to be filled out and returned to the collector of internal revenue. Returns must be made by all taxpayers by March 15.

As yet, however, the United States treasury department has not issued its regulations interpreting the provisions in the new law. With many taxpayers in confusion because of important changes in the law, THE TRIBUNE tomorrow will begin the publication of a series of articles explaining the provisions of the revenue act. The articles have been written by Willis D. Nance, a member of the Chicago bar and an expert on income tax matters.

It is suggested that readers who have not yet familiarized themselves with the law clip each article to help them in filing their returns.

Each article is designed to set forth clearly some important provision of the law. In so doing THE TRIBUNE will give to its readers information which thus far has not been made available by the treasury department. The forms which are now being received by taxpayers give in skeleton form the regulations and requirements governing the filing of returns. Additional information not appearing on the forms is incorporated in THE TRIBUNE articles.

The first article, to appear tomorrow, will tell which persons are required to file returns. Later articles will deal with rates, personal exemptions, methods of filing returns, limitation on security losses, items exempt from tax, corporation tax, and other important phases of the law.

Important revisions have been made in exemptions, deductible items, and credits and rates. The lowering of exemptions means that thousands of citizens who have never before paid a federal income tax will be required to file returns. These articles are intended to aid that class as well as those who have heretofore filed returns.

"WOMAN-DEVIL" PLACED ON TRIAL AS A MURDERESS

(Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.)

BUDAPEST, Jan. 10.—The "man-woman devil of Pista" was placed on trial for murder at Szegedin this morning. The prisoner's real name is Victoria Rieger and she is suspected of having been hired to murder nine persons.

Twenty-five years ago this woman bandit was the wife of a wealthy farmer, who drove her from their home when she became a victim of drink. Since then she wandered the Hungarian plains in male attire, always smoking a pipe, known to all peasants as a person who for a package of tobacco, a bottle of wine, or a moderate sum of money could be hired to commit any crime.

Police said she confessed strangling Anton Dobak, a farmer, in 1922. She also admitted complicity in the murder of Stephen Boerchoek, a farmer. At today's hearing the woman endeavored to shift all blame for the murders to her "employers."

TRIO ROBS JEWELRY STORE.

Three Negro bandits took $1,200 in jewelry and $30 in cash yesterday in a robbery of the Regal Jewelry store, 352½ East 47th street, after binding the owner, Louis Shamino, in a back room.

VOICE OF PEANUT STATES JOINS IN FARMS' CHORUS

Butter Fat Also Included in Relief Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Democratic farm relief program appeared submerged today in a sea of sectionalism.

Peanuts, rice, and butter fat had been voted into the bill by a coalition of Republicans and Democrats. The former sought the bill's defeat by loading it down with commodities. The latter sought to include commodities of their own constituencies.

Move to Kill Bill.

When adjournment was taken a motion was pending to strike out the enacting clause. That motion, if carried, automatically would kill the measure and voting on it will come at once when the house meets tomorrow. The Democratic leaders, it was predicted, will put sufficient pressure on their followers tonight to insure that motion's defeat. Peanuts were added to the bill, on the motion of Representative E. E. Cox [Dem., Ga.] to "breathe new life into the peanut industry." There were 18 peanut states, Mr. Cox said. They, he said, had as much right to farm relief as wheat, cotton, tobacco and hog states.

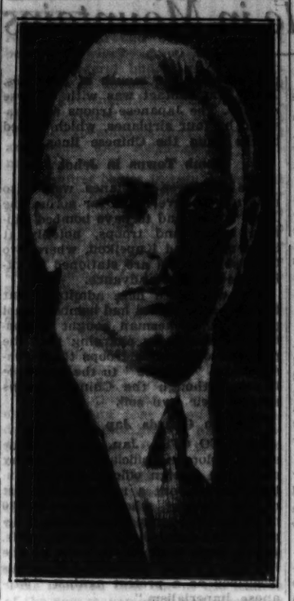
The Democratic leadership rallied to defeat the amendment to include peanuts. Even Speaker Garner exercised his privilege of voting, but it was not quite enough. That amendment, amid the laughter of Republicans, carried by a vote of 111 to 110.

Victory for Butter Fat.

The butter fat amendment was offered by Representative August H. Andresen [Rep., Minn.] and was approved by a vote of 102 to 95. It will bring the dairy farmer into the range of the alleged benefits of the domestic allotment plan, said Mr. Andresen, who declared his district is the greatest dairy country in the world.

When the house adjourned there also was pending a motion of an Illinoisan to strike hogs from the provisions of the bill. That amendment was supported by Representatives Charles Adkins [Rep., Ill.] and William E. Hull [Rep., Ill.].

HEADS COLLEGE



HAROLD C. JAQUITH.

Jacksonville, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The trustees of Illinois college, announced today the election of Harold Clarence Jaquith, national secretary of the Near East foundation, to succeed Charles Henry Rammelkamp, who died last April after 27 years as president of the institution.

Mr. Jaquith comes to the college with a distinguished record, being known nationally and internationally through his connection with the work of the Near East relief from 1917 up to the present.

DOCTOR TO FACE WITNESS ON FAKE MONEY CHARGE

Frank H. Smiley, 7123 Euclid avenue, was subpoenaed yesterday to appear before United States Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill in New York City next Monday afternoon. He will be asked to identify Dr. V. G. Burtan, New York heart specialist, as one of those named in the indictment returned in Chicago charging possession of $90,000 in counterfeit $100 bills with intent to defraud the government.

Dr. Burtan was arraigned last week in New York with Henry Dechow, alias Count Enrique von Buelow, who is charged with the same offense. Bond was fixed at $50,000 each. Dechow, the former husband of Mrs. Lottie Brenner, wealthy widow of the Chicago alderman, waived removal proceedings and is held pending return to Chicago for trial. Dr. Burtan demanded a hearing.

Government officials said that Smiley was the only witness, besides government agents, to appear before the grand jury. They refused to reveal Smiley's connection with the case. New York officials said that identification of a person as the one named in an indictment is generally held sufficient to justify a removal order. Dr. Burtan and Dechow are alleged to have brought the fradulent bills to Chicago and to have directed the passing of $25,500 worth here.

JAPANESE SPURN PROPOSAL FOR PEACE WITH CHINA

Refuse to Enter Parley on Shanhaikwan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CHINWANGTAO, China [10 miles south of Shanhaikwan], Jan. 10.—With 3,000 Japanese troops and a marine contingent holding the passage through the Great Wall as well as the little walled city of Shanhaikwan, and with more troops and military supplies constantly arriving, Japan, it has become evident, has no intention of relinquishing that strategic point, which she considers necessary to the security of the new Japanese protected state of Manchukuo.

Capt. N. D. B. Taylor, commander of the British sloop Folkestone, which is anchored alongside the Kailan mining administration wharf here, informed the Japanese Admiral Tsuda and Gen. Ho Chu-kuo, the Chinese military commander, several days ago that the British authorities are ready to act as mediators in adjusting the Shanhaikwan incident and in preventing the spread of fighting south of the wall.

Japanese Spurn Parley.

Gen. Ho agreed to meet the Japanese admiral, but Tsuda, after communicating with Gen. Suzuki, commander of the Japanese Fourth division, which, reinforced by a brigade from the Eighth division, is holding Shanhaikwan, informed Capt. Taylor that the Japanese refuse to meet the Chinese general.

The Japanese, since the occupation of Shanhaikwan, have been strengthening their positions and bringing up supplies and reinforcements. Gen. Ho has dropped back about three miles and is holding the south bank of the Tashaho river. The Chinese strength in a ten mile radius is about 15,000. The Chinese have some small artillery, but their equipment is obviously inferior to that of the Japanese army, which is almost completely mechanized. The Japanese have a fleet of modern tanks capable of speedy action over the flat terrain which skirts the coast in this sector.

Japs Dominate in Air.

The Japanese also have an advantage in their complete domination of the air and, with the aid of a fleet of warships off shore, they are capable of harassing Chinese communications to the rear for a distance of nearly 30 miles southward along the coast from Shanhaikwan to Pehtaiho.

Gen. Ho, who lost a battalion of 600 men, killed or wounded, in the Shanhaikwan battle, has informed American military officers of his intention of fighting the Japanese to the last man. If carried out, this means that he will probably withdraw to the mountains of Jehol province and resort to guerrilla warfare.

The battle for Shanhaikwan, which began the night of Jan. 1 and ended on Jan. 3, resembled the Chapei battle at Shanghai a year ago, although on a smaller scale. The Japanese put their losses at 18 killed, including four officers, and about 100 wounded.

Run into Machine Guns.

All these casualties resulted when a Japanese force entered a breach in the wall around the city and met Chinese machine gun fire and hand grenades. The section of the city fronting the beach outside the walled area was practically demolished as a result of air bombing by the Japanese and salvos from Japanese warships.

The Chinese civilian casualties are not known, but 75,000 refugees, approximately the entire population of Shanhaikwan, evacuated. The refugees walked ten miles to Chinwangtao, where they are now camped on the property of the Kailan mining administration, which was organized by President Hoover in his engineering days.

When the mob reached the eight foot wall about the Kailan property they piled up bags to form a bridge and poured over into the compound, where they are not receiving temporary food and shelter at the expense of the company and Chinese charity agencies. Railway trains are transporting the refugees south as fast as possible, for the weather along this windswept beach is now bitterly cold.

Foreigners in Precarious Spot.

The small foreign population of Chinwangtao, consisting of some thirty Britons and Danes, who are employed by the mining company, the Chinese salt administration and the postoffice, are in a precarious position, as are also the detachment of twelve American soldiers of the 15th infantry, commanded by Lieut. D. M. Moore of Clarksville, Tex., who are stationed here. Their post along the beach is sandwiched between the Japanese fleet anchored 1,500 yards off shore and the Chinese railway, running along the rear border of the camp, on which the Chinese will operate armored trains in event the Japanese resume hostilities.

When my train arrived at Chinwangtao the station was brilliantly illuminated as the Japanese followed the train with powerful searchlights from a cruiser and four destroyers. The searchlights even followed an ancient 1914 truck piloted by Private Harper which conveyed me a distance of three miles from the station to American headquarters.

U. S. Officers Watch Situation.

Lieut. Moore and other American officers, including Capt. T. C. Rote of San Antonio, Tex.; Capt. D. M. Barrett, intelligence officer; Capt. Arcadi Gluckman, assistant military attaché from Peiping, are observing the situation closely. They are maintaining close contact with both Chinese and Japanese commanders and are making daily reports to Washington.

Among the Chinese officers is Col. Chan Wei-pin, a graduate of Northwestern university and of the military school at Fort Benning, Ga.

The Japanese force occupying Shanhaikwan is almost exclusively Japanese, only one company being composed of so-called Manchukuo troops. The Japanese are using both Japanese and Manchukuo flags, which decorate all houses still standing. The Japanese are now evacuating their civilians, about 60, from Chinwanktao to Dairen.

Japanese Advance on Jehol; 12 Hour Battle in Mountains

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Jan. 10.—A furious battle was under way tonight between Japanese and Chinese troops at Chiumenkow pass, in the Great Wall of China twelve miles north of Shanhaikwan.

At 6 o'clock this evening the battle had raged twelve hours, and latest reports said the Chinese defenders were still putting up stiff resistance against the Japanese attempt to seize this gateway into Jehol province, which Japan claims as part of its puppet state of Manchukuo [Manchuria].

Jap Advance Hampered.

Japanese dispatches said the invading forces had taken the northern end of the pass, but that the Chinese had concentrated their defense in the southern end and were putting up a hard battle. The mountainous nature of the country was said to be hampering the Japanese advance.

[Early dispatches yesterday morning said the Japanese had captured Chiumenkow pass, and that the Chinese had "put up no resistance." This apparently was erroneous.]

The Japanese invasion of Jehol began at 6 a. m. today, when Japanese cavalry, infantry, and artillery began pouring into the mouth of the pass. Their first contact was with Chinese cavalry. The Japanese troops were assisted by four airplanes, which rained bombs upon the Chinese lines.

Bomb Towns in Jehol.

The Japanese airplanes were also reported to have flown far across the Jehol border and to have bombed Chinese towns and troops, notably at Shimenchai and Kupeikou, where two Chinese brigades are stationed awaiting the Japanese advance.

The war office here admitted that the Japanese planes had bombed Jehol proper. A spokesman sought to justify this action by charging that the presence of Chinese troops there constituted a "menace" to the Japanese forces, although the Chinese troops are on their own soil.

Mexico Guards Jap Legation.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Japanese diplomatic officials here today asked the foreign office for "guarantees" to prevent a repetition of last night's incident, when a group of 20 or 30 persons stoned the Japanese legation and painted signs on its walls. Police were assigned to duty at the legation. The demonstration was described as a protest against "Japanese imperialism."

MUSSOLINI URGES A MASTER MIND TO GUIDE AMERICA

Holds Central Control of Economics Necessary.

ROME, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini told an American visitor today that a central master mind and central economic control are necessary in a country like America, but he is opposed to rule by technocracy.

The premier set forth his ideas in an interview with Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, O.

Technology is imperative as part of any advanced nation's governing system, he said, but life is too complex to be ruled effectively by it alone. The much discussed word technocracy, according to the rabbi, seemed to imply a sort of technological absolution to the Fascist leader.

Technology Only One Section.

"Man is more than technology, he is an artistic, a political and a moral being," the rabbi quoted the premier. "Technology is only a section of social life, whereas the whole life of man must be satisfied."

A country such as America, the premier said, must control economic life just as it controls the army and navy. In ruling Fascist Italy Mussolini has put this principle in practice by maintaining rigid supervision over industry.

Recently a law was enacted making the establishment of new industries a subject of government permission, and a government spokesman a few days ago intimated that it is planned to merge the chamber of deputies with the National Council of Corporations, creating a sort of technical legislative body to replace the two.

Must Control Capital and Labor.

The council is the apex of Fascist Italy's corporative state system, consisting of a national body of industrial and labor representatives.

"We must control capital and labor, but with equal justice to both," the premier told the rabbi.

He described agricultural and educational development as the outstanding achievements of the first decade of Fascism in Italy, and he said much more would be accomplished if more capital were available.

He spoke of religious tolerance, declaring there was no anti-semitism in Italy, where Jews occupy positions of high importance. He expressed the opinion that the increase in anti-semitism in the world in recent years was due to economic sufferings and said he thought that with the return of normal times it would wane.

EIGHT 50,000 YEAR OLD GIANTS, EMBEDDED IN ROCK, REACH LONDON

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Embedded in huge blocks of stone, the skeletons of eight prehistoric giants of 50,000 years ago arrived at London today from Palestine.

They are specimens of the famous "Mount Carmel men," discovered last year by Theodore McCown, young American archaeologist, and later named "Paleanthropus Palestinus." They are of a new type of extinct man. They lived about the same time as the shuffling Neanderthal man of Europe, but were found to be unlike any other fossils in their powerful build, their jutting chins, and great awning-like protuberances over the eyes.

It will take many months of tedious work by Sir Arthur Keith and his assistants at the Royal College of Surgeons to chip the skeletons out of their stony beds. Although one of the blocks weighs 5,500 pounds, delicate dental drills will be used to prevent any damage.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Jan. 10.—By sending two police chiefs on a long "vacation," King Carol today patched up the Rumanian government crisis and steadied his tottering throne. Foreign Minister Titulescu returned jubilant tonight from Sinaia, where he conferred with Carol. Premier Maniu's position has also been strengthened by the promise of the king to allow a constitutional régime.

The police chief issue arose when Ion Michalake, minister of the interior, ordered Col. Marinescu, chief of police of Bucharest, and Gen. Dumitrescu, commander of gendarmes, discharged. Carol objected, as one of the chiefs was a friend of a friend of his. Michalake resigned in a huff and the cabinet delivered an ultimatum giving the king the choice of staying in Bucharest and obeying the constitution or of taking a trip elsewhere for an indefinite stay.

So the king today issued a decree ordering vacations for the two police chiefs without fixing a time limit, which means they probably will never return to office.

MANY WOUNDED AS GERMAN NAZIS CLASH WITH REDS

Rioters Fire at Police; Gun Fight Ensues.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Many persons were wounded, two seriously, in a severe clash between communists and Adolf Hitler's Nazis in Friedrichshain today. The rioting began when 400 Nazis attempted to force their way into a hall where 2,000 communists were assembled for a political rally.

The Nazis threw stench bombs and then were beaten back. The fighting continued in the street. Police were summoned and charged the mass of fighting men. The rioters fired a volley of shots into the ranks of the police, which they returned.

Sporadic rioting continued throughout the evening.

Ex-Kaiser Curbs Son.

Former Kaiser Wilhelm has ordered his fourth and favorite son, August Wilhelm, to exercise greater restraint in his Nazi activities, it was learned today. Prince August abandoned his former comrades, the Steel Helmet Veterans' organization, to become a star campaigner for Hitler's cause.

When Count Ernst Helldorf, commander of the Berlin storm troops, recently was granted a "leave of absence," August was proposed as his successor. He was forced to decline the post when the former kaiser intervened.

Meanwhile in Berlin an official announcement was made that beginning April 1 military attachés will be assigned to German embassies at Washington, D. C., London, Paris, Rome and Moscow and to the legations at Warsaw and Prague. Naval attachés will be appointed to the embassies at London, Paris and Rome.

Change in Military Policy.

This is evidently a new departure in the reich's military policy.

The attachés will be subordinated to the chiefs of thei rmissions, to whom they must submit all reports before forwarding them to Berlin. The names of the appointees will be announced within a few days.

"So long as Germany's equality in matters of armament was not acknowledged we did not feel that we should assign military or naval attachés to our foreign missions. But now that equality has been recognized in principle, the time has come for completing these missions with military men."

He pointed out that military observers have been sent from time to time, for example, to the United States and Russia.

20 Shots Fired on French Ship from Banks of Rhine

COBLENZ, Germany, Jan. 10.—(AP)—About twenty shots were fired today from the left bank of the Rhine near Kamp, a few miles upstream from here, on the French steamer Condor, which then hoisted signals of distress. German police believe those responsible for the incident were French Navigation company employés who are on strike for more pay.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

VIENNA, Jan. 10.—Police today found 350 high explosive bombs in the cellar of the offices of the Thiosept company, which purports to be for the manufacture of drugs. The head of the company, Kurt Barisani, is the leader of the Austrian National Socialists' Motor Transport section. A search of the Vienna brown house and other Nazi gathering places was made by police.

CORN BELT JOINS BATTLE ON COST OF GOVERNMENT

42 Illinois Counties in Tax Organization.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Reduction of the cost of government was stressed as a first step towards economic recovery on the farm and in the cities at the annual meeting today of the Illinois Taxpayers' associations.

Delegates from 31 counties, most of them land owners or home owners in the smaller cities who made boast that they were corn belt conservatives and not radicals, were in attendance and voiced demands for governmental retrenchments.

Funk Heads Organization.

Frank H. Funk of Bloomington, member of a family with a great name in Illinois agriculture, who is a former state senator, former congressman and Bull Moose candidate for governor in 1912, is the newly elected president of the organization.

Depression on the farm was pictured in the addresses, with grain and live stock fallen to record low price levels, and land values melted away in inverse ratio to the growth in the tax load. The corn belt meeting swung behind the movement at Washington to cut governmental costs, slash bureaucracy, and to cut federal expenditures to meet income just as ordinary folks have been doing.

Resolution Adopted.

The meeting voted for the following resolution:

"That this association indorses and joins in the many efforts being made to reduce the cost of our national government and pledges its political support to those elected officials who participate in bringing about such reduction."

Thus the organization, without mentioning names, responded to the recent declaration in Washington of Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, Democratic leader of the house, that the federal budget can be balanced without imposing more taxes except a beer tax and that the way to balance is to prune the costs instead of imposing new revenue raising loads.

"Reams could be written on the need for reducing the cost of government and bureaucracy," said C. W. Terry of Edwardsville, who presented the resolution. "Bureaucracy at Washington is appalling, the marble palace era has grown to staggering proportions. It ought to be stopped."

Taxpayers Must Act.

"It's up to the taxpayers to see cost of government reduced," echoed William N. Baltz, a former Democratic congressman from southern Illinois. "The time has come when there must be enforced retrenchment in public office as in private business and in the home and on the farm. We are burdened with taxation. I'm sure leaders at Washington and Springfield will work for reductions of at least 25 per cent in cost of government."

Dr. W. F. Bohanan of Peoria, retiring president, announced the organization is now going full steam in 42 counties outside of Cook, with an enrollment of 30,000 members affiliated through the county associations.

Program for State Assembly.

A program aimed at reduction of the tax burden was voted on for presentation to the legislators at Springfield. It included the following items:

"Consolidation and simplification of the numerous overlapping local governments.

"Reduction of salaries to conform to existing economic conditions.

"Elimination of superfluous employés.

"Reduction of election expenses by combining state, county, city and township elections on one day.

"Reform in court procedure to simplify and reduce the cost, including a reduction in jury fees.

Ask Tax Rate Limit.

"That a 1 per cent maximum general property tax on full fair cash value be established in conjunction with provision for the compulsory filing of personal property schedules to the end that all forms of wealth may be assessed on a uniform basis as provided by our constitution.

"That probate judges be abolished in counties under 250,000 population [all outside Cook], the office to be combined with that of county judge.

"That county boards of supervisors have authority to fix the amount of salaries of all county officers.

"That assistant supervisors be limited to one for every 25,000 of population.

"Correction of abuses in the pension system.

"That the state gasoline tax be substantially reduced on gasoline which contains 10 per cent of alcohol produced from grain.

"A uniform system of accounts for all county officers, the state auditor to audit the books at stated intervals.

"Each tax levying body to publish in a newspaper 30 days before adoption its budget for the next year, giving all items in detail.

"That an amendment to the revenue article of the constitution be submitted to the electors for adoption to provide for a modern and efficient basis for revenue in the classification, valuation, and assessment of property."

Comparing the present rates with the proposed 1 per cent limit on full value, speakers said that in McLean county the rate ran, roughly, $5 per $100 of assessed valuation, and assessed valuation was about 60 per cent of full.

"Today," said Delegate J. B. Jiskra of Bloomington, "our federal government is spending money like a drunken sailor. Bureaus on every hand are supplying government no one wants or needs, dishing out appropriations by the 500 millions and our state and counties have got into the spirit.

"Public expenditures have increased four times, our total public debt seven times in a little over ten years. Most of us are paying more than our share of the taxes. Especially is this true of the farmer, whose taxes obsorb 30 per cent of his family income.

"All of us paying for more government than we need, local, state, and national. The increase of delinquent taxes is becoming a serious problem. We are making it a luxury to own a home, notwithstanding that the home owning citizen is the nation's best asset."

"There is a notion that the state is above the law and can do outrageous things with impunity. Far from it. The state can no more escape the penalty of its evil deeds than the individual. The evil done today to Illinois by excess taxation of land will not be overcome in a generation.

"Already it has created an aversion to the ownership of land, a determination by every owner to get rid of his, if possible, at almost any price, and if that is not possible, to abandon it.

Senator Attacks Government Excesses; Auto Men Applaud

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, denounced excessive governmental costs and won the applause of 1,050 motor car executives at the annual dinner of the national automobile chamber of commerce tonight.

The southerner was preceded by Floyd W. Parsons, editor and commentator on business and engineering subjects, in a speech that dealt with the new technocracy movement as "a carefully timed effort to stampede discontent, to transform fear into panic by sensational utterances."

"Foremost among the problems that now confront us," said Senator Harrison, "is the necessity for rigid retrenchment and economies in government. In such times as these, when people are suffering and taxes are most burdensome, every activity of government that is not absolutely necessary should be abolished or delayed.

"The cost of government is too great. It has climbed more than 400 per cent in less than twenty years. There are too many people employed by the government. Decreases must be made.

"It is a most difficult task for congress, with the many appeals and protests for and against every movement toward economy and retrenchment, to achieve the desired end. In a crisis such as this the broadest powers possible under the constitution should be given to the President in order that Mr. Roosevelt, when he takes charge on March 4, can apply them. Our hope lies in the passage of such a resolution through congress, and I believe it will be done.

"Our federal budget must be balanced along sound lines. The credit of this government must be preserved, and if increased taxes are to be avoided federal expenditures must be reduced and waste and extravagance eliminated.

"Our first object in this congress is to reduce appropriations and apply economies. If the budget cannot be balanced through this method, there will, in my opinion, be no hesitation—as distasteful as it is—to find additional methods to accomplish the desired result."

The senator viewed the incoming administration with confidence.

"The more I come in contact with the incoming President," he said, "the more I am impressed with his ability, his courage, his heart and his grasp of these great questions. I have not the slightest doubt that when he is inducted into office he will have a program to hasten a return of economic restoration."

Mr. Parsons, in his address, said that the so-called technocrats had "failed to play fair with a sorely pressed nation of anxious people."

He asserted that one of the leaders of the new movement "was associated with a syndicalist movement, worked in a cement pouring gang at Muscle Shoals and was accused of war time sabotage by the superintendent of the job."

Presiding at the banquet was Alvan MacAuley, president of the automobile chamber of commerce. Beside him were company presidents in this largest manufacturing industry in America.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

We use in Chesterfield Cigarettes mild, ripe Domestic and Turkish tobaccos which have been aged and re-aged.

SENATE LISTENS TO TALK OF LONG; THAT'S ABOUT ALL

Quotes Bible in Filibuster Against Banking Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Dozing in the legislative doldrums which have led some critics to call it "the old men's club," the senate failed today to make progress on either of the two matters of importance brought before it.

It idled and snickered while Senator Huey [Call Me Kingfish] Long, the Louisiana Radical, filibustered the Glass banking bill with quotations from the Scriptures and excerpts from Long himself on the distribution "of wealth." It tried to pass the 21 million dollar first deficiency bill, but gave up when Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.] insisted on arguing an amendment to save all tax refunds approved by the board of tax appeals.

Its deeds for the day consisted of getting into the record one formal and two informal eulogies concerning the late Senator Guy D. Goff of West Virginia.

Glass Impatient at Delay.

A pulpit Bible adorned Senator Long's desk as he began his filibuster against the Glass bill's branching provisions. Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.], who is not noted for patience, fumed impatiently at the delay. Senator Long's references to the author of the bill—his comparison of Senator Glass' quickness to the "glance of an eagle," his description of Senator Glass' readiness of tongue as "quick as the spring of a rattler"—were not calculated to soothe.

Nor was his assertion that when he said the other day he knew more about branch banking than Senator Glass he really "was not giving himself much credit."

The Kingfish then produced his Bible and, flipping it open at Isaiah, read from the fifth chapter, eighth verse:

"Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth."

"Just change that to branch banks, he shouted, "and you've got what'll happen to the independent bankers."

"If you don't take the house of Morgan into consideration," was another contribution, "you ain't going to regulate many banks with any bill you pass here. The house of Morgan is the undisputed kingfish of the banking business."

Galleryites Entertained.

Only a handful of senators remained on the floor, but the galleryites enjoyed the Louisiana senator, and their laughter egged him on. Representatives from Louisiana, who are required to be on hand when their political master performs, were seated in a row at the back of the chamber casting suitably admiring glances at their own kingfish.

The depression Senator Long settled with one stamp up and down the aisle. He would survey the country, order production to cease of any product of which there is now plenty, issue ten billion dollars of federal bonds for food, clothing, and public works, and "just a little capital levy" on the rich would pay for it all.

SPAIN CLAMPS ON MARTIAL LAW IN RIOT AREAS

MADRID, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The government announced tonight that martial law would be established in the provinces where the anarchist uprising still is under way. Cabinet ministers did not specify which provinces would be affected, but it was understood the action would be taken in Seville and Valencia, where outbreaks were reported late today.

Late dispatches said that the extremist hotbeds in Barcelona, Seville, Valencia, and Murcia apparently had been quieted by precautions of governmental forces. It was estimated that 40 persons were killed and at least 100 injured in fighting that broke out in a number of cities on Sunday.

Reports from Cadiz were that in nearby Medina-Sidonia anarchists overpowered civil guards and raised a black flag. Reinforcements of civil guards were sent to the city, which is 19 miles southeast of Cadiz. Minister of the Interior Casares Quiroga said one guard was killed and one extremist fatally wounded at Jerez de la Frontera when a group of extremists engaged in a gun battle with police.

Sheriff Hunts Thieves Who Got $22,000 Nuggets, Ore

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The theft of 102 sacks of gold nuggets and high grade ore, valued at $22,000, was reported to the sheriff's office here today and a posse was organized to begin a hunt in the desert for the thieves.

BRITAIN SEEKS EARLY TALK WITH NEW U. S SECRETARY OF STATE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Great Britain is not complacent over the prospect of having to wait until March 4, or nearly then, before reopening the question of the British war debt to the United States.

The MacDonald government would like to proceed to the discussion at once with a representative of the next administration.

It was learned today that Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay asked Senator Borah last Saturday for a suggestion as to how to begin reconsideration of the debt at once. It was agreed that it was impossible until the new secretary of state is known.

Sir Ronald has declined to discuss the call while Senator Borah said it was both confidential and friendly. The senator would neither confirm nor deny rumors.

BECK TO OPPOSE SENATE PLAN OF DRY LAW REPEAL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Opposition to the repeal resolution reported in the senate yesterday sprang up on the house today. Representative James M. Beck [Rep., Pa.], chairman of the Republican wet group, called a meeting of the group for next Friday morning and accompanied the call with a statement in which he declared:

"While I cannot speak for the group until it has considered the question, yet I want to say for myself that the inclusion in the senate resolution of a federal power to police the states in the matter of the retail distribution of alcoholic beverages would not be satisfactory to me. If such a resolution were passed by the senate and reached a vote in the house I should be disposed to vote against it on the ground that it fatally compromises the basic principle of the wet movement which is to restore to the states their ancient right of local self government."

DAUGHTER OF TROTZKY ENDS LIFE IN BERLIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Frau Senaide Wolkow, 31 year old daughter of Leon Trotzky, bolshevik exile, committed suicide at her residence in Berlin today by gas poisoning after receiving notice of her impending deportation with other "undesirable aliens." She is survived by a six year old son and her husband, who lives in Russia.

Frau Wolkow never was politically active. She accompanied Trotzky to Turkey on his exile. A year ago, because of lung troubles, she was permitted to enter Germany for medical treatment. When soviet authorities deprived Trotzky and his relatives of their Russian citizenship several months ago, Frau Wolkow sought to prolong her passport to enable her to remain in Germany. Her friends assert that soviet embassy officials took up her passport. Officials then refused to issue a new passport, rendering her a woman without a country.

A notice of her expulsion by the Prussian police followed. Trotzky also has a son residing in Berlin, studying under an assumed name at a technical university. He also is threatened with expulsion.

SPEEDY ACTION ON TRADE, DEBTS, ROOSEVELT IDEA

Consults with House and J. W. Gerard.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Intensive activity by President Elect Roosevelt in the collection of data on foreign affairs led today to reports that he is about to set machinery in motion which will prepare him for action immediately after he becomes President on March 4.

According to the reports, Mr. Roosevelt may obtain diplomatic appointments of men of his personal selection within the next few weeks, so that these agents may begin at once the compiling of information which will enable him to get an early start in settlement of the war debt issue, and in launching his program for a revival of world trade.

For Early Tariff Changes.

The President elect is particularly anxious for an early revision of the tariffs, and has in mind the negotiation of reciprocal agreement with foreign powers, under which tariff walls will be scaled down and trade resumed. Before this can be accomplished, it will be necessary for Mr. Roosevelt and his state department to have the fullest detailed information on existing tariffs and on the financial conditions of the foreign powers. Allied with the tariff matters is the war debts problem that the President elect expects to use as a fulcrum in gaining the favorable attention of the other nations.

Following up yesterday's long conference with the Hoover secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, Mr. Roosevelt held long conversations with Col. Edward M. House, intimate friend of the late President Wilson and a recognized authority on foreign affairs, and with James W. Gerard, American ambassador to Germany at the time of America's entry into the world war, and with Sumner Welles, who was an assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration.

Compact with Stimson.

It was recalled President Hoover, at the time of the exchange of correspondence with Mr. Roosevelt on the foreign debts, sought to commit the President elect to the appointment of a commission to study the situation. It is believed that Mr. Roosevelt, failing to reach an agreement with Mr. Hoover to name trained investigators to compile debt information, is striving, through Secretary Stimson, to have Roosevelt men designated for such tasks. It was regarded as likely that either Mr. Gerard or Mr. Welles, or both, may be so appointed by Mr. Stimson.

Mr. Roosevelt talked today with Harvey Couch of Arkansas, a member of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, on the plight of the railroads and it was said there is a movement to lessen the stringent requirements under which financially stricken roads are able to loans from the R. F. C.

SHOOTS HIMSELF TO DEATH.

6 STATE ASSEMBLIES CONSIDER ACTION TO PERMIT LIQUOR SALE

[By the Associated Press.]

Measures relating to liquor received attention in the legislatures of six states.

Indiana Democrats, now controlling both branches of their legislature, introduced a bill in the house to repeal the Wright enforcement act. A similar measure last summer passed the Democratic controlled house but was defeated in the senate, where the Republicans were in the majority.

In both houses of the New York legislature bills were introduced providing for a commission of nine, with a $10,000 appropriation, to draft a liquor control and taxation plan and report Feb. 15. The state enforcement act was previously repealed. Democrats introduced the bills but they are approved by the Republican leaders.

New Jersey legislators also moved to appoint a commission to study liquor taxation.

In the Georgia legislature a bill will be introduced today, the Atlanta Journal said, to legalize beer and levy a state tax of 60 cents a barrel. The measure would provide county option and also authorize county taxes.

A bill to legalize beer also is expected to come before the South Carolina legislature.

The Illinois senate beat down opposition and advanced to third reading bills to repeal the state search and seizure and state prohibition acts.

All the proposals for state liquor taxation and control are contingent upon the modification or repeal of the national prohibition laws.

STATE DRY LAW REPEAL SPEEDS IN BOTH HOUSES

Legislation coming into the house included bills from Benjamin S. Adamowski [Dem., Chicago] to abolish the registration for the aldermanic-judicial election in Cook county in June.

Three bills were introduced to repeal the quo warranto low, which Gov. Horner has called "the king can do no wrong law." The law relieves elected officials of responsibility for their official conduct.

James T. Burns [Dem., Kankakee] introduced the first section of an economy program calling for the abolition of state and county offices and an average of a ten per cent cut in salaries.

Mr. Burns claimed that if his entire program was passed the state could save 20 million dollars annually.

The section presented today included a recommendation for the abolition of the state department of conservation and a reduction of state officials' salaries from $10,000 to $8,500.

Supreme court judges would be cut from $15,000 to $12,000.

No question of salaries bothered the legislators as they left for their homes tonight until Tuesday, when both houses will again convene. They all received their $3,500 pay for the next biennium last week, the usual custom at the beginning of each session.

CONGRESS COLD TO HOOVER ARMS EMBARGO PLEAS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A recommendation by President Hoover for passage at this session of congress of legislation according the chief executive wider powers in placing embargoes on arms shipments to belligerents will be taken up by the senate foreign relations committee tomorrow under circumstances indicating the answer will be no.

Immediately following the receipt today of a special message from the White House carrying the arms recommendation, leading senators said they saw no chance for approval of legislation of that type at this session. Likewise, it was stated that Mr. Hoover's suggestion that the senate ratify immediately the 1925 arms traffic-suppression convention would be turned down at least for this session.

Borah Announces Opposition.

Chairman William E. Borah [Radical, Idaho] of the senate foreign relations committee, has already made known his opposition to ratification of the arms embargo convention. Senator Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.] said today that he could not approve either the arms convention or legislation giving the chief executive greater discretion in clamping down arms embargoes.

"Such authority placed in the hands of the executive," he said, "would work to the benefit of the big, and to the disadvantage of the small nations. Big nations which manufacture their own munitions would have a tremendous advantage in event of a war with a nonmunitions manufacturing nation if an arms embargo were declared.

"I do not believe a President should be clothed with authority of that nature. It would give him power to help Europe hold together the Versailles treaty and thus assist the participating allied nations to hang on to their spoils of war."

President Explains Request.

"Recent events," said the President in his message, "have emphasized the urgent need of more authority to the executive in control of the shipment of arms from the United States for military purposes. There can be no doubt that the control of such shipments to areas of prospective and actual international conflict would greatly aid the earnest and unceasing efforts which all nations now make to prevent and lessen the dangers of such conflicts.

It is urgent that legislation should be passed conferring upon the President authority in his discretion to limit or forbid shipment of arms for military purposes in cases where special undertakings of coöperation can be secured with the principal arms manufacturing nations."

FLEET'S ARRIVAL MEANS WAR! PERU TELLS COLOMBIA

Troops Ordered to Halt Expedition.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 10.—(AP)—A note from the Peruvian eastern military commander was made public here today in which he was quoted as saying "Progress of a Colombian expedition toward Leticia means the initiation of hostilities."

[Rio de Janeiro dispatches said three Colombian ships arrived yesterday at Manaos, Brazil, at the confluence of the Rio Negro and Amazon rivers. Upon arrival of a fourth ship the fleet was to proceed to Leticia, the upper Amazon port over which Colombia and Peru have been in dispute].

The message of Gen. Vicente Ramos, Peruvian commander, was quoted by Colombian authorities as follows:

"As progress of a Colombian expedition toward Leticia means initiation of hostilities, I have ordered all measures of a military character to prevent the arrival of the expedition at Leticia, thus ensuring Peruvian security."

Replies to Warning.

Alfredo Vasquez Cobo, the commander of a Colombian expedition, was reported replying from Manaos, Brazil, as follows:

"I fulfill my obligation in answering your telegram. I ignore the claim that you may represent the Lima government or the Putumayo rebels. I take the opportunity to let you and Putumayo inhabitants know my mission is peaceful, aimed only at reestablishment and order in territories which always belonged to us."

Concerning news from Lima, Peru, stating that the Colombian government had accepted the office of a third nation to maintain the status quo at Leticia for 90 days in order to discuss modification of the 1922 boundary treaty, the foreign ministry announced "such news was absolutely unfounded."

Bolivians Capture Fort.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The minister of war announced today that the Paraguayan Fort Mariscal Lopez, 100 miles southeast of Fort Munoz, had been abandoned by Paraguayan troops and was occupied by Bolivians without a fight.

Capture of the fort left the Bolivians entrenched deeply in the lower Chaco.

While all his family looked on in astonishment and all his friends were amazed, one man took the pain, swelling and agony from his tortured joints in 48 hours and did it with that famous rheumatic prescription known to pharmacists as Allenru—you may do the same.

This powerful yet safe remedy is wonderful—its action is almost magical. Excess uric acid poison—the cause of most rheumatic agony—starts to leave your body in 24 hours.

COMMON-SENSE ADVICE FOR RELIEVING COLDS

RECENT SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION FAVORS VAPEX AS A SAFE, EFFECTIVE RELIEF

A head-cold is usually so unpleasant that you'll try almost anything to get relief.

But this is unwise. Common sense tells you that forcing liquids and salves into the nose is not natural. Your nose is made for breathing. And breathing the soothing Vapex vapor is a safe, natural way to relieve colds.

A few deep breaths refresh you . . . stop the sniffles . . . clear your head and nose . . . and bring quick relief. There's no mess or trouble. Just sprinkle a few drops of Vapex on your handkerchief in the daytime and on each end of your pillow at night.

Try Vapex for your next cold and be sure you get V-A-P-E-X. Tests by an unbiased medical research laboratory definitely prove that the Vapex vapor kills germs present during a head-cold. In similar tests many other inhalants that are claimed to be "just as good" as Vapex were far inferior in germ-killing power.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The dispute between Senator William E. Borah [Rad., Ida.] and President Hoover's administration over whether the French had been given real grounds for believing they would obtain a reduction of their war debt if German reparations were scaled down, brings up an aspect of the debt muddle which was hitherto obscure.

It is the rôle which gumshoe diplomacy has played in precipitating the French default on Dec. 15. For just as the then Premier Laval came away from his meeting with President Hoover in Washington convinced that a debt reduction was assured, so French deputies who overthrew the government of Edouard Herriot are sure they were in contact with circles close to President Elect Roosevelt and are convinced that the President elect would actually welcome their action.

French Beginning to Wonder.

Well informed and thoughtful Frenchmen are beginning to wonder over the sensational charges made by Mr. Borah and the categorical denials of the Hoover administration. They are mentally comparing the Laval-Hoover incident with what might be called the Herriot-Roosevelt incident in which the French chamber of deputies was apparently misled into believing that Mr. Roosevelt had given some secret commitment to settle the debt problem in a satisfactory manner, even if France defaulted.

In fact the belief that Mr. Roosevelt secretly engaged himself to drastic debt revision is almost as widespread as the similar belief that President Hoover promised Laval a reduction. This can accurately be said to be the basis of the American policy of Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour's government.

[The remainder of Mr. Taylor's dispatch from Paris was held up by the French censor.]

French Cabinet in Peril.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Exactly what President Hoover said to former Premier Laval when they discussed the debts in Washington in 1931, became an important issue today as parliament reconvened for a session which may bring the downfall of the government.

Senator Damecour, dean of the upper house, declared in the senate that the American President clearly informed Laval the United States would proceed with revision of the debts if France consented to reduce her reparations claims against Germany.

Discussion of the debt issue was revived as the government faced a dangerous parliamentary situation growing out of Finance Minister Cheron's proposals to balance the budget by providing new taxes amounting to 5,453,000,000 francs [$218,120,000].

Threatens to Resign.

In chamber lobbies it was reported that the cabinet itself might split on the finance proposals at tomorrow's ministerial council. Already some ministers have indicated their opposition. Cheron insisted he would resign if his measures were not approved. His withdrawal probably would be followed by the resignation of the cabinet.

In his speech before the upper house, Senator Damecour declared Senator William E. Borah had admitted the accuracy of his statement that President Hoover told Laval America would revise debts if France cut reparations.

"Nothing came of it," the senator continued. "After the sacrifices to which we consented at Lausanne for the peace of the world what has not been our sorrow to see America not even accord us the moratorium which she had asked for Germany, our debtor?"

Laval May Explain Talk.

It is expected that this speech will give Laval an opening for an explanation of his interpretation of his conversations with Mr. Hoover. Questioned about whether the President had told him America would revise debts if France reduced reparations the former premier said: "I did not hear Damecour's speech."

Laval's attitude in the debt controversy, and the attitude of the foreign office, is that the portion of the Hoover-Laval communique concerning intergovernmental obligations reflects the exact situation. The former premier was quoted extensively on the issue today by L'Intransigeant. He denied having given the interview, but said he agreed with certain parts of the newspaper story—those parts in which he was quoted as saying that Mr. Hoover allied reparations with war debts by his moratorium and that the communique issued in Washington spoke of intergovernmental obligations, not reparations alone.

INDIANA CITIES ARE BLAMED FOR LAKE POLLUTION

Canal District Tells Its Findings.

Full responsibility for the pollution of Chicago's drinking water was placed yesterday upon the industrial cities of northern Indiana by officials of the sanitary district. The sanitary district officials have surveyed the dumping of domestic sewage and industrial waste into the lake and have agreed to coöperate in a fight to stop it.

Commissioner of Public Works Sprague called attention to the pollution in a letter to Thomas J. Bowler, president of the sanitary district, requesting his coöperation in eliminating the condition. Mr. Bowler promised to coöperate. What the first step will be has not been agreed upon, but it was predicted that action in the federal courts would be necessary to compel the Indiana cities to install sewage treatment plants.

Permit Dumping of Phenol.

The offending cities, the surveys made by the sanitary experts have disclosed, are Whiting, Gary, Hammond, Indiana Harbor, and East Chicago. Gary and Indiana Harbor, according to Phil Harrington, assistant engineer, and Dr. F. W. Mohlman, chief chemist, of the sanitary district, permit the dumping of phenol, or carbolic acid, a by-product in the manufacture of coke, into the lake, and this acid, mixed with chlorine, is so strong that five parts per billion will produce a disagreeable taste in the water.

Whiting, the engineer and chemist said, dumps all its domestic sewage into the lake. Gary's sewage goes into the Grand Calumet river and works right back into the lake through the Indiana Harbor ship canal. Part of Hammond's sewage goes into the lake and part of it into the Grand Calumet. All of East Chicago's sewage is emptied into the Grand Calumet.

Want Sewage Plants Built.

Indiana was not one of the lake states which carried the fight against lake diversion at Chicago to the Supreme court, but the sanitary district officials nevertheless take the position that the offending cities should be made to build treatment plants, just as Chicago is having to do. The cities' defense at this time, it is said, would be poverty, just as the sanitary district will plead financial inability to carry out its construction program on schedule when the hearing on the receivership petition against the district begins tomorrow.

Master in Chancery Edward F. McClennen, representing the Supreme court, will hear evidence in the receivership suit brought by Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and New York, beginning tomorrow in the courtroom of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Finals Next Week

Male students at the University of Chicago are to contest this week for the title of the champion waffle eater of the campus. A campus restaurant has agreed to provide the waffles free, but is allowing only one pat of butter and one jug of syrup to each contestant. In the preliminary heats, the contestants will eat against time, being supplied with all the waffles they want for one hour. Next week the two students who make the best showing will face each other and eat to a finish, with no time limit set. Among the contestants entered are Barton Smith and John Baker, ends on the football team, and Frank Aufdenspring, a back field man.

WARNS FARMERS DEBT DEFLATION IS COMING NEXT

Purdue Offers Economic Program.

BY PAUL POTTER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A fourteen point program adjusted to present economic conditions and those in prospect was outlined for Indiana farmers here today at the annual Purdue university agricultural conference.

The program developed by farm management specialists here was presented by Dr. E. C. Young during a week when five thousand Hoosier farmers assemble from all parts of the state to check up on the most profitable practices, as the university finds them.

Mr. Young pointed out that the present per capita debt in the United States is $1,649, and that if the economic trends now operating continue, farmers as well as business must expect a lowering of debts rather than raising of commodity price levels.

Farming to Emerge First.

While this means a long period of foreclosures, defaults and revaluations, farming is effected first and the most serious debt situation is likely to occur in other lines, he declared. Young pointed out that of the major classes of obligations in the United States, farm mortgages stand sixth in the list, headed by debts of corporations, urban mortgages, bank loans, state, local and county debts, and the national government debts.

Young suggested that radical changes in foreclosure procedure might be expected in the deflation process of farm mortgages, as well as the formation of debt cancellation committees and a reform in receivership practice.

Fourteen Point Plan.

The fourteen point plan recommended to farmers of the state included a policy of "pay as you go, reduction in costs especially those for outside labor, production of concentrated products to reduce marketing costs, production of high quality goods, taking advantage of marketing short cuts, increased intensity of operations on good lands, culling of live stock 'vigorously' and feeding of good animals well, increased attention to seed selection, testing and other crop practices, increased study of management practices, increased use of home grown seeds, producing more of the family's requirements on the farm, increased production of legume crops, avoidance of investments in permanent improvements and making more use of governmental and educational forces available to farmers."

'YOUR HAT'S TERRIBLE,' MARRIED MAN WRITES MRS. F. D. ROOSEVELT

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Here is a note Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President elect, received recently:

"I am a great admirer of your distinguished husband and have the utmost respect for his talented wife—but who picks out those terrible hats?

"Permit me to suggest you appoint your pretty daughter to select them hereafter. You owe it to your 'public' to appear properly dressed.

"A MARRIED MAN."

Mrs. Roosevelt laughed as she fingered the note and said: "I wish I knew where to address an answer."

DAIRY DAMAGE SUITS DROPPED BY MEADOWMOOR

Suits filed by Meadowmoor Dairies, Inc., charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and asking $225,000 damages from the Pure Milk association and a number of dairy concerns, were dismissed yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson at the request of attorneys for the Meadowmoor company. Attorney Edgar J. Cook told the court that the company had decided it could not afford the expense of prosecuting the suits.

He said his clients had reported all alleged violations of the anti-trust laws to the attorney general in Washington. Judge Wilkerson declined to view affidavits and photographs offered by Cook to prove that he had evidence on which to proceed.

Attorney Cook said he had estimated the cost of the litigation at $100,000.

F. J. Kullman Sr., president of the Bowman Dairy company, issued this statement: "The action of the Meadowmoor dairy in dismissing the wholesale suits against the milk industry in Chicago proves emphatically in our opinion that the suits should never have been brought. We want it clearly understood that the dismissal action was the result of no concession or compromise on our part."

If a cake isn't evenly baked, it becomes lopsided . . . or crusty in one part, and heavy in another. A fluffy, tender cake can be baked only by an even, steady heat on the top, bottom and sides. You couldn't get that with a blow-torch!

One secret of preparing good food and of roasting coffee is even application of heat.

Drink Hills Bros. Coffee and you will know the importance of even roasting. For Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted a little at a time . . . as the blend flows evenly, continuously through the roasters. This process—Controlled Roasting—is exclusive to Hills Bros. The heat is kept at a steady temperature, and as the berries come from the roasters, each one is "done" exactly alike. Every pound has the same matchless flavor—uniform goodness that no other coffee has.

The ordinary method of roasting coffee is in large batches. In spite of close attention to this operation, it is quite impossible to roast each batch to the same degree. As a result, disappointing variations in flavor often occur.

There's a thrill and constant satisfaction in drinking Hills Bros. Coffee which is always uniform in flavor. Every time you make a cup, the fragrant aroma and appetizing goodness are irresistible. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

GROUND RIGHT TO TASTE RIGHT

No coffee, however good, can be uniform in taste unless uniformly roasted and uniformly ground. Hills Bros.' exclusive, continuous process — Controlled Roasting — and correct granulation insure this uniformity. Hills Bros.' granulation will give best results by the drip process or any other method.

FRESH ALWAYS!

The vacuum process of packing coffee, originated by Hills Bros. in 1900, is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness — the air is removed from the can and kept out. There is no magic about a vacuum can — it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh. No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it fresh always!

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

GOV. HORNER'S INAUGURAL.

Gov. Horner has made an admirable beginning of his administration with an inaugural address marked by the fine spirit and broad interest in the public welfare which have characterized his years of public service in Chicago. The message is a most comprehensive survey of the important problems with which the people of Illinois and their state government are confronted, and Gov. Horner's appeal for an earnest and nonpartisan effort for their solution in the common interest offers the best possible approach to the tasks before us.

The questions outstanding in the public mind undoubtedly are economy and legislation preparatory to the removal of national prohibition. On both these questions the message is admirable. "The people of the state," said Gov. Horner, "expect us materially to reduce governmental costs and we shall keep faith with their expectations. Good government should be furnished at the least possible cost." To this all important end "we should aim for a thorough revision and simplification of administration practices and procedure." This is within the immediate powers of the administration, but the larger economies depend upon the consolidation of government for which the legislature must coöperate. "Our state government," said Gov. Horner, "has become altogether too complicated. Legislation ought to be enacted to enable counties to do away with the variety of governments within them, to reduce and consolidate them to the minimum possible number and to simplify them so that in fact as well as in theory the citizens could participate in the solution of their many governmental problems and substantial reductions of the cost of local governments might result." Special reference is made to the need for consolidation in Cook county, the leading example of complicated and wasteful government.

As to the dry laws, Gov. Horner recommended the immediate repeal of the state prohibition and search and seizure law, so as to clear the way to proper legislation for the regulation of the liquor traffic in conformity with the wishes of the state and for its taxation when federal repeal permits. "Anticipating restoration of state control, laws should be ready to meet the requirements of local option and restrictions in favor of churches, schools, and places of amusement." The governor also asks the legislature to prepare for the prompt calling of a convention to ratify the repeal of the eighteenth amendment when submitted by congress.

It is to be hoped the legislature will carry out these suggestions. Preparation for the liquidation of the federal prohibition régime need not and should not wait for that event, but should be fully made now in order that there be no period of confusion and lawlessness.

Very welcome to all citizens who have realized the wastefulness of past highway expenditure and political development is Gov. Horner's announcement that "it will be the purpose of this administration to carry forward a sound and economical program of highway improvement fairly distributed in strict accordance with the actual needs." Gov. Emmerson's administration has checked the destructive methods of the Small régime, and we are glad to have Gov. Horner's assurance that this reform will be carried forward.

Less satisfactory to considerate thinking upon basic needs and policies is Gov. Horner's theory that "the first claim upon the funds and concern of the state should be for welfare work and education." The first claims are not these, but for the solvency of government, the maintenance of law and order, the relief of the citizens from taxation which exhausts the productive enterprise and endangers the homes and livelihood of the people. This is the public welfare which is the primary concern of government here and everywhere. The state and its people are at this time passing through severe trials, and many expenditures which a period of prosperity liberally sustained must be restricted or eliminated for the essential purpose of relief and recovery.

A practical consideration of this situation must also present objection to Gov. Horner's recommendation for a sweeping revision of the state constitution, including an enlargement of the powers and opportunities of taxation. The defects of our present constitution are realized, but in THE TRIBUNE'S opinion present conditions are not favorable to wise constitution making, which does not take place under acute and peculiar pressures such as would affect revision at this time. The prime and overwhelming need is for the reduction of the tax burden so that agriculture, industry, and commerce may be restored to the activity upon which all the people of the state depend.

New law making will wisely attack concrete weaknesses upon which there is virtually no controversy among well disposed citizens. Of this, examples are in the suggestions of Gov. Horner for better regulation of banking and insurance finance and in the modernization of the judicial department. The reapportionment of the judicial districts to bring representation on the Supreme court into some fair relation to the distribution of population is a moderate proposal supported by every consideration of justice and public policy.

But we cannot consider that Gov. Horner's suggestion for the abandonment of equal representation in the legislature is sound or in the interest of the state's welfare in the long run. No principle can insure harmony and justice which abandons the right of equal representation, and this is made apparent in the very argument borrowed in its behalf from the federal constitution. The policy of unequal representation in the United States senate is resulting in unequal taxation and destructive federal extravagance. It was adopted by the founders as a necessary inducement to obtain the acceptance of the federal constitution, and its results especially at this time are deplorable and dangerous to national solvency and national unity. No such compromise is justifiable in Illinois. It is better to submit to present unlawful inequality and to await the arrival of wiser and juster sentiment among our people than to pay the price which will be exacted by this abandonment of principle.

THE FORECLOSURE DILEMMA.

The uproar in Iowa over farm foreclosure sales raises some extremely interesting questions. A typical case was presented the other day when the lawyer for an insurance company and the sheriff who was conducting the sale were mobbed by a group of irate farmers. The trouble in this instance appears to have arisen over the bidding in of the property by the insurance company at something less than the full amount of the mortgage, but at bottom, of course, is the fact that the load of debt upon farms is heavier than can be borne. The price level, particularly of farm products, has fallen so far and so fast that some of the best and most conservative farmers are finding it impossible to repay or refinance their loans.

Should the insurance companies which have made the loans write them down by a half or a third? That would help the farmers, but what the farmers gained would be taken out of the holders and beneficiaries of insurance policies sooner or later. Not even a Solomon could solve that dilemma equitably. Is it better to deprive a widow of the money saved for her support than to deprive a farmer of the land fertilized with his sweat? The answer to that question is that either deprivation is to be avoided if possible.

It is often suggested that the fair way out is to inflate the currency or credit of the country in some fashion or other with a view to raising price levels to approximate equality with debt and tax levels. If this can be done without further disorganization of business markets, or, in other words, if it will not do more harm than good, the expedient might be tried. Few who have examined inflationist proposals with an open mind will venture the downright opinion that no harm will result from their adoption. We may have to come to inflation, but the best that can be said for it is that it may be the lesser of evils.

So far as the farmers and all other debtors are concerned, the one course which promises most relief with no compensating disadvantages is tax reduction. Fortunately for the farmers, the control of their tax bills lies pretty largely within their own hands. Few of them contribute anything to the federal income tax collectors. The farmer's tax bill is paid in overwhelming proportion to the county, the township, and the school district. Even the state gets only a small share. If the farmer will pare the costs of his local governments, for example by reducing school and road expenditures and consolidating neighboring counties, he will make material reductions in his annual outlay.

He can derive further benefit from laws such as have been proposed in these columns exempting fallow land from taxation. This proposal should result in a considerable decrease in production with corresponding price advances and at the same time serve as an incentive to the reduction of government expenditures. The federal government can also help, as was proposed by the grain merchants of the country the other day, by reopening the channels of trade with foreign nations and assisting them to restore their purchasing power.

[Emporia (Kas.) Gazette.]

Legislative wheels are grinding. Every now and then they throw off a spark whose fleeting glimmer illuminates their plans so that we may glimpse what destiny holds for us in the next four years.

Their farm plan is to be based on a subsidy for those who voluntarily control production, which is easy for the small grain farmer. All he will have to do is to cut his acreage.

But it is also to be applied to hogs. Now, when you undertake to teach a hog to control his production, gentlemen, let us speak plainly, you have a job on your hands.

We do not deny that there are many eloquent arguments for voluntary controlled production which will appeal to the enlightened self-interest of an adult hog. But what is to be done with the young sow of subnormal intelligence and bad home environment or the headstrong individualist who would set her own impulses above the sober judgment of the Democratic party and insist on having eight or ten little piggies to the litter instead of the allotted six?

We assume that in this kind of a litter only six would be safe for the subsidized home market, and the rest would be chalkmarked by the inspector for the Democratic board of hog temperance and morals as destined to be slaughtered for the export trade and dumped on an unprotected and unsubsidized world market.

But is this not a cruel and barbaric penalty for society to exact from motherhood for one little mistake?

County chairmen should use great care in selecting the thousands of federal inspectors who will ride in government cars from farm to farm, charged with controlling hog production. They should be, of course, men of unquestioned integrity. But they should temper justice with mercy. They should remember their own youth.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Arr. Ed.

A BRAND NEW CONGRESSMAN out in Iowa declared with great vigor that the congressional salary of ten thousand dollars a year is too much and that it provides congressmen with ease and luxury. These things all depend on where you are. Ten thousand dollars a year in, say, Scotts Bluff, Ia., where the new congressman lives, might surround a man with much which could be justly regarded as ease and luxury. But ten thousand dollars in Washington—well, after paying for a back bedroom, a silk hat, an automobile, and a few boiled shirts, and sinkers and coffee, toast, and soft boiled eggs, now and then, we can't imagine how—at Washington prices—the average congressman can have much left out of his salary at the end of the year. And, of course, if a congressman has a bootlegger—oh, well, ten thousand dollars a year in Washington is just pin money, that's all.

Who looked upon the world with level eye,
Whose dreams were practical, whose jokes were dry;
Terse in his speech, and commonplace in mien,
And Yankee-shrewd, and Yankee-keen and clean,—
A modern Pilgrim sent to sanctify
Another Plymouth town, encloistered by
A girt of mountain, undulant and green,

Thus simply bred: thus simply lived and died

Impassive, prudent, plain but dignified
By modesty, was nowise different.

But served and loved each true American.

"BANDITS in Correct Evening Dress Rob Many."—Headline. It is indeed pleasant that the members of what is becoming one of our basic industries are developing a praiseworthy ambition to get into our very best society. However, we must say to the bandits that correct evening dress does not always prove a passport to the best society, or, at any rate, to the more exclusive circles. But correct evening dress is a step, though the bandits should know that they are liable to be left out of many a debutante tea or betrothal dinner if they do not cease from addressing their victims in this manner, "Hey, youse, stick 'em up an' keep 'em up!" And so, dear bandits, if you expect some day to see your names in the social registers you should study grammar and the dictionary as carefully as you do the charming articles in the burglar magazines on "What the Well Dressed Bandit Is Wearing This Winter."

A BURIED CITY said to be over three thousand years old has been discovered in Kentucky and is now being explored. Many ancient water jars have been discovered and brought to the surface, but have not created much excitement, as hardly anybody these days can run a fever over water jars. However, it is hoped the ancients invented the art of making Kentucky bourbon and that the storehouses where they put it away to age will soon be found. In the days before the Sacred Eighteenth Kentucky whisky fifteen or twenty years old was considered most delectable, so it may be fairly imagined what Kentucky bourbon aged in the wood for three thousand years would taste like. And the time of discovering the old city is most opportune. By the time the archeologists have dug their way into the whisky storehouse congress may have acted and it will be possible to drink the three thousand year old Kentucky bourbon without getting shot in the rear tires.

NOW THIS "Buy American" thing is going to make it very difficult when we come to make our little gardens next spring. It will manifestly be most unpatriotic to raise Brussels sprouts, or Irish potatoes, or Porto Rican yams, and, oh, sorrow of sorrows, we can't raise any Bermuda onions. And gosh, we were going to plant English ivy all around the house. Oh, well!

WHEN SUNSHINE FAILS.

When wasting Winter sheds its pall
Across the prairie lands of light,
When cheering songsters flee our sight,
What yet remains to bring a boon
To us who loved the songs of June,
Who hailed the year's abounding noon!
Must joy be done, must gloom befall,

Ah, no! A thousand pleasures call
By glowing hearth, in friendly hall;
And who would smile at Winter's blight,
Let him but join the skaters' flight,
Or plow through snow some silver night—

MOTTLED TEETH AND LIGHT

EVIDENCE accumulates that too much fluorine in the drinking water is the cause of mottled teeth. It seems to be pretty well settled that if the community water supply has less than one part fluorine in two million parts of water it will not cause mottling. If the proportion is over that level but less than four parts per million there will be some cases of mottling, but they will not be the prevailing condition. When the fluorine content of the water rises above four per million more than 85 per cent of the older children have the condition. Some waters have been known to run as high as 15 million parts per million.

It is certain that artesian waters flowing from deep wells, and of exceptional purity as regards bacteria and organic matter, and of unusual safety as to typhoid and diarrheal diseases, are most unsafe to drink with respect to mottled teeth.

Another factor besides fluorine content may be necessary in order that the disorder may develop. This other element, according to Dr. J. J. Reed, is the actinic rays of sunlight. The proof that he offers is:

The mottling never appears until the teeth have been cut. It is most in evidence in those teeth that are most exposed to light. The back teeth and the back surfaces of the other teeth do not become mottled. Mouth breathers, persons with short lips, and all others who habitually keep the mouth open are most susceptible to it. It is more apt to prevail in Arizona, Colorado, and in other regions where the sun shines all the time and where the light rays are powerful.

Dr. McKay, who has been working on this subject for many years, accepts fluorine as the principal cause, but he expresses no opinion on the subject of light being the other factor.

The mottling is due to a poor development of the enamel layer and particularly in its cement substance. The poor structure of the enamel causes it to absorb color from tobacco and other pigments from different sources.

Neither Dr. Reed nor Dr. McKay, in recent articles, expresses an opinion as to how much the mottled tooth is damaged except as it is made unsightly.

When mottled enamel develops among the children of a community there is a choice of remedies. After having the public water supply examined for fluorine and convicted of being the cause of the disorder the city fathers can arrange to have the chemical removed or they can provide another water supply. Some parents will have their household return to the use of water from the lot well, taking the risk of typhoid.

ARTICHOKES.

D. H. R. writes: Will you please give me some information regarding the food value of artichokes?

REPLY.

I presume you refer to the artichoke that is now being pushed as a substitute for sweets. It is a tuber and it contains a sugar which differs from that from cane and beets. It is claimed that this sugar can be assimilated by diabetics without increase of the blood and urine sugar. The claim has been opposed and is now under further investigation.

The United States department of agriculture is conducting extensive practical experiments in growing this plant, hoping that it may prove to be a good food and profitable as a farm crop.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ACTS OF MINOR.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A minor contracted a debt of $56 in another state five years ago. He moved from the state shortly after and has lived here five years. He is now married and earns $20 per week. Can they garnishee or sue him? H. R.

The ordinary statement is that the minor may disaffirm within a reasonable time after coming of age. You do not say when he came of age. In our opinion failure of the creditor to make a demand would be considered with other circumstances in determining whether a reasonable time has elapsed.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 11, 1917.

CHICAGO.—Herman F. Schuettler was named chief of police to succeed Charles C. Healey. In making the announcement the mayor said it was a sufficient answer to the questions hurled at him by State's Attorney Hoyne a few hours before, in which the prosecutor intimated that he did not believe the mayor wanted an honest administration of the police department. In naming Schuettler the mayor announced that the new chief was to take hold of the department with an absolutely free hand.

LONDON.—The entente allies' reply to President Wilson's note, which was delivered to Ambassador Sharp in Paris, is an address to the American people as well as the President, according to high authority. The Times, owned by Lord Northcliffe and close to the British government, in an editorial says the reply constitutes a crushing rejoinder to German pretensions of humanitarian sentiment. The reply may be made public tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Franz Bopp, German consul general here, and four of his attachés or employés were found guilty by a jury in the United States District court of having violated this country's neutrality. "Guilty on all charges," announced the foreman. All five defendants were accused of having planned to blow up munition plants in America and Canada, steamships carrying supplies to the entente allies, railroad bridges and military trains. Besides Bopp, the defendants were E. M. von Shack, vice consul Wilhelm von Brincken, J. F. Van Koolbergen, Margaret E. Corneil, Charles C. Crowley, and Louis J. Smith.

WAR SUMMARY.—Petrograd reports that the Russians and Rumanians have checked the invaders north of the Kasino river and at Ionek in Rumania, and have made gains at other places. The British forces have made important progress and apparently have almost surrounded the town of Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia. Russian forces advanced during terrific fighting to the southwest of Riga, near the northern end of the Russian front. Russian detachments took possession of the German positions between the Tirul marsh and the river Aa and advanced about one and one-third miles southward, capturing prisoners. London reports that British forces have made successful raids on the German positions at several points along the front in France. Four British steamers are reported to have been sunk by German submarines. A Berlin report states that an Italian submarine destroyer was sunk off the island of Corfu. The members of an army staff were on board the vessel, the statement adds, and seven naval officers and thirty three army officers were killed.

DENVER, Colo.—To add to its measure of appreciation of what the west owed him the state of Colorado will receive the body of Col. William F. Cody [Buffalo Bill], who died here today, into its capitol on Jan. 14, there to lie in state for four hours. Funeral services for the noted scout are to be held Jan. 14, when the body will be placed in a receiving vault in a local cemetery, but the burial will not take place until next spring, probably Decoration day, when the body of one of the nation's most picturesque characters will be interred in a tomb hewn from the rock at the top of Lookout mountain near this city. With Col. Cody when death came were his wife, his daughter, who had hurried down from Cody, Wyo., the family home, last week to be at his bedside, and his sister, Mrs. L. E. Decker of Denver. Col. Cody was born in Scott county, Ia., on Feb. 26, 1846.

CHICAGO.—Realization of the University of Chicago's hope for one of the most complete medical research schools in the world approached a certainty yesterday. It came in the announcement of President Harry Pratt Judson that the Billings family of Chicago had donated $1,000,000 for the erection of a hospital on the Midway plaisance. The hospital will be an adjunct to the research school which has already been endowed with $3,750,000.

CHICAGO.—Herbert E. Bucklen, a pioneer in the patent medicine business in the United States and builder of the St. Joseph Valley railroad in Indiana and Ohio, died at his home at 814 South Michigan avenue. He leaves an estate of $7,000,000, amassed in the sale of his medicines and in railroad and real estate holdings.

ALIMONY.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—As a lawyer of many years of practice, including divorce cases, the writer is heartily in accord with your stand on the alimony question as indicated in today's TRIBUNE. It is high time that something be done to remedy a situation rapidly bringing judges, lawyers and the whole administration of justice into disrepute. The present laws on the subject of alimony, as interpreted and given effect by our courts, are wholly inadequate to protect the deserving wife on the one hand and to prevent gross miscarriages of justice in favor of the undeserving on the other.

Courts have too much discretion in the matter of granting and enforcing alimony payments; too many judges lack the necessary experience, judgment, and psychology to deal with the human element involved in such cases; others are temperamentally unfit for the questions involved.

In the opinion of the writer, the legislature should limit the cases wherein alimony should be allowed—to the wife with minor children, the wife past middle age, or one who is physically or mentally disabled. No young, able bodied woman without children should be permitted to penalize the future of a young man, no matter what her grievance.

The whipping post is none too good for the man who deliberately evades his responsibilities to wife and children, but the daily spectacle of judges sending men off to jail without adequate inquiry into their ability to pay, merely upon the assumption, in some instances, that "if he is sent to jail he will raise the money somehow," should cease. It is true that the press of business is great in these branches of the court and that it is difficult for a judge to investigate every case, but haste does not excuse injustice, and the difficulty might easily be obviated by having a branch of the social service department or other agency assist the judge in investigation as to the merits of the wife's demand. As it is, public opinion is being aroused against the granting of alimony in any case, and this is making it easier for the recalcitrant husband to evade his responsibilities.

IRENE M. LEFKOW.

A HOMEMADE FILTER.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—The recent pollution of drinking water, particularly on the south side, has been of so much concern to users who do not seem to know how to avoid the contamination that I should like to mention a simple system for filtering water that has been used in my home for over a year. It is very inexpensive and requires only two or three bottles, a funnel, filter paper, and some activated charcoal. I use gallon bottles, but a smaller size could be used if desired.

The first step is to make a simple wooden frame which will hold an empty bottle standing upright and another bottle inverted above it. The funnel is placed in the empty bottle, a sheet of filter paper placed in the funnel, and the other bottle is filled with ordinary faucet water and a small teaspoonful of the charcoal. The filled bottle is then placed on the frame and the contents drained from one bottle to the other. The charcoal and the filter paper remove all of the unpleasant taste and all the sediment, and it delivers clean water without any taste or discoloration.

The stand should be constructed so that the neck of the filled bottle extends into the funnel. The water in the funnel will then rise only to a certain height and will not overflow, and the filtering can go on automatically without further attention. It requires only about an hour.

The cost of the filtering paper and the charcoal is very small and the whole thing can be constructed and used as often as necessary for a very few cents a week.

I believe that any unemployed man who is handy with tools could construct a few of these outfits at very little cost and sell them at a profit. E. A. M.

VARECHA AND THE JUVENILE COURT.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Three questions are raised by the news items of Jan. 4 and 5, in which the wisdom of the Juvenile court's policy in the Varecha case is questioned. First, was the Juvenile court better equipped than the Criminal court to deal with the problems involved? Second, did the order entered by the Juvenile court constitute a suitable disposition? Third, where lies the responsibility for the state's failure to retain its actual custody of this defective ward?

1. The Criminal court could not hear the facts of general neglect surrounding the child from his infancy. It is confined to facts bearing upon the crime and mitigation of punishment. The Juvenile court could hear all the facts relevant to the need of its ward. The Juvenile court could and did commit before the occurrence of the tragic felony. The Criminal court could act only after that occurrence. In addition, we believe all the publicity attendant upon a Criminal court hearing makes a hero of the youthful defendant and encourages defective delinquents to seek equal prestige in similar escapades.

2. The Juvenile court, upon hearing the facts, could and did commit him to a state institution for safe keeping for life (Dixon). Dixon possesses, since 1931, the statutory power to recommend to the state department of public welfare commitment of certain patients of Varecha's type to the Chester state hospital for the criminally insane (Smith-Hurd, 1931, page 283). Chester is a strong walled institution with a successful record for retaining custody. The Criminal court could not commit to Dixon; it lacks the requisite jurisdiction. Without a showing of legal insanity the Criminal court could not commit to Chester. Unlike the Juvenile court, it had at its command only the facilities for adult and "responsible" criminals—Pontiac, where he could stay only for a time; Joliet, or the death penalty.

3. The Juvenile court was clothed with adequate powers. It did its duty. Where, then, lies the responsibility for the ghastly human cost entailed by the later acts of this defective boy? No doubt on the administration of the Dixon state hospital or upon the legislature. The hospital failed, whether for lack of sufficient statutory power, or for lack of sufficient social service skill, or for other reasons of which we have not been informed, to exercise and express statutory power conferred upon it as trustee for this child. GRACE BENJAMIN.

WOMEN CONDEMN DIVORCE LAW AS UNFAIR TO MEN

Permits Wife to Desert Husband and Children.

The law of Illinois sends a man to jail for nonpeyment of alimony, but it imposes no obligation whatsoever upon a wife to support either her husband or her children.

A wife and mother may walk out of her home, leaving her unemployed husband sick in bed and her children hungry. She may be working and receiving an income, but the law does not insist that she devote a part of that income to the upkeep of her home, the care of her husband, or the support of her children.

Leading women joined yesterday in condemning this defect in the divorce laws and the alimony system in general. Lawyers and judges explained that, in marrying, a woman remains free to desert her husband and family at any time she wishes, whereas the man is bound to support his wife and family even if he is deprived of their company.

Court Order for Support.

The county judge, who hears non support cases involving the failure of parents to support children, or vice versa, might order a mother to support her children if she were shown to be financially able to do so, the lawyers said, and the husband were unable to provide for them. A decision of this nature could not be found in the records.

The remedy in such a case should be incorporated in the divorce laws, legal authorities said. Attorney T. J. McCormick, secretary of the Lawyers' Legislative League of America, revealed that he has drafted an amendment to the law which will be presented at the present session of the legislature, under which a judge would be given power to order a wife to pay alimony for the support of her husband and her children if the circumstances justify such an order.

"The divorce laws were drafted decades ago when a wife became practically a slave to her husbend when she married him," Attorney McCormick said. "There was, of course, no thought at that time that a woman should be called upon to do her part in supporting the family. She was a housekeeper, nothing more.

Law Still Protects Women.

"But with women competing with men in every line of endeavor, the divorce law still protects them as when they were but chattels. Having been placed on a par with men and given equal rights, women must incur the same obligations as men in marriage."

Mrs. Grace Fleming, county commissioner, asserted that she could not understand "a healthy woman accepting alimony."

"I think it is degrading for a woman to accept alimony from a man merely because she went through a marriage ceremony with him," she said. "I am speaking, of course, of the woman who is not a mother and is physically capable of supporting herself. I have only the deepest scorn for those unscrupulous women who marry merely to engage in the alimony racket and accept the marriage vows with their tongues in their cheeks."

Miss Matilda Fenberg, woman lawyer, asserted that a woman's obligation to support an incapacitated husband was just as great as the man's duty to support his wife.

Order Support of Husband.

"Only a few weeks ago, I represented an elderly man, Israel Wolinski, 83 years old, in the Probate court," she said. "He had set aside a fund of $20,000 for his wife before he lost all his money. She refused to support him, but the court ordered her to pay $150 a month for their living expenses. There was no divorce involved, but the principle is the same. It is only fair that the woman who is able to should share the responsibilities of marriage with the man."

"I am opposed to putting men in jail for non-payment of alimony," said Mrs. Glenn E. Plumb, county commissioner. "The whole economic picture has changed and there are very few professions or industries not open to women. Their opportunity to earn as much as men has entirely changed the picture and woman's responsibility is now as great as man's."

Miss Amelia Sears, another member of the county board, also declared her belief that a healthy, competent woman should support herself.

HALF MILLION LOSS IN DOWNTOWN FIRE AT CRAWFORDSVILLE

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Fire which started unexplainedly in the Goodman department store here today destroyed a quarter of a block of business property at Main and Green streets with loss estimated at more than $500,000. The fire was the most destructive ever occurring here. It was brought under control after three hours' fighting in which Crawfordsville firemen were aided by companies from Indianapolis, Lafayette and Danville, Ill.

Stanley Walls, a compositor on the Journal and Review, was injured when a falling wall crashed through the roof of the newspaper plant. He was taken to a hospital.

Falling walls hampered the work of firemen, several narrowly escaping death. Tonight the ruins were still smoldering and crumbling walls filled streets adjoining the fire district.

THRONGS VIEW BODY OF SLAIN TED NEWBERRY

Dozens of elaborate floral designs and high banks of cut flowers in the chapel at 704 South Crawford avenue last night surrounded the silver bronze coffin in which lay the body of Ted Newberry, gangster and victim of a gang ride. He was slain early Saturday and his body was tossed into a roadside ditch near Chesterton, Ind.

Through the late afternoon and evening crowds passed through the undertaking establishment to look for the last time upon the face of Newberry. At times a line formed outside. Observers said that the turnout indicated the funeral of Newberry would be the largest in Chicago gang history since Dion O'Banion's funeral in 1924. The funeral services will be held at the chapel at 2 p. m. today. The place of burial was not announced.

Newberry's widow, small and trim and wearing a handsome black fur coat, visited the chapel in the evening. She declined to talk even to friends who offered expressions of sympathy.

ASK LIFE TERMS FOR CRIMINAL FEEBLE MINDED

Experts to Present Plan to Legislature.

Construction of a walled institution to confine for life juvenile and feeble minded delinquents of the type of James [Iggy] Varecha, killer, rapist and Sigmond Bukovitz, robber and rapist, will be recommended to the state legislature by a committee of experts selected by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, director of the Criminal court behavior clinic.

The committee, composed of a group of psychiatrists, penologists, and criminologists, met at the University club last night and drew up three amendments to the present feeble minded act of 1915 to deal with delinquents of the type of Varecha and Bukovitz, who, after commitment to the state hospital at Dixon by the Juvenile court, escaped to commit rape, robbery and, in Varecha's case, murder.

Ask Permanent Confinement.

Under the first proposed amendment any feeble minded person convicted of a criminal offense under the Juvenile court act would be committed to the custody of the state department of public welfare and confined permanently.

Under the second amendment, such delinquents would be deprived of the leaves of absence, which are now occasionally granted, and of the right of parole. Under the third amendment the state department of public welfare would be compelled to bear the expense and responsibility for the return of any escaped delinquent.

To assure permanent incarceration of the delinquents, the committee proposed transformation institution, or construction of a new walled institution.

Site Available to State.

What the committee regards as an excellent site for a new institution is now available, it was pointed out by Dr. Andrew Harvey, chief surgeon of the Crane company and a member of the committee. The site is a 50 acre tract on a promontory jutting into the Illinois river at Buffalo Rock, which the late Richard T. Crane deeded to the state for any purpose the legislature might propose. The site, Dr. Harvey said, is entirely surrounded by water except for a ninety foot cliff on the neck connecting it to the shore.

Dr Hoffman was named chairman of the committee, which is expected to continue as a permanent advisory organization. Dr. Paul L. Schroeder psychiatrist of the University of Illinois, was named secretary. They said the committee's recommendations would be presented to the legislature soon. Other committee members are Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, managing director of the Chicago Crime commission; Prof. E. A. Sutherland, University of Chicago; Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon hospital; Dr. Peter Bassoe, Rush Medical college; Dr. Ralph C. Hammill Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene, and Benjamin C. Bachrach, Cook county public defender.

HAVANA, Jan. 10.—Adolf Spreckels of the wealthy New York and San Francisco sugar family was arrested today and released under a $1,000 bond when customs inspectors charged he had arrived here with a package of Marihuana cigarets [made from a narcotic plant].

Mr. Spreckels said he had purchased the cigarets in Mexico as a curiosity. After having learned that the importation of this class of cigarets was considered a crime in Cuba, he took the suspected package out of his luggage and threw the cigarets into the bay. Customs officers salvaged several for evidence.

NITTI BONDSMAN IS FINED $2,000 FOR CONTEMPT

Gives False Information in Furnishing Bail.

William Markheim, Chicago representative of the Public Indemnity Company of New Jersey, was adjudged in direct contempt of court yesterday by Judge Donald S. McKinlay in the Felony court. The judge indicated that he would fine Markheim $2,000 on Friday when the formal order is entered.

The contempt charge grew out of the scheduling of a $25,000 bond for Frank Nitti, Capone leader, on a charge of assault to kill Detective Harry Lang. The detective was wounded and Nitti was shot three times in a raid on the loop headquarters of the hoodlum.

Markheim, who signed the bond for the Public Indemnity company, stated that there were no judgments on forfeited bonds outstanding against h' organization. Investigation showed that a judgment of $25,000 on a bond ordered forfeited after the disappearance of Max Geisler, an alleged burglar, had never been paid by the Public Indemnity company. Records of the Criminal court revealed that the company had refused either to pay the judgment or surrender Geisler.

Nitti's Bond Canceled.

The bond of Nitti was canceled, the company was barred from scheduling bonds in the Criminal court, and Markheim ordered to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court. He offered as a defense yesterday the fact that the Nitti bond was scheduled in the Municipal court, while the judgment against the company was in the Criminal court.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty asked that Markheim be sentenced to one year in the House of Correction. He urged that the judge, by means of a severe punishment, serve notice on bonding companies that the courts would not tolerate illegal tactics. He pointed out that Markheim was literally a professional bondsman and knew the seriousness of a false answer.

"I agree that the situation is serious," Judge McKinlay said, "but I do not wish to enter an order that a reviewing court will reverse as excessive. I feel that a substantial fine would better serve the purpose and get at the company."

Fine Is Double the Fee.

He indicated that the fine would be double the amount of the $1,000 fee obtained by the company for the Nitti bond. Markheim was held in temporary custody when he was unable to supply the bond of $2,500 set by the court. Prosecutor Dougherty agreed to accept a bond of the Public Indemnity company if another representative would sign it.

Meanwhile Police Commissioner James P. Allman announced that the list of Chicago hoodlums is nearing completion. It will contain approximately 400 names selected from a list of 50,000 persons who have been arrested on various charges, the commissioner said. When the list is completed, Commissioner Allmann said, it will be submitted to Chicago policemen.

GOOD CLOTHES ARE HERE AGAIN

What! Good clothes in times like these, you say? Of course, you never really wanted to go in for the cheaper things. Of course, you have always believed in good clothes with a feel for fine fabrics and respect for a finely turned seam. But where could you get them for love or money (not too much money, please,) in times like these?

That's the reason for Fashion Center. That's why we opened the Fashion Center . . . why we got the designers and manufacturers to go in with us on this quality spree . . . to prove that you can get the best that is being produced today for only a little more than the dubious clothes of the bottomless price-campaigns of 1932.

Today, great artists are designing the fabrics. Dufy, the modern French painter, puts his vivacious ideas on silk prints. Today, great American designers are creating the clothes. Annette Simpson, who has such a genius for fabrics . . . Muriel King, William Bloom . . . all are creating clothes just for Fashion Center. To say nothing of the manufacturers and handwork industries revived in the past months to produce these really fine things you crave. And now Fashion Center is right on the scene, to show you that good clothes are here again.

NAME WINNERS OF "AROUND THE WORLD" CONTEST

Amie D. Parry, 3310 Fulton boulevard, was named winner yesterday of the $1,000 first prize in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE "Around the World" contest. The second prize of $500 went to Harper B. Miller, 309 North Marion street, Oak Park, and the third prize of $250 was awarded to Mrs. C. C. Chapelle, 1822 East Elmdale court, Milwaukee. The rest of the $5,000 in prize money was distributed among more than 430 others, according to the merit of their answers.

The game was to name each country interwoven in the lines of a cartoon, with a clew below the picture to aid the contestants. Thousands became interested in the game because of information required concerning the history of the many different countries. Several weeks were needed to study the answers. Neatness and manner of presentation decided the margin of victory between the persons with accurate answers.

Most common among the errors was in picture No. 40 of Latvia. Many of the contestants thought the picture represented the country of Lithuania. A number of contestants substituted Abyssinia, Arabia, Syria, or Danzig in picture No. 42. The correct answer is Hejaz. Netherlands was mistaken for Holland in a number of answers for picture No. 31, and others spelled Colombia with a "u" in picture No. 34. Following is a list of other prize winners:

Newest Shoes to Make Feet Appear Small

Discuss Styles in Footwear at Convention.

BY KATHERNIE KELLEY.

When milady's feet go pattering up and down the land this summer on errands pertaining to this or that, they may be shod daintily in smallish appearing slippers with rounded toe, short vamp, and not too high a heel.

Rumors circulating yesterday at the convention of the National Shoe Retailers' association at the Palmer house indicated that this "shortening" effect is designed to make women's feet look small again. At least that is what Elizabeth W. Penrose of New York told the women's style committee where the new developments in styles, colors, patterns and materials for shoes were aired.

Miss Penrose, using a chart, advised the committee to watch especially for the coming of four styles of shoes with rounded toe and shorter vamp. Pointing to one of the pencil drawings, that of an oxford, she said:

"The oxford will be elevated to a new importance and possibly will be the dominating model of the coming fashions. This model shows a saddle of crocodile with the rest of kid and has three eyelets. It has been noted that smart Parisian women are wearing oxfords with two to five eyelets for afternoon as well as for walking.

"Shoes particularly in the oxford category are trimmed on top, that is, there is apt to be an insert of contrasting leather around the collar and across the top of the vamp."

The second model Miss Penrose identified as an oxford-pump. This was a cut-out strap pump with the strap low across the instep, its tailoring inspired by the oxford. The model was of black kid with a metal buckle fastening the strap in the center, and designed for simple afternoon wear.

"The famous 'T' strap sandal comes this year in a moderately low heel," Miss Penrose continued. "From what we can discover, this is an American fashion and will be popular this spring and summer for town and resort wear. Subdued colors are appropriate for town wear, and white and bright colors for the resort."

As her last example, Miss Penrose pointed to the model of the high cut step-in pump of black lizard and kid. This step-in, she said, is the outgrowth of the success of the "monk" shoe which also continues as the smart type for sports wear.

Black in shoes still remains as the basis of the fashions with brown for suits and coats. Neutral shades, beige and gray will be popular. The shoe, she said, should be a little darker than the ensemble, that is, it should not match exactly.

The men's style committee, not to be outdone by the women, got together and predicted equally summery types of footwear for men. The new styles will accentuate lightness, according to George N. Geuting, Philadelphia, chairman of the conference.

Jesse Adler of New York, vice chairman, said that each pair of shoes in the newer styles will be from eight to ten ounces lighter than winter shoes, while other models are noted for their flexibility and perforations. Special leathers such as goatskin, make it possible to reduce the weight of shoes from 30 ounces to 14 ounces, he said.

The coming summer styles in men's clothing were explained by Robert Sneath, stylist for Hart, Schaffner and Marx, who brought a series of models to the convention. Plaids, checks and pattern material worn with contrasting trousers, will be popular.

'The Ten' Open Exhibition at Field Gallery

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The group of Chicago modernists who call themselves "The Ten" have opened an exhibit of their recent paintings in the Marshall Field galleries. George Josimovich is missing this year and Flora Schofield has been chosen to fill his place.

The exhibit is much like that of last year. It is curious how these painters, just as certain conservatives, tread a similar path from canvas to canvas. A good conservative picture or a good modern picture should contain at least the element of surprise. One likes to be forced to look; to have one's breath caught. None of these pictures give us more than a bare excuse for pause.

Charles Biesel takes most of the honors with his drifting boat through gray seas. It has beauty to commend it and a poetry of motion. Frances Foy gives us her gracious touch again in her quiet portraits of Mrs. N. and Mrs. Ryan. Emil Armin is employed still with swift lines and vivid, urgent color.

Frances Strain, Emile Grumieaux, Fred Biesel, Jean Crawford Adams, V. M. S. Hannell, and Gustaf Dalstrom complete the group; and if we find symbolic and abstract pictures too much for us, unsoftened by color or fine drawing, their catalog forward gives them reason and suggests the error in taste is ours.

Paintings by Louis Icart in the O'Brien galleries, 673 North Michigan avenue, have just been put on view and they are very lovely. "Les Visions Blanches" he calls the pictures, and they are that exactly—visions in white.

They are picturesque, romantic, dramatic, and beautiful. They come as a gorgeous contrast to the realities pictured by The Ten. If M. Icart lives in an unreal world it is preferable to a real. At least, it leads to dreams.

Post Revives Molnar Play at Blackstone

"The Play's the Thing" Is Effective Comedy.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING."

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The Blackstone theater seems to be the place where the lights and urbane comedies of this playgoing season are to be found. It has replaced the British merriment of "Springtime for Henry" with the Viennese mockery of "The Play's the Thing," written by the well known Franz [Ferenc if you prefer the Hungarian] Molnar with more than his customary deftness and mid-European cynicism. Guy Bates Post, veteran member of an almost vanished galaxy of stars, leads the company in a rôle which he inherited from the late Holbrook Blinn.

The American career of this play dates back a few years to the suave and aristocratic production in which Mr. Blinn did his last acting. Mr. Post, faithfully carrying the torch of drama on tour, has selected it as a vehicle which not only transports him into communities that haven't seen a "stage show" for the proverbial 'coon's age, but also permits him to escape from the melodramas and costume romances of his past.

He is now a light comedian with a Danubian mustache, a boulevardier's monocle, and a complete set of well phrased epigrams on the illusions of youth, the disenchantment of middle age, the light conduct of women, especially actresses, and kindred subjects always dear to the hearts of Austro-Hungarian dramatists.

"The Play's the Thing," for all its lightness and apparent irresponsibility, happens to be a decidedly effective play, and it stands up well under commonplace treatment. Mr. Post's air of portentous calm and deliberation, as he pulls the strings that make the puppets move in this bit of intrigue, does not cause one to pine for the swifter pace and more graceful touch of Mr. Blinn. It permits one, rather, to discover that here Molnar has written a piece with the stamina that justifies revival. Blinn was such a glitter of worldliness that one forgot the value of the play in dazzled observation of a virtuoso performance. Post gives the play a chance to speak for itself.

The story, to the accompaniment of theatrical shop talk, deals with an amorous boudoir conversation of audacious details, overheard by three authors at a house party. One of them happens to be an idealistic lad who is engaged to the tolerant actress on the other side of the door. To prevent a scandal or a tragedy and achieve a happy ending, Mr. Post, who is Author Molnar in disguise, undertakes to explain away the distressing incidents.

He sits up all night writing a one act play which contains the indiscreet conversation of the episode, and stages it, with its real life principals, at a party the next evening. The adaptation of the overheard dialogue to an entirely innocent plot is the cream of the jest and forms a waggish third act in which the humorous hand of P. G. Wodehouse, the adaptor, is merrily in evidence.

Mr. Post has a sound little company which contains, for leading woman, Katherine Standing, daughter of the eminent Sir Guy.

CAN YOU SOLVE IT?
BY H. A. RIDLEY

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Dr. Fordney is professor of criminology at a famous university. His advice is often sought by the police of many cities when confronted with particularly baffling cases. This problem has been taken from his casebook covering hundreds of criminal investigations.

Try your wits on it! It takes but ONE MINUTE to read! Every fact and every clew necessary to its solution are in the story itself—and there is only one answer. How good a detective are you?

THREATS FULFILLED.

Prof. Fordney studied the page in the appointment book of Ormond Loomis for Dec. 21. He was concerned with only two of the entries there—Feodor Pomanofsky and Boris Sedelovitch.

Loomis, wealthy manufacturer, who had received many threatening letters from communists, had been found by the factory watchman strangled to death in his office at 6:30 last evening. The watchman reported that heavy cigaret smoke was in the air, as if some one had just left. Loomis, who didn't smoke, had been dead not more than ten minutes when discovered.

As the two Russian communists entered his study Fordney noted the striking contrast they made. Pomanofsky, a tall, broad shouldered, clean shaven giant of the peasant type, was roughly, but neatly dressed. Short, fat Sedelovitch, with his unkempt mustache and heavy beard, was a self-styled intellectual.

In ten minutes the professor had reached some definite conclusions.

"Which of you left those Makaroffs?" he suddenly demanded, pulling from his pocket four snubbed out cigaret stubs smoked almost to the end. From appearances he knew they had not been smoked in a holder.

"What of it?" sneered Pomanofsky. "We both smoke that brand."

"Perhaps. What time did you leave Loomis' office?" he demanded of Sedelovitch.

"I told you I hadn't gone there at all despite my appointment. You see I thought something unpleasant might happen so I was careful not to be involved."

"All right, sergeant," called Fordney, 'arrest ————"

WHO? WHY?

See Borden-Carpenter Nuptials as Social Event of Season

Marriage Will Bring Union of Historic and Prominent Families in Chicago Society and Art Circles.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Over teacups, in drawing rooms and studios, the social world of Chicago was interested in one special bit of news yesterday. It was the announcement, forecast exclusively in THE TRIBUNE, that Mrs. Waller Borden is to be married to John Alden Carpenter, perhaps as soon as Feb. 1. The engagement, revealed yesterday, was almost a sole topic of conversation because of its social import as well as the romantic angle.

For many years the Wallers and the Carpenters have contributed their part to the bright pattern of the city's social activities. Both of the engaged people are cosmopolites, nearly as well known in Paris and in Mayfair homes as in New York and Chicago, and with records of numerous artistic and civic interests.

Through this marriage, scores of their friends were remarking yesterday, the two attractive daughters of Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Adlai Stevenson and Mrs. Robert Pirie, will become stepsisters of "Ginny" Carpenter, now Mrs. Patrick Champaign Hill of Fort Worth. The last named exhibits much of the talent and highly individualistic character of her late mother, Mrs. Rue Winterbotham Carpenter, who died suddenly in December of 1931.

For nearly a generation John Alden Carpenter and his late wife held a unique position in Chicago through their respective artistic bents. Mr. Carpenter is one of the best known of modern composers, his works including the "Song of Faith," "Patterns," and the "Birthday of the Infanta." Mrs. Carpenter's flair for interior decoration was hailed as genius, her designs being used in the present Casino club, the Racquet club, and the Arts club, of which she was president for a number of years.

Their penchant for attracting the most interesting of personalities about them made a rendezvous for a select circle of the Carpenter home at 700 Rush street. No couple enjoyed a higher standing in their own circle than these two, who had literally grown up together in the district of Dearborn street and Walton place, where so many Chicagoans of distinguished ancestry lived. The present Lady Lavery, who was Hazel Martyn of this city, was one of the closest friends of the late Mrs. Carpenter's girlhood.

Before her marriage to John Borden, capitalist, explorer, and sportsman, from whom she was divorced in 1924, Mrs. Borden was popular in Chicago as Miss Ellen Waller, daughter of the late James Breckinridge Waller. At his death in 1920 she inherited equally with her brother, James Waller, in the $600,000 estate.

A sister-in-law through her marriage is the author, Mary Borden Spears, who has lived in London since her marriage to an English army officer, and who makes frequent trips to Chicago.

Following the dissolution of his marriage, John Borden married Mrs. Courtney Letts Stillwell, who had previously been termed one of the twelve most beautiful girls in America. She was granted a divorce in Paris in 1924 from Wesley H. Stillwell, whom she had married in Chicago after making a notable place for herself in the national capital, where she made her debut.

Good Morning!

To a former Coloradoan, who, from the cradle, has been regaled with stories of the kaleidoscopic career of the picturesque H. A. W. Tabor, this picture based on his life, could not fail to be engrossing.

Here was a man who came into immense wealth [silver] through his grub-staking of a pair of down and out prospectors; built a million dollar opera house as a monument to himself, and has gone down in Colorado history as one of its most colorful, if most foolish and egotistical men. The Tabor Grand Opera house, with its Carrara marble from Italy, mirrors from France, carpets from Belgium, cherrywood from Japan, and, Tabor thought, mahogany from Honduras (it developed that he had secured title to a nonexistent tract for an enormous sum of money) still stands. But today it is a vaudeville and picture house.

Poor Tabor! He who desired to spend more money than any man in the nation! WHAT would he say could he know that the architects whom he provided so munificently with money that they might go to France for ideas, spent that money and their time in New York, where they had a rare old time while drawing their plans, never, so I understand, having glimpsed European shores!

Edward G. Robinson gives a satisfactory pictorial accounting of this not so bright but always lovable ball fellow well met. We discover Yeats Martin, as he's called in the picture, back in the days when Denver was St. Charles and Yeats became its first mayor. We follow the man along his amazingly lucky and easy way to wealth, the lieutenant governorship, the senate—and back down the short steep decline that led to disaster, but not oblivion—for the name of Tabor will live so long as there is a Colorado.

I can't speak with any authority on the private life of Tabor—one hears so many stories—but in Martin's life two women figure. Each of these he marries and each inspires your pity and affection. Aline MacMahon portrays the angular, devoted wife of the early days with sense and feeling. Bebe Daniels is the beautiful girl who loves Yeats later, and, though you may suspect her of being a huzzy at the start—loves him truly and stands by as loyally as did the first Mrs. Martin, when Fate elects to raze the Martin interests to the ground. The scenes between Yeats and Lily have been handled with unusual delicacy and perception.

"The Silver Dollar," well directed and staged, should appeal to all who are interested in the life stories of the country's pioneers.

Those, my friends, WERE stories!

Miss Vreeland Is Soloist for Great Concert

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Slowly but surely and as opportunity offers some of the items that Mr. Stock has put on his index of future events get up to the present and are performed by him and the Chicago Symphony orchestra. One of these came to performance yesterday, an excerpt from Arnold Schoenberg's monumental "Gurre-Lieder."

As it happened, it was the engagement of the greatly meritorious soprano, Jeannette Vreeland which coincided with the performance. Not yet has Mr. Stock been able to put on the piece as a whole, with its triple male chorus, its augmented orchestra and various other musical mountain ranges of Schoenberg's devising. Only a single solo could be used, but that solo was enough to show that when the entire composition is presented it will be a big experience.

Miss Vreeland sang the "Song of the Wood-Dove," a most deceptive title. For where one might have expected coolings and orchestral whispers and rustlings, what one heard was lofty, tragic drama, the note of impressive grief struck with a stern certainty such as it would be difficult to equal anywhere else in music. There is nothing maudlin about it—Schoenberg would seem to have had a complete understanding of the value of restraint—but it is unrelenting in its grasp of the drama of grief.

The three, Miss Vreeland, Schoenberg, and Mr. Stock made a deep impression with their combined arts and applause ran high. Later in the program Miss Vreeland returned to sing a group of three good songs by Thuille, Dvorak, and Marx, all with orchestral accompaniment, another performance of high rank, lacking only because they did not have the majestic urge of the Schoenberg composition. She will sing them all again tomorrow night and Friday afternoon.

For the orchestra Mr. Stock, with one exception, went in for familiar music, that one being the "Three Spanish Dances," by Eustasio M. Rosales, which he had introduced to the Thursday and Friday audiences earlier this season. They are uncommonly agreeable dance melodies worked out clearly and logically, and they, too, were greatly liked, Mr. Rosales being called to the platform several times. Elsewhere there came Smetana's "A Bartered Bride" overture in a stunning performance, Beethoven's Second Symphony, and the Bacchanale and Finale from Wagner's "Tannhäuser" overture.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Tonight was "ladies' night" at the Metropolitan Opera house. And it was quite a show.

For one thing, there was the first woman ever to conduct an orchestra before the "golden horseshoe." She was Miss Antonia Brico, making her debut in New York.

For another, there was the pretty, blue-eyed German fraulein of 17 years, Poldi Mildner, pianist, appearing in America for the first time.

Miss Brico, 28 years old, graduate of the University of California, who first wielded the baton with the Berlin Philharmonic orchestra in 1930, conducts with a delicate yet forceful hand. She received an ovation after the first number.

In her final number, Tschaikowsky's Fourth Symphony, Miss Brico used the original score of the Russian composer, sent to her for tonight's debut by her German teacher, Dr. Karl Muck of Berlin and Bayreuth.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE box committee for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's lecture on "Politics and Young People" on Jan. 21 at Orchestra hall under the auspices of the Illinois League of Women Voters reports that every box has been sold. This news is not surprising, with a speaker of such eminence and a committee headed by Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, assisted by such prominent women as Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. Melvin A. Traylor, and Miss Marie Rozet.

Boxholders include Mr. and Mrs. Strawn, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Goodman, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Bennett, Mrs. Edward F. Carry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham, Miss Elizabeth Conkey, Mrs. Gerhardt Meyne, and Miss Harriet Stuart.

Those who are sharing boxes are Mrs. Frank P. Hixon, Mrs. Traylor, Mrs. J. Lawrence Houghteling, and Mrs. Wayne Chatfield-Taylor; Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, Mrs. George H. High, and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey; Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Waller Borden, and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank; Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, Mrs. Albert A. Sprague, and Mrs. Dempster; Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter and Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson.

The lecture will be followed by a reception for Mrs. Roosevelt in the foyer of Orchestra hall, and afterward Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham will give a supper party for Mrs. Roosevelt in their apartment at 1500 Lake Shore drive. They expect to have about 50 guests and to invite Gov. Horner and Mayor Cermak.

Albert G. Simms to Visit City.

It is good news to Chicagoans that Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Simms (the former Ruth Hanna McCormick) are to be in Chicago next week, if only for a few days. After having been at their residence at Albuquerque, N. M., ever since their return from Europe last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Simms went east shortly before the holidays to spend Christmas with Mrs. Simms' daughter, Miss Katrina McCormick,

BARTER AND SAIL

By HENRY C. ROWLAND

SYNOPSIS.

Capt. Hiram White sails his four master ship, the Abigail White, in search of a ship filled with pearl oysters, sunk by a French captain before the world war in a lagoon in a South Sea island. Arletie Mordecai, the French captain's granddaughter, has brought him complete instructions for finding the ship. Arletie is accompanied by an English woman of title, known as Ladybird. In his crew are Adam Eden, an unemployed engineer, an unemployed French chauffeur named Raoul, Roberta Milibank, and Peter Cavan. Roberta's father died after his bank failed and Peter was his trusted employe. Benny, a cook, hires up for his keep. Ladybird, who is a naval officer's daughter, is made mate. Henery Shepard, backer of the venture, fills the boat with a cargo of his own choosing and makes profitable trades at ports en route to the island, where the sunken treasure craft is located. Capt. Hiram, Adam, and Peter take turns diving for the oysters. They have them all aboard when they are beset by a ruffianly crew of a strange yacht, headed by Capt. Derring, who turns out to be Ladybird's husband and aware of the sunken treasure. He demands the oysters and the diving rig. Peter, knowing the oysters contain no pearls and that the girls must be protected, advises giving them up, which Roberta interprets as yellowness. Capt. Hiram agrees with Peter. Derring boards the four master and orders his yacht to tow it out to sea, where the shell is transferred. Then Derring starts trouble and is thrown overboard. Before he can reach his boat he is attacked and killed by a shark. The crew again study Mordecai's directions and discover a secret code and that the pearls taken from the oysters are hidden in a cookstove on the sunken boat. But now they have no diving rig. They return to the lagoon and manage to raise the ship's bow where the cookhouse is located.

INSTALLMENT XLV.

TREASURE BEYOND REACH.

Adam did not specify whether he meant the strain upon himself or the strain upon the gear.

But Henery said, "I figure that the nearer the long axis of the lighter approaches the perpendicular the less ought to be the strain until she breaks the surface."

"No," cried Ladybird feebly.

"The more we increase the angle," Henery said, "the more the danger of the darn stove fetching loose."

"Henery," said Benny, "you take the words from out'n my mouth. That there cookstove is sot down in chocks and it wa'ant never figured that this tub would ever be cocked up at no such alarmin' angle. Unless on her way to bottom stern first. I'm in a cold lather lest any minute her oven door might bust open and let out them pearls."

Here was another dreadful possibility. None could say to what point erosion might have advanced. To make things worse they could see that the door of the cookhouse had swung open. What if at the next slight jar the whole stove were to topple over, slide out and fade away disintegrated into the depths?

Anybody who has ever dropped overboard from a landing float some object of value and fished for it with a rake perhaps lashed to the end of a pole may have experienced the breathless tension of seeing that article caught insecurely so that the slightest jar may dislodge it on the way up.

Any fisherman for that matter knows the cardiac tension of seeing through the clear water his big trout or salmon or tarpon alongside with the hook holding merely by a thin band of lip gristle. One may imagine then the nerve strain on these treasure hunters who had every assurance that this old cookstove so insecurely poised some dozen feet below the surface contained a treasure in magnificent pearls.

Adam groaned. "You've all got my goat. The old nerve has run out on me. I don't dare give the old donkey another jerk. Dammit, I can't start her without a jerk."

They all knew this to be the truth. A ship's donkey is not an Empire State building's express elevator in smoothness of starting. Also the inelastic steel hawser was merciless. There was no give to it as to rope. No yielding to the sudden strain the donkey put upon it. It started more like the middle van of a freight train, with a yank.

Peter groaned. "Why didn't I ever learn to dive like the other boys at the old swimming hole up stream at Millbank?"

"I swim like most Maine sailors. Just about long enough to catch a line," said the captain.

"I'd be a splendid diver," said Adam. "If only I came up."

They looked hopefully at Raoul.

He shook his head. "Me, once I was knocked down by a wave at Biarritz and nearly drowned. Since then there is only one thing of which I am afraid. And that is to get my head under water."

Ladybird said disgustedly, "For a crew of H. A. sailor men you certainly have all got chronic hydrophobia. I can fetch up a handful of bottom in two fathoms of water, but I never tried going indoors and exploring the cooking gear. However, if you'll bend a line round me and stand by for artificial respiration, I'm game to have a go at it. That is—— "

She turned white. Everybody understood. Then she went on caustically, "It looks as if the only diver we had aboard is Bobbs and she's taken a running dive into her cabin."

Peter said quickly, "Can't blame her after what she saw the other day."

"Well," said Adam, "this doesn't get us anywhere. 'To heave up or not to heave up, that is the question'."

Nobody spoke. Then Capt. Hiram said, "Let's try to hook something into the stove before you start up."

He looked down the deck as if for an idea when his gaze fixed and hardened. First Ladybird, then the others, followed its direction. Roberta had come down the ladder of the raised quarterdeck and was trotting towards them up the long sweep of deck.

She wore the scrap of swimming suit in which divers compete. As a garment it was negligible, the more so as Roberta had developed a good deal physically from the hard but regular life aboard. She wore no bathing cap, but her curly chestnut hair was held in a bandanna.

The lovely girl looked incongruous against the background of tremendous ship's gear. She was like a butterfly perched on the rim of an ore bucket. She would have been conspicuously pretty on any beach, but here she was pretty and at the same time astonishing and startling as if she had been a visitant from Venus, then the Morning star.

As she came closer this impression of her changed as one grew more aware that she was of the solid substance of a strong athletic girl. Her limbs were not tanned because people do not expose themselves to equatorial sun, but they had felt the rays through the light texture of her clothes and turned to a rich old ivory. Besides Roberta had that stamp of solid tissue to be seen on really strong athletes.

All of the men looked sheepish as she approached because her intention needed no statement. Here was a man's job and the only one to volunteer for it, a girl. Roberta had not even bothered to volunteer.

Before she came within earshot Peter said to Ladybird, "What was that about her diving into her cabin?"

"Nuff said. Take it all back and then some. But she really shouldn't be let."

"You bet she shouldn't. Not for all the pearls in the Pacific—— "

"No, siree—— " said Benny. He had a warm affection for his cheerful volunteer aid de cuisine, the one time pampered daughter of a manufacturing and banking baron, who had stepped out of her sort of life into this hard one with no perceptible change of gait.

"Not likely though," said Ladybird, "that any shark's going to swim over the deck of this lighter."

"Heh! Don't know why not," Henery said. "I suppose they bin swimmin' over it for the last fifteen years."

"Besides," said the captain in a low voice, "There might be a cuttle fish."

Nora Gregor Is Returning to Homeland.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Nora Gregor, famous in Germany as a film star, is returning there, still chiefly famous in Germany as a film star, after 20 months under contract at M-G-M in Hollywood. She is disappointed, feeling that she never has been given an opportunity to show what she can do, but that makes her situation like that of a dozen other foreign stars brought here under salary and suffering a like fate. Miss Gregor is returning to Berlin in a Max Reinhardt production.

Vilma Banky went abroad when Hollywood talkies proved inhospitable and now is reported as having a couple successes in the German language.

His rôle in "State Fair" finished at Fox's, Norman Foster is editing and cutting ten thousand feet of film he shot on a cruise around the world on a freighter a little more than a year ago. He shot practically all the film himself and is now doing his own technical work, cutting the footage down to six reels at present.

Frank Moran, who once fought Jess Willard for the ring championship, is making progress as an actor. His latest rôle is a featured part in "Bad Boy," co-starring Jimmy Dunn and Sally Eilers at Fox's. Moran plays a tough, wise cracking sailor. Miss Eilers is at a California desert resort at present trying to let the sun bake some influenza germs out of her system, and Dunn is so sick with the flu the doctors sent him home to bed yesterday.

There may be an idea for the young woman interested in spring styles in the outfit Constance Bennett wears in her new film, "Our Betters," at RKO. She sallies forth upon a spring morning in a two piece suit of light weight white wool; the coat three-quarters length with brown leather buttons and a brown sweater completes the outfit.

It was cheaper to haul real snow from Mount Baldy, east of Los Angeles, yesterday than to use the studio variety of make believe snow. Twenty truckloads were brought to the Radio-RKO's location site, near Encino, for the film "Sweepings."

Sam Goldwyn, producer, has sanctioned use of a song which Elissa Landi herself composed for a scene in which Miss Landi plays the piano for Ronald Colman in "The Masquerader."

Ten writers share the authorship of "The Woman Accused," just beginning at Paramount. The ten are: Rupert Hughes, Vicki Baum, Zane Grey, Vina Delmar, Irvin S. Cobb, Gertrude Atherton, J. P. McEvoy, Ursula Parrott, Polan Banks and Sophie Kerr.

Girl Wonders if Politician Is Good Husband

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Baby Face" is 22 and engaged to a man ten years her senior—a man with political ambitions, many, many acquaintances and friends, and of a disposition that will not be downed. He's getting on finely in business, apparently adores the girl and she him. BUT—

Being the busy, political minded young man that he is, he comes late for a date, has to stop and see men on business; when they do start out leaves "Baby Face" waiting in the car for a half hour while he's inside talking. His cheering indifference toward "Baby Face's" comfort annoys her. He is so assured, and not a little conceited, that he doesn't realize the meaning of the heavy silence "Baby Face" puts on after one of these affronted occasions.

On the other hand, he's a grand person; every one likes him and he'd stop to do a turn for a street cleaner as quickly as for the mayor of the city. What kind of husband would the young man make? is the gist of "Baby Face's" appeal.

The answer had better be treated from the angle of what kind of wife would "Baby Face" make for a politician husband? The qualities in the man that annoy "Baby Face" now are the very things that build him up politically. Seeing people, not appearing hurried with them when they stop to talk, and a certain buoyancy of character such as the young man has are his greatest assets.

If a girl throws in her lot with this type of man her best act is to play along with him. She can't expect the same standardized mode from him as from men whose workday is over at 5:30. She has to realize that plans she'll make will be subject to last minute changes, that political advancement has its price, and that, unless she is willing to see all of this before marriage, she'd better not take on the job.

at her country estate at Middleburg, Va. They are now in Washington and will arrive in Chicago next Monday on their way back to Albuquerque.

Their stay here will be a brief one, but it will be a busy one for Mrs. Simms. With Mrs. A. Harris Whiting and Mrs. Raymond E. Durham, Mrs. Simms has sent out 300 invitations to a tea on Monday afternoon at the Casino for Francis Mitchell Froelicher, headmaster of the Fountain Valley school at Colorado Springs, Colo. Mr. Froelicher will be in Chicago on his way east to attend an educational conference and his three hostesses are glad of the opportunity to entertain for him, as their sons, J. Medill McCormick, Graham Whiting, and Raymond E. Durham Jr., are all pupils at his western school.

On Monday evening Mrs. Simms is to give a dinner for Mr. Froelicher at the Casino. It will be a small affair, with the guests numbering about a dozen. Mr. and Mrs. Simms will probably leave for New Mexico on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Cradle Sponsors Music Series.

The musical given several weeks ago at the residence of Mrs. Charles G. Dawes for the benefit of the Cradle was so successful that the Cradle has decided to give a series of six "tiffin" musicals at the Cradle in Evanston, beginning next Wednesday morning and continuing on successive Wednesdays.

The musicals will begin at 11 o'clock and will be followed by a buffet luncheon. Amy Neil, violinist, and Agnes Botholdt Conover, pianist, will give the first program. Reservations may be made by phoning Greenleaf 5800.

Mrs. Francis Johnson, who's been busy speaking herself and sending speakers out in all directions as chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Chicago Friends of Music, Inc., is to give a tea this afternoon at the Casino for the members of her committee. Her assistants include Mrs. Howard Linn, Mrs. Howard Fenton, Mrs. Maurice L Rothschild, Mrs. Augustus W. Eddy, Mrs. Ernest R. Graham, Mrs. George Rasmussen, Mrs. William A. Yager, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mrs. Bryan S. Reid, Mrs. Melvin A. Traylor, Mrs. Jacob Baur, and Mrs. Edward Hines.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart Coonley of 73 East Elm street are announcing the birth of a grandson. The baby was born shortly after Christmas to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nickerson of Honolulu. Mrs. Nickerson is the former Lydia Coonley and the only sister of Mrs. Thomas I. Underwood [Frances Coonley Rawson].

Charles G. King in Hospital.

Malvina Hoffman [Mrs. Samuel B. Grimson] who is Mrs. King's house guest this week, has been seeing all of her Chicago friends, but there has been little time for any formal entertaining for her because she is too busy supervising the installation of her sculptured figures illustrating the racial types of mankind in the Chauncey Keep Hall of Living Man at the Field museum.

The annual meeting of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society will be held next Tuesday at a luncheon from 12:15 to 2:30 o'clock at the Fourth Presbyterian church. Dr. Arthur J. Todd, chairman of the department of sociology at Northwestern university, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. George R. Nichols Jr. of 1550 State parkway is chairman of the sale of boxes for the Radio Revue of 1933, to be held on Jan. 23 at the Chicago Stadium for the benefit of the Emergency Welfare fund.

Mrs. Lawrence W. Scudder of Lake Forest has been elected first vice president of the Garden Club of Illinois to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. William E. Casselberry Jr., who has resigned. Mrs. Casselberry and her children have gone to Redlands, Cal., for the winter.

Invitations have arrived from the Chicago committee of the Frontier Nursing Service, Inc., to meet Mrs. Mary Breckinridge on Thursday morning, Jan. 19, at 11 o'clock at the Drake hotel. Luncheon will follow Mrs. Breckinridge's talk.

Showing of Art Collection.

Invitations to the special view of the art collection of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Jan. 20, 21 and 22, at the Brewster residence at 2704 Lake View avenue state that connoisseurs will be present to answer questions about the collection.

The Brewster collection is composed largely of the work of the French artists of the 19th and 20th centuries. It contains oil and water color paintings, many drawings and prints, and small bronzes. It is much visited by connoisseurs from other American and European cities, and its canvases have been shown at loan exhibitions in New York, Boston, Paris and other art centers.

Tickets for the exhibition, which will be open from 11 until 6 o'clock each day, are $1.50, and the total proceeds will benefit the Chicago Public School Art society, of which Mrs. Brewster is president.

Miss Catharine Carton, whose engagement to Paul P. Swett Jr. of Hartford, Conn., was announced last Thanksgiving day, comes in to town from Lake Forest several days each week to attend domestic science classes. Miss Carton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Carton. Miss Julia Kramer, the debutante daughter of the Le Roy Kramers, is also taking lessons in cooking.

Father Fills Vital Place in a Child's Life

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"I am especially in need of help," writes a mother, "because my husband died a little over a year ago and the task of bringing up two small children is quite a formidable one. I wish you could impress upon the fathers who read your column how really necessary they are, if only as a rod for mother to lean on."

I wonder if fathers do realize their own importance—as fathers, I mean. I know many of them don't. And I also know this—that a great many women do not realize their huband's importance as a father.

Some men have a strong paternal instinct. Some just naturally gravitate toward their children, not only enjoying them but helping with the physical care of them. And they have, in addition, a keen sense of responsibility for their children's welfare.

Now, at the other pole are men in whom the paternal instinct seems to be utterly lacking. But in between these two are men who would be fine fathers with a little encouragement from their wives. The capacity is there, only it is dormant. It remains so because their wives usurp all the—what shall I call it?—paternal power and importance. The mother makes herself the "parents." She always refers to the children as "my" children.

Sometimes I think this is done because of her intense interest in them. But sometimes it is done to gather to herself as much importance as possible—perhaps she likes power. In any case she discourages the father. He feels like a fifth wheel to the family wagon. I've seen this happen with my own eyes. It is not wise.

Peanut Butter Bread Heads Recipe List

BY MARY MEADE.

Miss Meade will be glad to answer questions pertaining to cookery and the kitchen. For personal reply, send stamped, addressed envelope.

Today appears a few more of the many recipes especially requested by our guests last fall at the TRIBUNE Cooking School. First, for a couple of loaves of peanut butter bread which make most appealing luncheon sandwiches to go with a big fruit or vegetable salad and cups of hot tea.

PEANUT BUTTER BREAD.
1-3 cup sugar.
4 teaspoons baking powder.

Sift the dry ingredients together and add the peanut butter and blend as well as possible. Add the milk and beat till smooth. Turn at once into two small loaf pans, even the batter off, and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] for one hour.

Mrs. J. K. M. on the north side of the city also left a request at THE TRIBUNE Cooking School. She says: "I once ate a most delectable stuffed ham which seemed to have prunes and some other fruit in it and also spices. I should give anything to be able to find the recipe for this dish."

STUFFED HAM.

You will need one slice of ham, one pound of prunes, four apples, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, one-eighth teaspoon clove and two-thirds cup brown sugar. Soak the prunes an hour in cold water, then steam until tender. Cut the apples [with the skins on] and the prunes into a fine mince and combine with the sugar and spices. Spread this mixture over the ham slice, roll and fasten with metal skewers or tie with twine. Dust with flour and sear on all sides in a broiler. Bake in an open baking dish for one and one-half hours in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.].

One of our unsigned guests hoped we'd have a recipe for sweetened sauerkraut, popular with many German diners. I believe this is the answer she is looking for:

GERMAN SWEET KRAUT.
2 tablespoons bacon drippings.
Salt and pepper to season.
1-3 cup brown sugar.

Heat the fat in a frying pan and then add the remaining ingredients, stirring over a moderate heat for fifteen minutes, or until it takes on a rich, golden brown color.

Some one from the north side of Chicago wishes to have a shrimp wiggle, so here it is:

SHRIMP WIGGLE.
2 tablespoons flour.
2 tablespoons butter.
1 cup liquor from peas.
Salt and pepper to season.

Prepare a white sauce from the butter, flour, milk, and liquid from the peas. Season to taste and add the shrimp. Simmer for fifteen minutes, add the peas and continue cooking until very hot. Serve over crisp, hot crackers or toast strips.

For Slimmer Neck Line

Neckline Need a Little Help? Try Exercises

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I do hope you are keeping up the simple stretching work I gave you in the beginning of this series. I know some of you have, because I've heard from a number who have a new waistline already. And a new feeling of pliancy, a mobile efficiency.

Just as a reminder, do you treat yourself to a good stretch before you get out of bed? Stretch the arms overahead, stretch every muscle of the back, trying to stretch the legs longer—stretching till you "pull" all over? Do you walk around the house on tiptoe stretched to tallest height? Do you stop during your office day to stretch your upper body and head up very, very tall?

Do get these stretching habits! They make an amazing difference in your silhouette. Honestly. Stop every now and then in the day, bring your hands up from the sides to clap overhead, rising on the toes and stretching taller and taller. You will discourage fat most surely from settling on rib or waistline if you will only get the stretching habit.

Today I'm offering an exercise that will do nice things for your neck line as well as your shoulder line, bust and arms. Sit on the floor, tailor fashion, legs crossed, anyway. Let the head fall forward and bring the finger tips to the shoulders, elbows at sides. Now, lift the head and elbows easily, keeping the arms and neck slightly relaxed. Your head falls back while you rotate the shoulders and arms. If it is easier to do this with the legs straight forward, O. K. It's the upper movement that counts. Also, you can do it sitting in a chair, if you choose.

You can feel a pull on the neck muscles and the upper body with the shoulder circling, can't you? Let your head fall forward between the shoulder circlings to relax. Turn it to right and to left while you circle with the arms. This will give the neck more exercise. And you can see for yourself how the bust muscles are pulled in this exercise.

I'd suggest that any of the exercises that you can do from time to time during the day, dressed, be done. Just before you sit down to read, or when you have a minute or two free.

Set Precedents at Reception by Gov. Horner

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

State officials who visited the executive mansion frequently during the administration of former Gov. Emmerson found only one thing missing from the venerable brick house when they joined the thousands that thronged the inaugural reception of Gov. Henry Horner on Monday night in Springfield.

And that was the handsome marine painting that had decorated the west wall of the music room. Former Gov. Emmerson warned a month ago that the painting would accompany him on his return to Mount Vernon, for he presented it to Mrs. Emmerson as a birthday gift and it is among her favorite possessions.

Aside from the removal of this one wall hanging, however, there is little change to suggest that the mansion is once again receiving a new tenant. Gov. Horner is "at home" in the same well ordered household—with the addition of only a parrot and a cook.

In line with economy rather than precedent the well wishers and the curious who attended the reception filed up the state staircase, through the drawing room, the dining room, and out the kitchen door without so much as a drink of punch.

"And thank fortune for that," commented one of the officers in the middle of the evening. "Otherwise we'd be here at this time tomorrow night."

It is possible, however, that Chief Justice Oscar E. Heard of the Illinois Supreme court established a precedent at this reception with the suggestion that "all the deadwood" be removed from the receiving line. Informed at 10 o'clock that a line four abreast a block and a half long was still waiting, Chief Justice Heard and the wives of the officials elect left the line in order to hasten the greetings.

As the result more than twice as many persons were received between 10 and 11 o'clock than during the hour preceding.

But in spite of this crowd—unsurpassed for number in the history of receptions at the executive mansion—and there have been many since Gov. William H. Bissell moved in back in 1857—state officials agreed yesterday that an inaugural "at home" had never been run off in better order. In fact the order was so perfect, they pointed out, that National Guardsmen with crossed rifles held three members of the Supreme court with their wives at bay until the captain of the state highway police came to their rescue.

Fashion Trend Is Definitely to Feminine

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The midseason previews of fashionable female apparel, intended for fortunate unemployed with money jingling in their pocketbooks—the favored darlings who can swoosh out of town as soon as it snows or freezes—are collections that at least stir up plenty of comment and criticism.

Prowling indoor shoppers and goggle eyed window shoppers should be well educated in another couple of weeks, for some of the most glamorous things that have ever been hung in any window have been startling the female population these bright shopping hours since the windows were emptied of tinsel and gifts.

If these new airy things to pack in winter vacation trunks and cases are the best barometers of what we will wear this spring and summer, we certainly are going to be different, devastatingly effective and about as feminine as we have been in years.

Ruffles and more ruffles, flutings and flutings, yards of lace trimmed edgings, plenty of feminine white accents of organdy and pique, lots of soft velvet coats, sleeves that perk piquantly on each shoulder, dresses of stiffened organdy, soft layers of chiffon and some of the best looking cotton creations any summer gal ever lost her mind over.

The newest things in town are the cotton coats and jackets . . . look around and see these fascinating things before they are snatched from circulation. Look for the trim pique coats that top the candy striped organdy dance frocks . . . they are made with restrained leg-o-mutton sleeves that slimly accent the arm from elbow to wrist. . . they fit smoothly around a slender natural waistline and just as neatly and suavely around the hipline. Huge shining white pearl buttons in a double row are used for the double breasted closing device.

Very snug and skin fitting shorter jackets of white pique look like trig bell hop jackets . . they fasten with a dozen or so assorted buttons and do a grand job as the tiptop contrast for a very feminine and ruffled organdy gown.

Long white and a few offwhite shades of cotton fashion the newest sports coats, made with capacious patch pockets, swanky collar and cuffs and a belt. These white coats are what the knowing clothes hound wears over frocks, suits and sports clothes of dark colors.

Lovely blond corduroy coats have been unpacked in one shop . . . swagger three-quarter length beauties that look good enough to eat. They are loosely casual, with wide loose sleeves, a rather full backline and pockets and the inevitable flared collar.

If you like corduroy as you should, and realize just how smart and new this flattering fabric can be, you must shop for the newest corduroy two piece suits. They are very new and yet they are faintly familiar, because of their resemblance to the good old Norfolk suits.

These deep blue and cinnamon brown two piece costumes or suits are made with pockets, pleats, belt, and all the inimitable swank and good looks of the old time favorite. And they are just what you can put on, any time now, to wear under a snappy sports coat, and give your fur trimmed coat a rest.

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—We're going to have a satin springtime. Paris is sure of it. Black satin is already strongly fortified in fashions for evening. Vionnet has been making a big success with her satin dinner dresses, and Mainbocher has been raking in the smart woman with his frocks combining black satin and crepe. Redfern's black satin evening ensemble, with a coat that is laden with white fox, is one of the sensational styles adopted by the ultra-chic.

White fox, like black satin, comes back after an absence of a considerable number of years, and no more flattering couple ever existed to gladden the beauty of the average woman young, middling, or old.

PROBE OF RELIEF WASTE PUT UP TO JOINT BOARD

Commissioner La Buy Tells His Plan.

County Commissioner Walter La Buy's plan for the reduction of waste in the administration of relief to the idle was referred to a join committee of county commissioners and members of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission by the county board yesterday. Commissioner La Buy requested that the Sargent committee on public expenditures be asked to assist in curbing the mounting cost of relief.

La Buy's proposal is to place a large number of the most intelligent persons who are on the relief rolls on a form of earned relief. Their job would be to conduct frequent and thorough investigations of families on the relief rolls under the direct supervision of trained social workers.

"The case workers are so overburdened that they can investigate the families in their care only once in months," he said. "This condition has contributed to the growth of an enormous volume of fraud. It has resulted in considerable suffering for some families as well."

Outlines His Plan.

Commissioner La Buy outlined the salient points of his plan: Quicker investigation of all applications for relief, immediate investigation in emergency cases, and no relief to be granted in any case without an investigation; frequent visits to the homes of persons on the relief rolls to investigate the continued need of the family for relief and the volume of relief needed; abolition of the practice of writing names of specific grocers on grocery orders given to families on the relief rolls.

President Emmett Whealan declared that Cook county has become the dumping ground for the destitute of the middle west. He urged a close investigation of all applicants for relief to bar those who are not residents of Cook county.

County Members Named.

Mr. Whealan appointed five members of the county board to the joint committee to study the La Buy plan. They are Commissioners Peter M. Kelly, chairman; Maurice F. Kavanagh, William Busse, Amelia Sears, and Marie Plumb.

The members of the relief commission who will sit on the join committee are to be appointed by Edward L. Ryerson Jr., chairman of the commission. Mr. La Buy's motion that the Sargent committee include relief in its deliberations on public expenditures was referred to the joint committee, which is to meet as soon as Mr. Ryerson appoints the relief commission's representatives.

Find Evidence of Collusion.

The Cook county board yesterday opened 124 bids on contracts to supply more than 300,000 tons of charity coal. The charge that an attempt at price fixing would be made by southern Illinois coal mine operators and local dealers was borne out, it was said, by the great number of bids at $5.46 a ton. There were several lower bids, but whether they will meet the specifications drawn up by the county board was not determined.

The charge of collusion between southern Illinois coal mine operators and a favored group of local dealers was made on Monday by mine operators and dealers not on the favored list, and relief officials. The same informants asserted yesterday that the group bidding was changed from $5.66 a ton to $5.46 a ton yesterday morning, after the plan had been exposed.

Bids Range to $4.50 a Ton.

The lower bids ranged down to $4.50 a ton. Some of them were made with the statement that the coal furnished at such prices would be strip mine, central Illinois, or Indiana coal, all of which are ruled out by the county's specifications. Charity coal is now being bought for from $5.75 to $7.80 a ton, under the county's old specifications.

The bids opened yesterday are to be tabulated by Frank H. Chambers, supervisor of public service, and submitted to the public service committee of the county board, probably on Friday, Chambers said. The majority of the bids represent merely a deduction of about 40 cents a ton under present prices because of the omission of the "carrying in" requirement.

Range of Bidding.

The Reiner Coal company bid on nine districts at prices ranging from $5.02 to $5.18 a ton. The Wisconsin Lime and Cement company bid on 15 districts with a range of $5.26 to $5.51 a ton. The Moulding-Brownell corporation bid on eight districts at $4.97 a ton. The United Retail Coal Dealers' association, composed of small dealers, bid on five districts at from $5.11 to $5.16 a ton. The M. F. Hughes Coal company bid on four districts at $4.74 and $4.60 a ton, offering Indiana coal of specification quality.

Mr. Chambers said he plans to leave the interpretation of the bids, as to whether or not they meet specifications, up to the county board.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO HUNGER FUND INCREASE 100%

Gifts for Hot Lunches Reach $83.85.

Twice as many contributions to the Hungry School Children's fund were received yesterday as on the previous day. Yesterday's gifts totaled $83.85, indicating that there may be a return to the pre-Christmas daily average of $100 to $250, which is necessary to keep the fund operating in 100 public schools where hot lunches are being supplied free to needy children.

This hope was expressed by one contributor who signed himself "A Tightwad." In a letter accompanying a $5 contribution he declared:

"I hope you get enough of us to loosen up so that you will be able to carry on your good work."

Girl Scout troop, No. 48, sponsored by the Ravenswood Congregational church, decided to include the Hungry School Children's fund in "fulfilling our Girl Scout promise to help other people at all times," so they sent the fund $21.60.

"Instead of giving a circus or having a food sale they decided to raise their gift by a 'nickel shower,'" wrote Mrs. Brayton F. Shedd, their captain. "This was spurred on by the promise of a good friend that if they would raise $10 he would add another $10 to the amount. The Scouts therefore send $21.60. Of this $11.60 was raised by them a nickel at a time from their individual allowances and from contributions by 'their families and friends.'"

Among other friends contributing was Bessie Page, who sent her gift, she wrote, in the hope that her bit would help some child have a happier day, and the stenographic department of the Illinois Inspection bureau added to previous gifts. The contributions in full are as follows:

H. M. Blood, A Tightwad.
$4—Anonymous.
$1—Stenographic Dept. of Illinois Insp. bureau, Bessie Page.

Total	$ 83.85
Previously acknowledged	18,717.52
Grand total	$18,801.37

TRIES SUICIDE IN REMORSE OVER A THEFT

Stricken with remorse because he had stolen funds belonging to his employer, Earl Sullivan, 24 years old, shot and possibly fatally wounded himself last night in the Grant Park hotel at 1148 South Michigan avenue, where he was a clerk. His bullet struck near the heart. Beside him after he fell was found a note addressed to James Farrington, owner of the hotel, and Sullivan's uncle. In this note Sullivan avowed his thefts, asserted he had given the stolen money to his destitute sister and begged Farrington for forgiveness.

Eleanor Boardman's Charges Denied by Vidor

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Denials of the allegations of Eleanor Boardman, screen star, that her husband and another woman had engaged in improper associations were filed in Superior court today by the husband, King Vidor, screen director, and Betty Hill, named by Miss Boardman as co-respondent.

The charges of the actress were contained in a suit for separate maintenance.

Besides the answers of Vidor and Miss Hill, Charles Hiranval, a chef, was called to give a deposition, but his testimony was objected to by an attorney for Miss Boardman, and the question will be argued when the case is called for trial. Hiranval claimed he was a chef in the home of Harry D'Arrast, and through him efforts were made to show that Miss Boardman was a visitor there on many occasions.

GIRLS PRESENT CHARGES AGAINST POLICE IN COURT

Charges preferred by two sisters against Chief of Police Charles Novotny, Lieut. Alfred Young, and Policeman Wernicke, all of Stickney, and Paul Fayette, a salesman, of Berwyn, were heard yesterday by Magistrate Martin McGrath in Oak Park. The complainants are two colored girls, 14 and 16 years old respectively.

Chief Novotny and Lieut. Young are accused of malfeasance. Policeman Wernicke is charged with attempted rape and Fayette with rape. All denied the charges. Additional evidence will be heard next Tuesday.

The girls testified that on Oct. 3 four men in a car kidnaped them near their home, took them to Stickney and attacked them. They said Fayette was one of these men. They asserted that Lieut. Young and Policeman Wernicke appeared on the scene, questioned the men and let them go. They took the girls to the station, according to the testimony. There Chief Novotny and Justice W. P. Martin questioned the girls, they said, and put them under guard of Policeman Wernicke. One of the girls said he tried to attack her.

U. S. OWES JAILS $20,000 FOR ITS PRISONERS' KEEP

Debt in Northern Illinois 7 Months Overdue.

The United States government is approximately $20,000 in arrears in payments to counties in the northern Illinois district, eastern division, for the maintenance of federal prisoners, according to figures furnished yesterday by the office of Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer. The debt, now almost seven months overdue, can be cleared only by a deficiency appropriation by congress.

Most of the federal prisoners kept in county jails are those whose sentences are for less than a year. In the majority of cases longer terms are served in a federal prison. The federal bureau of prisons furnishes a list of approved jails and a federal marshal can send a prisoner to any jail on the approved list.

Daily Cost 75 to 85 Cents.

In all the counties in this district except Cook county the average cost per day of keeping a prisoner is 75 cents. The cost at the Cook county jail is 85 cents, but this includes medical attention.

All the county jails' bills for federal prisoners for the current fiscal year, which started July 1, 1932, have been paid by the government when due. The deficit was incurred during the fiscal year of 1932. If it is not met by the end of the fiscal year 1933 the counties will have to file claims in Washington.

The bill for federal prisoners in county jails in this district during the fiscal year 1933 was $138,960, including the unpaid balance of $10,423. During that time the average number of federal prisoners confined in such institutions was between 500 and 600.

Number of Prisoners Drops.

During the current fiscal year the average number of prisoners has been between 200 and 300. Increased speed in arraignments and a general decrease in prohibition convictions have lessened the expense. A majority of the jail sentences were for liquor law violations.

Most of the prisoners sentenced in the federal courts in Chicago are sent to jails in Lake, Kane, and Du Page counties. The Cook county jail is reserved for the confinement of prisoners awaiting trial. Other county jails approved in this district by the government are in De Kalb and Woodstock counties. Some prisoners also are sent to La Salle county and Kendall county.

Jaffee, Champion, Gives Tips.

This is the first of a series of articles on ice skating by Irving Jaffee, holder of three Olympic championships and the world's professional title, designed to aid all entrants in The Tribune's Silver Skates Derbies, to be held at Garfield park Jan. 21 and 22. Jaffee won the New York Daily News' senior Silver Skates in 1926, the Olympic 5,000 meters title in 1928, the Olympic 5,000 and 10,000 meter races in 1932, and the world's professional championship two weeks ago. He also holds the world's amateur record for the mile.

BY IRVING JAFFEE.

It was in the early winter of 1925, on the lowest east side of New York, in Al Smith's stamping grounds, that I first read of the Silver Skates events to be run by the New York Daily News. I had heard of the News' famous predecessor, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Silver Skates derbies, and dreamed of how it must be to win these Silver Skates championships.

That winter I was one of a crowd of 50,000 New Yorkers who witnessed these thrilling events at Central park. I had skated for a year up until that time, but never felt quite capable of entering these great races. However, I was greatly encouraged when I saw all the races run for younger boys and girls and made up my mind to try to become a skating hero, just like the winners I witnessed that day.

Seeks Training Advice.

The first thing I did was to get some advice on how to train properly, so I visited the rinks where the skaters trained and watched how they sharpened their skates, laced their shoes, how they strided and hundreds of other things that I later found were so necessary to practice and perfect to win those treasured Silver Skates, and also the national and Olympic championships I won later.

I learned, as we all do, and no doubt you will, too, not to be discouraged with my unsuccessful attempts in some of the first races I entered. Losing these first races helped me to find and correct faults and gave me an incentive and determination to overcome my lack of knowledge and still undeveloped ability.

The following summer I trained to build up my body in the outdoors as much as possible and prepare for a real serious challenge for a pair of those silver skates. The Silver Skates Derbies in New York, as in Chicago, are the blue ribbon event of the skating season.

Wins Silver Skates.

Apparently I trained properly and had my share of luck, for the next winter I won the biggest prize a skater hopes for, the senior Silver Skates. I accomplished this against the topheavy favorite, who had been predicted a sure winner.

From then on I developed the confidence and determination which helped me go forward. I found out that being the favorite in a race never guarantees your winning it and that every one in a race has an equal chance to win.

I believe I can analyze and give boys and girls who will race in THE TRIBUNE'S Silver Skates derbies at Garfield park Jan. 21 and 22 the benefits of the experiences and conditions which I met with during different phases of my skating career up to my winning the Olympic championships. I will try to analyze from day to day just how I trained and still do at present.

Size Doesn't Matter.

The size of a boy or girl really does not make a great difference in speed, as I have skated against opponents from 125 pounds to over 200 pounds and found if you apply yourself to racing properly and train right, you can overcome many obstacles. I weigh, skates and all when down to championship condition, 170 pounds. When I mention championship condition, it is important to realize that it is just as bad to overtrain as it is injurious to undertrain.

Usually, I train my hardest nine days before an event. For at least seven of these nine days I go through daily routines to the climax of my training period. The last two days are devoted to very mild exercises to store up the reserve energy one must preserve for the actual race.

Tomorrow Jaffee will tell Silver Skates seekers how to train for the races. Readers wishing information on any point in ice skating are asked to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Irving Jaffee, care of The Tribune Sports Department, Tribune Tower.

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

MAJOR league baseball is preparing for the hardest financial struggle since its infancy. Nearly all of the clubs have adopted programs of retrenchment in anticipation of reduced receipts. Salaries have been trimmed from Commissioner Landis down through the ranks. Most of the teams will get along with one less coach than heretofore.

Only one American league club—the Yankees — made money last season. Not more than three showed a profit in the National league. There is little likelihood of improvement this year unless through exceptionally exciting races or by showmanship.

There is evidence that more attention will be paid to the latter angle in 1933. The White Sox have added at least one colorful player—Al Simmons—and the Cubs another—Babe Herman.

Color is a loosely used word, but it will have to do until a better one comes along. It can best be explained by example. The difference between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig is color. Gehrig probably is the better player mechanically, but he never will attract the fans like Ruth. Why? Ruth has color.

Wrigley field patrons never will forget the way Babe kidded the Cubs in the third game of the 1932 world series just before he cracked the longest home run in the park's records. And they'll be talking for a long time about the remarks he directed at the Cubs' bench in reference to the way they split their share of the series' pool.

This indefinable attribute known as color applies to most of the great players the game has developed. Take Ty Cobb. He was the highest paid man in baseball until Ruth came to the front. Cobb deserved what he got on his artistic gifts alone, but added to these was a high sense of drama and an extraordinary individuality that made him an unforgettable figure.

It was Jimmy Callahan, old time manager of the Sox, who, I believe, said: "I never went for the fellow who smiled when he was called out on strikes or walked away calmly when the third strike was so close it might have been ruled a ball. That kind of a man isn't a fighter and a fighting player usually is a good player."

The Boston Braves will be a fairly good drawing card regardless of their league standing so long as they have Rabbit Maranville, one of the leading actors on the diamond. The Washington Senators always are a good attraction, due in no small measure to the broad burlesque of Nick Altrock and Al Schacht.

While baseball, of course, is a business it is at the same time sport and as such the magnates ought to encourage showmanship to stimulate their business.

TY COBB. BABE HERMAN.

Alex Barrowman, 7646 Drexel avenue, sent in the following comment: "Several days ago you referred in your column to one of the first games of soccer played in Chicago, which was between the old Wanderers and a team of Welsh coal miners from Braidwood in 1894.

"I am going to contradict you on the statement that the Braidwood team was made up of Welshmen. It consisted of ten Scotchmen and one Belgian. Of the Scotchmen only one, who happened to be my father, was born in this country. The Belgian also was from the other side. Every man on the team was a coal miner except John Walker, who was a merchant.

"In 1893 a picked Chicago team played a similar group from Canada at 37th and Indiana avenue, the Canadians winning, 2 to 0. The following Tuesday the Canadians played at Braidwood and were on the short end of a 5 to 1 score. The Braidwood players worked in the mines all morning.

"Only two members of this great team are still alive, Robert Barrowman, goal tender, and Anthony Culley, right wing. Barrowman is 65 years old and Culley, 67. I would like to see the following lineup printed in THE TRIBUNE so old timers could read again the names of a once famous team:

Half back—A. Cameron.
Right wing—A. Young.
Right wing—A. Culley.
Center—D. Young.

The winner of the match, Garden officials said, would meet Jack Sharkey in June for the heavyweight championship. Schaaf last Friday night knocked out Stanley Poreda, New Jersey heavyweight.

CORNELL GIVES UP ALL SPORTS BUT BASKETBALL

Spring and Winter Events Abandoned.

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Cornell's athletic council tonight voted to abandon all intercollegiate competition, except basketball, for the balance of the school year.

All of Cornell's schedules, both varsity and freshman, in wrestling, ice hockey, fencing, indoor and outdoor track, baseball, crew and lacrosse will be abandoned. Thus the Ithacans will not be represented in the Poughkeepsie regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing association, assuming that it will be held this year.

Want New Policy.

At the same time the council asked its policy and finance committees to work out a scheme for the "promotion and encouragement of the greatest amount of athletic competition not inconsistent with the terms of its earlier action."

2. Subject employees retained to a salary cut.
3. Maintain the athletic plant to the extent of preventing "uneconomic deterioration."

Informal Games Likely.

The action of the council in asking its two committees to study plans for promoting competition indicated that some informal games and meets will be held although the exact conditions under which they will be staged will have to be determined later.

The coaching staff will be retained and the coaches will be available to athletes for training and instruction, although the facilities will be greatly curtailed.

LOUGHRAN JABS LEVINSKY TO 10 ROUND DEFEAT

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight titleholder, tonight won a ten round decision over King Levinsky, burly Chicago heavyweight. Loughran scaled 187½ pounds and Levinsky 199.

Loughran moved far in advance in the early rounds. His stiff left bewildered the wild swinging King. With the start of the sixth, Levinsky, to an extent solved the style of his opponent, and landed several smashing hooks. He shifted his attack to the body and for several minutes Loughran was in trouble.

REVEAL WEDDING OF CONNIE MACK'S DAUGHTER DEC. 31

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Miss Mary Cornelia McGillicuddy, daughter of Connie Mack of baseball fame, became the bride of Francis X. Reilly, a neighbor, on Dec. 31, it became known today when the couple returned from their honeymoon.

The ceremony was performed New Year's eve by the Rev. Joseph Ulman of St. Madeleine Sophie Roman Catholic church. The couple spent the last 10 days in New York.

Both the manager of the Philadelphia Athletics and his wife, formally known as the Cornelius McGillicuddys, were at the ceremony, but it was not until today that the girl's mother announced the wedding.

Mrs. Reilly's sister, Ruth McGillicuddy, was the bridesmaid and the bridegroom's brother, John Reilly, was best man.

COLLEGE LETTER BOX.

DEAR WAKE: I suppose those two Iowa basketball players have violated one of the conference eligibility rules. In fact, from the statement of the case and the rule, it appears they have. But what puzzles us Hawkeyes is why it always is Iowa at fault and no other conference university. Can it be that the low price of corn and live stock out where the "tall corn grows" has affected our reason? Or do you suppose we don't understand as well how to break the rules without penalty?

Hawkeye.

Michigan's willingness to make a Rose Bowl football trip, despite previous opposition to such junkets by other elevens—and surely Wolverines would have made a much better showing than Pittsburgh—drew criticism. We of the Big Ten all know that Michigan has a record to be envied in football and other sports. Has that led to an ego and selfishness?

Let Michigan give credit to some other universities she associates with year in and year out. After all, we must realize that in this age a good education may be obtained at any of the Big Ten universities without developing a superiority complex.

I sincerely believe this is not intentional, but let us start from now on and practice a little more brotherhood and sportsmanship among alumni, students, and friends of all Big Ten members.

Dr. S. B. F., Purple '18.

Why in the world doesn't some paper somewhere give Carleton college a little credit for having a real honest to goodness basketball team? This little college has one of the finest records in the United States, but when they beat a Big Ten school, what happens? The larger school finds fault with its own squad rather than concede the victors more talent. Last season Carleton defeated Chicago, Iowa, and De Paul, then dropped a game to Minnesota at Minneapolis. This year it handed Wisconsin its first defeat, and Madison was the only city to give the little team from Northfield a hand for its feat. Bob Hill.

Souvenir.

I've worn my heart upon my sleeve
Soft breezes can be rough.

I'll put it in a little box
And lock it in my breast;
Then nothing more can hurt my heart,

Perhaps I'll see a doctor first,
And if my heart is broken
I shall not care to keep it—
Do you want it for a token?

Reductions!

We have received notice from a Miami Beach hotel, patronized for a brief period in more affluent days, of a "marked reduction" in rates to "$9-$15 per day for single room" and only $3 daily for golf at La Gorce." The only thing that prevents our packing up and starting right out tomorrow is the $9-$15 daily for single room and $3 daily for golf.

IOWA REQUESTS MAIL BALLOT ON BREAK, BLACKMER

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa athletic council will take immediate steps toward the reinstatement of Ed Break and Ivan Blackmer, suspended varsity basketball players, Dean C. C. Williams, chairman of the council, announced today.

Break and Blackmer were disbarred by the Western conference eligibility committee following the presentation of evidence that they had played last season with an independent basketball team in Cedar Rapids.

The decision to apply for a removal of the ban followed a telephone canvass of the council members, which eliminated the necessity of calling a special meeting. Reports of the cases of both players were mailed to conference members today. A favorable reply from seven of the nine other schools would return Break and Blackmer to good standing.

An aftermath of the announcement from the eligibility committee that the ban on Break and Blackmer would stand was the appearance of an editorial today in the Daily Iowan, student newspaper. It asked for the resignation of the members of the Iowa athletic council. The members, in addition to Dean Williams, are Profs. F. H. Higbee and Henning Larson.

Yale Full Back Weds in Secret; Will Quit School

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The marriage of Betty Gerard, a niece of James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and Walter B. Levering, Yale full back, was announced today by Mrs. Levering's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian M. Gerard.

BETTY GERARD.

The announcement said the marriage took place on June 6, last. Mrs. Levering, who was introduced to society in December, 1929, is a graduate of the Todhunter school, where she studied under Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Levering, who has played on the Yale varsity team the last two seasons, is a son of Mrs. Laura B. Levering of Greenwich, Conn., and the late Richmond Levering, oil operator.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Buxbaum could't be mistaken for anybody or anything except a member of the prize fight industry. He could easily be spotted as such in the biggest jam that ever took place at State and Madison streets.

Nearly 25 years ago he was a sparring partner for Abe Attell, then the featherweight champion. He fought important battles under different names. He watched Johnny Kilbane dethrone Attell in California in 1910. He has been at one boxing job or another ever since.

The years have taken their toll, still no one can allege that Sam' eyesight is bad. So what he had to say about the present day featherweight champion had some weight with the folks in the back room after Paul's tuning up work for the defense of his title on Friday night.

Sam probably will never be welcome at future meetings of the old time fistic association. The members of this organization do not like to believe that a robust kid of 1932 should even be compared to such great guys as Kilbane, McGovern, Attell, and the other idols of yesterday.

So Sam crossed up his cronies when he blurted right out in open meeting and remarked that he couldn't get away from the opinion that Paul might be just as good as Kilbane, Attel, or any of the others, even in their palmiest days.

"If he isn't as good, he's the closest thing to them I've ever seen," he added.

Sam isn't connected in any way with Paul or any of his stablemates, as far as this correspondent could learn. Neither is he financially interested in a big attendance at Friday evening's melee, our operatives report. So what Sam was saying seemed to be coming right off his chest.

Paul Must Be Good.

"The old time featherweights could feint masterfully; they could counter punch; and there was dynamite in their blows. Their punches were accurate and straight. This new champion has been showing me that he can do all these things about as well as Kilbane and the others did when they were at the top of the heap."

The old time fighting man thinks Paul may be even a harder puncher than Attel was. He believes he will soon be good enough to have outboxed Kilbane, but Sam doubts if Paul could outpunch Johnny.

While the ring veteran was speaking this flattering piece about the champion, the stock of Freddie Miller, the challenger from Cincinnati, was beginning to boom over at Trafton's gym where he engaged in even a more strenuous drill than Paul went through.

There was reason for Miller's hard work for his extra pounds haven't been coming off as he expected and even after yesterday's workout he weighed 127½ pounds. This is a pound and a half more than the featherweight limit of 126. Paul scaled only 125 pounds at the end of his workout, so there are no weight worries in his camp.

IN TITLE BOUT

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The New York Americans entered a three-way tie with Ottawa and the Montreal Maroons for second place in the international division of the National Hockey league tonight by defeating the Chicago Blackhawks, 3 to 1.

After a dull first period, the teams opened up in the second, gathered momentum after the Americans had scored half way through the period and finished with a burst of wide-open hockey. Chicago used a five man attack throughout the last ten minutes, but each thrust was successfully stopped by Roy Worters, New York goalie.

Worters' performance was the big feature of the game. The game was remarkably clean, only one penalty being called against each team.

Game Starts Slowly.

The game opened with both teams on the defensive. Bill Brydge was the only man to pierce to the back lines during the first few minutes. Chicago's second line opened fast and Couture slipped in to the goal mouth then lost a chance to shoot as Phillips batted the puck off his stick. Couture retaliated with two hard shots.

Jackson stole the puck out of a mid-ring struggle and made a neat long shot just as Abel tripped him to incur the first and only penalty. The Americans showed a lack of coordination as they rushed in and did not threaten to score.

Gottselig took a loose puck behind the cage, skated out and, unmolested, took aim, but Ayres deflected his shot, as the period ended.

Play Speeds Up.

The Americans opened the second period with a rush, Sheppard's pass to Wasnie nearly scoring. Then Cook slipped a pass to March for an open shot. Worters came out to turn it so the puck dropped a few inches to the side of the cage.

Jackson recovered the puck and with Martin came back fast. They missed a goal by a matter of inches and a fine stop by Gardiner.

A burst of unusual speed followed, but it was a comparatively slow play that finally scored. Sheppard shot from the middle of the attacking zone. Gardiner flattened to stop the drive. Wasnie was in close, stopped the rebound and shot at an angle under the falling goalie's arms, giving the Americans a goal lead.

Americans Score Again.

Himes made another attempt a moment later and Gardiner had his wind knocked out as he plunged out to stop the play. The puck landed almost on the line of the goal mouth.

Worters made a spectacular stop to open the third period action after March had slipped past the New York defense for an open shot. Worters came out to block the shot and spilled March.

Then Dutkowski broke loose from another midrink scrimmage while the Hawks were looking for a chance to make some substitutions, went down the right side past the defense, feinted Gardiner out and drove the puck into the net. The Hawks protested that he had been offside, but their claim was disregarded.

Himes tried a long shot and the puck bounced off Couture's forehead, but Art continued to play. The Hawks sent four men down, but were closely covered.

One Settles It.

As the Hawks threw five men into a raid, Thompson worked into position for a shot, but was stopped by Worters.

In the final seconds of the game, Himes stole the puck away from the Hawks, went down all alone and beat Gardiner with a short shot, delaying until the goalie dropped and then pitching behind him.

RANGERS LOSE 3 TO 2 BATTLE TO MAPLE LEAFS

Bruins Skate Through Senators, 3-2.

TORONTO, ONT., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs nosed out the New York Rangers, 3 to 2, in a National Hockey league game tonight. The Leafs gained a two goal lead in the second period on tallies by Ace Bailey and Happy Day, and then withstood a number of determined Ranger thrusts in the third period. The Rangers beat Lorne Chabot for one goal in the last period.

A free for all fight developed in the second period. It started when Bill Cook and Red Horner traded punches and in a minute all had joined in the action. When the excitement died down, Cook and Horner drew double major penalties. Neither will be eligible for action in his team's next game as each now has acquired three majors. Lineup:

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins beat the Ottawa Senators in overtime tonight, 3 to 2. Dit Clapper gave the Bruins their first victory in five starts when in the overtime he picked up a loose puck in front of the Bruin bench, raced to the end zone, and then cut in to whip it past the bewildered Senator goalie, Beveridge.

184 Tee Off in Aqua Caliente $7,500 Open

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex., Jan. 10.—(AP)—One hundred and eighty-four golfers were ready tonight to tee off tomorrow in the fourth annual Agua Caliente open tournament, which this year is worth $7,500, the largest purse of the winter season.

Some of the color faded from the tournament yesterday when Gene Sarazen, British and American open champion and winner of the first Agua Caliente open, was taken ill with influenza in Los Angeles. But the largest field in the history of the tournament should keep it from being drab.

Revise Prize List.

The revision was made at the suggestion of a majority of the professionals competing. Under the new arrangement first money will be $1,500 instead of the original $2,500, with the lesser prizes increased accordingly. The new prize list is as follows:

First, $1,500; second, $1,000; third, $800; fourth, $700; fifth, $600; sixth, $500; seventh, $450; eighth, $400; ninth, $350; tenth, $300; eleventh, $200; twelfth, $150; prizes 13, 14, and 15, $100 each; 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, $50 each.

Wood Is Choice.

Fred Morrison, Pasadena professional, who won the tournament last year when it paid $15,000 in prizes, will defend his title. Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., whose well nigh perfect game has brought three tournament victories in quick succession, will lead Morrison's opposition.

Wood's victory yesterday in the $5,000 Los Angeles open, which he finished with a 72 hole score of 281, three better than par, firmly established him as the favorite, without considering his victories in the Pasadena and San Francisco tournaments.

No one has won two Agua Caliente tournaments, although Sarazen finished second last year after winning in 1930, when the prize money totaled $25,000. George Von Elm, Johnny Golden, who tied for first place in 1931, and Morrison will try to break the rule this year.

Diegel Is Threat.

Among the topnotch contenders, Diegel cannot be counted out in advance. cannot be counted out in advance. Leo tied with Willie Hunter of Los Angeles for second place in the Los Angeles open and appeared to be reaching the top of his game.

The tournament will begin at 8 a. m. tomorrow. Eighteen holes will be played each of the four days.

Kieckhefer to Rest Until Cue Meet Opens

Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, world's champion, who will defend his title in the three-cushion billiard tournament starting next Monday at the 131 South Wabash Avenue Recreation, will leave tomorrow for Milwaukee, where he will rest for a few days prior to the opening of the long grind of 45 games.

When asked concerning his chances of retaining the crown for another year Kieckhefer replied: "I am not making any predictions. So far as I have been able to learn all of my opponents have been through serious practice and many of them have shown considerable improvement over their play of last year. I understand Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia, who finished as runner-up last year, predicted the other day that Johnny Layton would be my most dangerous opponent.

He Respects Reiselt, Too.

"While I respect the billiard ability of Johnny," the champion went on to say, "I am not overlooking Otto himself, and I also am aware of the showing made by Welker Cochran, the balkline star of Hollywood, Cal., and young Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Cal., as well as the 'old war horse,' Frank Scoville of Buffalo, the three of whom turned in a grand average of 1.000 or better during the recent sectional semi-finals. I also realize that Allen Hall and Art Thurnblad, whom I defeated last year for the title, have improved their game.

Veterans Are Formidable.

"Both Tiff Denton of Kansas City and Clarence Jackson of Detroit, Mich., are veterans with the cue, and I regard them also as serious contenders for the crown."

Clark, Ping Pong Champ, Meets Five Players Today

A crowd of 800 saw Coleman Clark, national ping pong champion, engage five ranking players from the Interfraternity club at A. J. Spalding company, 211 South State street, in a series of exhibitions yesterday. Clark's opponents, who will meet him today and again tomorrow between 1 and 2 o'clock, were D. A. Kittermaster, D. W. McEwan, J. R. Leininger, Robert E. Clark, brother of Coleman, and George Littell. The matches are open to the public.

LEADING WINTER GOLFER

Craig Wood, professional golfer from Deal, N. J., has been the leading tournament winner this winter, capturing the Pasadena, Los Angeles and San Francisco open meets. In the Pasadena tourney his 278 bettered par by 6 strokes for 72 holes.

RIPLEY ENTERS HOSPITAL WITH THROAT TROUBLE

Vic Ripley, forward on the Chicago Blackhawks hockey team, entered Waukegan hospital yesterday, where he will be placed under observation. Ripley, who is suffering from a throat ailment, is expected to remain in the hospital for several weks. According to Dr. H. E. Meacham, Hawks' physician, Ripley probably will be forced to undergo an operation.

Ripley has been under the care of Dr. Meacham for the last three weeks. He failed to respond to treatment and Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Hawks, suggested that Ripley be placed under the care of specialists.

STAGG LEAVES HOSPITAL TODAY FOR TRIP HOME

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Almost entirely recovered from an attack of influenza and bronchial pneumonia, Amos Alonzo Stagg, former football coach of the University of Chicago, will leave the hospital tomorrow for his home in Chicago. He was out of bed at 6 o'clock this morning apparently as healthy as ever, after two weeks in the hospital.

NORTH SHORE AND RIDING CLUB POLOISTS MEET

The Chicago Riding club, led by Capt. Maxwell M. Corpening, will meet the North Shore Polo and Hunt club, captained by Herbert J. Lorber, Saturday night at the 124th Field Artillery armory, Cottage Grove avenue and 52d street, in the second round of the Metropolitan Indoor Polo league tournament. BRR! ILLINOIS LAW BARS ICE FISHING SHANTY

But You Can Use Your Car for Shelter.

BY BOB BECKER.

No shanties, tents or shelters of any kind can be used by ice fishermen in Illinois, thus the hardy anglers who want pickerel, perch, or crappies in the heart of winter must expect to "take it" as far as cold and wind are concerned.

This regulation prohibiting shelters in ice fishing makes the sport more elemental in Illinois and also helps produce a fine crop of chilblains. It also deals a blow at the boys who would like to crouch near a warm oil stove and plunge long tined spears through the ice at big pickerel. With no wind proof and light proof ice shanties allowed, the game of ice fishing in Illinois is an open and above board sport. Wardens making the rounds to check on the anglers can see in a jiffy the outfits being used.

May Use Autos as Shelters.

Although warm shelters are prohibited there is nothing in the law against driving your automobile out on the ice and using it for heating purposes on a cold day. The other day when we visited several of the lakes near Antioch and Fox Lake the weather was fairly mild and the ice wasn't as thick as it was in December during the 10 below zero wave. Therefore we didn't see a car on the ice. But during the cold wave you could have seen automobiles parked on the ice and being used as refuges from the cold and wind during the day. When it is zero or below not even an ice fisherman wants to stay out for five or six hours without an occasional opportunity to thaw out his joints and his stiff fingers.

The city dweller who wants to try this game of fishing through the ice in the northern Illinois lake country will find Fox and Marie lakes good bets. The other day one bay at the northern end of Marie lake proved especially good for pickerel. The fishermen who had their lines set were fishing just outside of a big weed bed, about 250 yards from shore. We could look through the holes cut in the ice and see the bottom of the lake about five feet below us.

Rig Up Strike Signal.

Three fishermen had rigged up contrivances which signaled when a fish struck. They laid a small pole across the open fishing hole. Around it was bent a thin piece of wire. To one end of this wire was attached the line and minnow baited hook. On the other end of the wire was fastened a piece of paper. When a fish grabbed the minnow it pulled one end of the wire down and sent the other up into the air about a foot and a half, thus signaling all of us to come on the run. When you have about 15 of these fishing holes operating and the fish are biting it keeps you galloping around on the slippery ice answering these paper signals.

Ski Winners to Get Shoes, Food and Hats

Does anybody want a pair of shoes, a case of canned corn, a suit of clothes, a hat or a sack of potatoes? This is the way the winners of the annual Norge Ski club tournament at Cary, Ill., will be rewarded. The officials of the club yesterday decided to abolish the customary medals, since several Norwegians pointed out that medals do not make a delicate dish.

While the officials went shopping yesterday the snow, which will be imported from northern Wisconsin, was being loaded into freight cars. It will probably arrive Friday. Lack of snow in the Chicago district has forced officials to import it. The slide will be packed Saturday.

Leading jumpers in the United States, including Casper Oimen, who has won six consecutive meets in Chicago; Anton Lekang, national champion, and Lemoine Batson, member of the United States Olympic team, have entered the meet.

Miss Johanna Kolstad, rated as the leading woman skier in Europe, who will give an exhibition during the tournament, will arrive tomorrow for her American debut.

JUDGE H. J. TAYLOR TAKES HORNER'S PLACE ON BENCH

In Effingham Court for Six Years.

County Judge Harold J. Taylor of Effingham was appointed judge of the Cook county Probate court yesterday to succeed Gov. Henry Horner. Probate Clerk Mitchell C. Robin, who made the appointment, said that Judge Taylor was the choice of Gov. Horner. The new appointee has been assisting in the Cook county court for the last year and has acted in Judge Horner's place for a week or two each month.

Judge Taylor was graduated at the University of Illinois law school in 1924. He is 33 years old and has been judge of Effingham county for the last six years. Unless there is legislative action to permit the election of a probate judge in June, Judge Taylor will have charge of the Probate court until December, 1934.

Salary $12,500 a Year.

His salary will be $12,500 a year, which represents the regular salary of $15,000 minus a 15 per cent reduction under the county emergency program. He also will receive $2,500 yearly from Effingham county, and will continue to hold both judgeships. Judge and Mrs. Taylor are living at the Versailles hotel, 5234 Dorchester avenue.

Judge Taylor is the son of Frank Taylor, veteran Effingham attorney. At the time of his election as county judge in Effingham six years ago he was said to be one of the youngest persons ever to hold a judicial position in the United States.

Nomination of Judges.

Clerk Robin explained yesterday that the judges to be chosen in June are nominated by convention, while the law requires that the probate judge must be nominated at a primary. In case legislation is adopted to allow the probate judge to be nominated by convention, Judge Taylor will not be eligible for the office because he will not have fulfilled the residence requirements by that time.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—A strong tone continued in the bond market today, with improvement most manifest in foreign and speculative domestic issues. Rising prices among lower grades of corporate issues reflected a branching off of investment demand from best quality obligations.

Publication of the unfilled order report of the Steel corporation, showing a smaller drop than generally expected, helped sentiment toward speculative grades. Foreign issues benefited by the rise of optimism toward German and other groups.

Government Issues Slow.

United States government securities were sluggish, affected both by the apparent inability of congress to make progress toward balancing the budget and by the fear that the member bank statements, to be published Friday will show that the reserve system has let its holdings of governments drop.

Miscellaneous domestic industrial bonds showed substantial rallies, reflecting the increase of speculative activity in the hope of a better than seasonal improvement in business.

New York Central Buoyant.

Improvement in speculative rail liens was notable. Bonds of New York Central were buoyant owing to the favorable earnings report anticipated for the year 1932.

Improvement in foreign bonds was most marked in German issues and in miscellaneous speculative bonds of South American countries.

Offer First Issue.

The Lowell Gas Light company will today offer an issue of $650,000 of 5½ per cent first mortgage bonds through Halsey, Stuart & Co. It is the first mortgage financing in the history of the company which supplies gas service to Lowell, Mass., and 8 nearby communities. The company is 80 years old.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Crude rubber futures closed steady January, 3.15c; March, 3.27c; May, 3.36c; July, 3.43cA. Smoked ribbed spot closed 3.17Nc.

Detroit Edison.

Will you kindly give me information on Detroit Edison bonds? Are they, in your opinion, sound?—Mrs. S. C.

Detroit Edison company furnishes electricity to a compact territory of 4,500 square miles in Detroit and vicinity. Population served is estimated to be 2,268,000. It also furnishes some gas, but 95 per cent of revenues is from sale of electricity. North American company at the close of 1931 owned 18 per cent of the outstanding common stock.

The company operates in a highly industrialized area. About 40 per cent of output is for industrial consumption. Automobile manufacturers are the chief consumers, being followed by manufacturers of chemicals, paper goods and clothing. About 15 per cent of output is for residential purposes. 10 per cent for municipal railway and other utility services and about 15 per cent is lost in distribution.

The large proportion of electricity consumed for industrial purposes has made gross revenues sensitive to business conditions, especially in the automobile industry. To counteract that the management has waged a campaign to increase use of electricity for residential purposes.

Operating revenues for the twelve months to Nov. 30, 1932, were $44,469,000 and fixed charges were earned 2-12 times. For the preceding twelve months operating revenues were $49,576,000 and fixed charges were earned 2.89 times.

Operating revenues for 1931 were $49,233,000, against $53,707,000 for 1930, $56,558,000 for 1929 and $52,558,000 for 1928. Fixed charges were earned 2.92 times in 1931, 2.86 times in 1930, 3.27 times in 1929, and 3.26 times in 1928.

There is no fixed depreciation rate. In the past depreciation figures have tended to increase in good times and decrease in periods of lower revenues. This has served to stabilize earnings. Depreciation, in addition to regular maintenance charges, was $4,000,000 in 1931, $6,900,000 in 1930, and $7,400,000 in 1929.

On Aug. 31, 1932, current assets were $14,664,000, and current liabilities were $4,871,000. Funded debt was $129,000,000. All bonds now outstanding are secured by a first mortgage on all properties of the company. The bonds are sound.

MARKETS SOAR AS TRADERS SEE CHEERY FUTURE

BY HOWARD WOOD.

A wave of buying that sent wheat above 50 cents for the first time in nearly two months yesterday extended into other markets and resulted in the best all around advance in many months.

Not since late summer, when confidence began to improve and prices were recovering from the panicky June lows, had there been so broad an advance on all fronts.

The bulge in wheat came late in the day. Desultory early trading had brought little price change. Then came a rush of orders that sent prices up 3 cents a bushel from the day's lows. At the close wheat was 6 cents above the December close.

Stock Market Soars.

The stock market followed with a rush of buying in the final hour after a dull morning. Sales during the last fifty minutes approximated 600,000 shares.

U. S. Steel's unfilled tonnage statement, which showed only a nominal decline, was regarded as bullish. Steel preferred gained 4 points and the common advanced more than 2 points.

Optimism spread into the bond market where the averages advanced on a volume a little better than normal. Cotton added 45 to 75 cents a bale to its market price.

In each market specific reasons for the upturn were advanced and in each case they were different. It seemed that shortly after noon yesterday traders of all kinds throughout the country suddenly discovered that there were cheerful and hitherto unnoticed influences at work which should be discounted.

Politics Halted Advance.

After the June bank panics public confidence began to improve and prices advanced until the fall election drew near and each campaigning politician began to tell how bad things would be if he weren't elected or how bad they might have been if he hadn't been in office.

Following the election uncertainties came the period of year-end liquidation and tax selling, which was much heavier than had been anticipated.

With this pressure removed stocks and grain prices began the new year with a week of rising prices. Then came the statement by Congressman Rainey, majority leader, demanding that the budget be balanced not by imposing heavier taxes but by cutting down the cost of government.

Foundation of Advance.

These developments, although they aren't the immediate influences that affect prices from day to day nevertheless have laid a better foundation for an advance.

Market letters yesterday indicated that the grain trade regarded the weather as the chief immediate cause of the spurt in wheat. There was said to be heavy buying as a result of official forecasts of a cold wave in the prairie states which might impair an already suffering crop. Crop observers reported that wheat conditions in the southwest were worse than the December crop report had indicated.

Return of speculative interest in wheat was reflected in the sale of a Chicago Board of Trade membership yesterday at $4,250 net to the buyer, an advance of $650 over the last previous transaction.

Railroads Join Procession.

But even though wheat traders were anticipating a smaller crop, which would mean less tonnage for the western carriers, rail shares followed the farm implement shares into higher ground in the late trading yesterday. Wall street seems ready to believe that 1932 will have been the railroads' worst year. Recent carloading figures have been considered bullish.

The rise in bonds was variously explained. Among the reasons advanced were increasing institutional purchases, Congressman Rainey's statement on taxes, and increased hope for improvement in business generally. Gains from 1 to 7 points were made in railroad issues. Utilities and industrials were not far behind.

From Knoxville, Tenn., came word that prices for burley tobacco had reached a new high for the season.

Bill Asks $50,000,000 More for Federal Land Banks

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Appropriation of $50,000,000 to permit the treasury to subscribe to the paid-in surplus of federal land banks for the purpose of expanding their credit resources, was sought today in a bill by Senator Dickinson [Rep., Ia.]. The money would be supplied by the treasury in amounts approved by the farm loan board on request of the directors of a land bank. It would be repaid by the banks on order of the farm loan board at any time the board felt they could pay.

Lane Bryant Sales in 1932 Reported as $11,596,281

Lane Bryant, Inc., for the year ended Dec. 31, 1932, reported sales of $11,596,281, as compared with $15,138,220 in 1931, a decrease of 23.4 per cent. December sales aggregated $898,092, as compared with $1,115,596 a year ago, a decrease of 19.5 per cent. The November total was off 17.5 per cent from the year before.

Wheeling Steel Company Reopens 6 More Hot Mills

Steubenville, O., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Six additional hot mills were reopened today at the Yorkville plant of the Wheeling Steel corporation, bringing the total to twelve.

U. S. Inflation 'Unthinkable,' Says Mitchell

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—Proposals which have recently been heard in congress that the United States should undertake some form of depreciation of its currency which might throw it off the gold standard was denounced as unthinkable by Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City bank, in his address today to the bank's stockholders in their annual meeting.

On that point Mr. Mitchell said:

"Of vital importance to the progress of recovery in this country is the reestablishment of a stable relationship between the dollar and foreign currencies, thus relieving our price structure from the most destructive of all kinds of competition, namely, that of depreciating currencies of competing nations.

"Since it is neither practicable, nor indeed thinkable, for the United States to adopt either the course of attempting to withdraw behind impenetrable tariff walls, or that of entering upon a competition in currency depreciation of which the end is zero for all, there remains only the alternative of cooperation with foreign nations in the efforts to remove such obstacles as may still bar the way of their return to a gold basis.

Avoid Hint of Uncertainty.

"Above everything else this country should avoid any action or declaration of policy affecting the integrity of the standard of value which may renew the uncertainty which existed upon that subject one year ago and which then had most unsettling effects.

Like Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of Chase bank, he asserted that "the panic has been overcome," that the American economic system is essentially sound and the "most efficient in the world."

Defending investment affiliates of commercial banks, abolition of which is proposed in the Glass banking bill, Mr. Mitchell said it was difficult to believe that congress would find it in the public interest to "destroy this all important factor in the long term money market.

Regulate, Don't Abolish.

He argued that years would be needed to replace the affiliates by "equally efficacious private agencies" and that these would be beyond government control. He advocated, instead, inspection and supervision of affiliates by government authorities, such as member banks, holding that "regulation of existing machinery, not abolition, is the cure for any ills suggested by critics of the system."

"Railroad credit," he declared, "must be maintained, and this requires that the roads shall regain a self supporting basis," because of the great body of savings invested in them.

After the application of current reserves, including the customary contingency reserve amounting this year to $1,828,023.29, the net income of the bank available for dividends was $19,717,191.84, compared with $20,614,886.75 for the previous year. After payment of dividends $5,767,131.84 was carried to undivided profits as the result of the year's operations.

COAL COMBINE'S HOPES RAISED IN ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Significant questioning of government counsel by Justice Brandeis during the final Supreme court argument in the Appalachian Coals, Inc., appeal today raised hopes of the bituminous coal producers that their selling agency might yet be permitted to operate.

The government contended, successfully in the lower court, that the 137 coal producers in Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, had violated the Sherman anti-trust law in organizing the Appalachian corporation.

Santa Fe Road Approves $17,977,000 Budget for '33

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company have approved a capital budget of $17,977,000 for 1933, President W. B. Stoey announced today. This compares with $25,353,000 in 1932 and $51,600,000 in 1931. Of the total, $2,395,000 is in new work, the balance of $15,582,000 representing carryover from last year. The 1932 budget contemplated expenditures of $6,157,000 for new lines and $4,196,000 for new work.

STOCKS CLIMB 2 TO 4 POINTS IN LIVELY RALLY

Prices Are Highest Since November.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—Some traders with pronounced bullish inclinations got excited over the rise in wheat this afternoon and started a stock buying spree that sent prices on the New York exchange to the highest levels reached since last November.

Gains of 2, 3 and 4 points were numerous among the leaders, and trading hit a clip that carried it three or four minutes ahead of ticker quotations. It was one of the liveliest little rallies the exchange has witnessed since the election.

Reports of Big Pool.

The street has been hearing for several days that a big pool was in course of organization to take the market in hand and propel it forward on a "pre-inauguration move" that will be an appropriate way of showing the expected business upturn in the spring.

Some versions of the report have had it that several combinations were uniting for the drive. At any rate, the market has been showing a disposition toward improvement ever since the turn of the year, and qualified observers have thought they were able to detect growing signs of leadership in the developments.

Prices have shown increasing resistance to selling attacks and buying has increased on the bulges.

Traders Make Mistake.

Attempts in some quarters to explain the sudden outburst of enthusiasm as a response to the "favorable" unfilled tonnage report of the United States Steel corporation were likewise scouted. The U. S. Steel figures were made public around noon and the corporation's stock instead of perking up sold off rather sharply.

The figures showed a loss of 161 tons and, as it later developed, many traders on selling the numerals come out on the ticker tape had assumed that the drop was 161,000 tons, since the tonnage is usually given in thousands, and had rushed to dump their holdings before the bottom fell out.

When they discovered their error they made haste to buy back, but the activity was not pronounced enough to give any decided fillip to the general list, and it was a good two hours later before the rally got under way. U. S. Steel, however, shared advantages with other leaders when the turn did come and closed more than 2 points above its previous quotation, or at 31.

Leaders of Advance.

Chemical shares, which have been widely touted here of late to lead the market out of the rut, were prominent in the late advance, Allied Chemical soaring to the highest price since 1931. The closing sale was at 89¾, which represented a net advance of nearly 3 points. Other conspicuous gains included American Can, up 2¾; American Tobacco B, up 3; New York and Harlem railroad, up 4; J. I. Case, 4¼; Ligget & Myers B, 2¾, and Air Reduction, 2¼ points.

The rails were prominent again and Atchison, Union Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Lackawanna, and others scored advances of from 1 to more than 2 points.

Oil shares moved forward in a body and the tobaccos were bought briskly.

RUPERT F. BIPPUS TO QUIT AS HEAD OF STATE BOARD

Rupert F. Bippus, head of the Illinois securities commission under the Republican administration, yesterday announced that he would shortly tender his resignation and return to the practice of law.

In a final statement issued yesterday Mr. Bippus reviewed the work of the department under his administration and warned small speculators of the dangers of buying brewery stocks without first making an exhaustive examination of the company.

"A review of my files today," Mr. Bippus said, "disclosed that from Sept. 1, 1931, to Dec. 17, 1931, when the Supreme court held void the registration section of the securities law, cancellation orders were entered in the cases of eighteen dealers and brokers, and from April 28, 1932, the date upon which the new registration act was passed, to Dec. 10, 1932, the registrations of 39 dealers were either canceled or withdrawn."

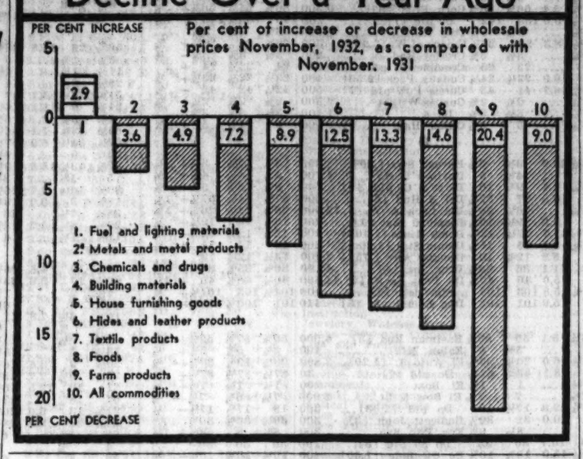
Wholesale Prices of Farm Products Show Greatest Decline Over a Year Ago



Unfilled Steel Tonnage Holds at Same Level

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—The United States Steel corporation today reported Dec. 31 unfilled tonnage at 1,968,140 tons, a decrease of only 161 tons from the 1,968,301 tons reported at the end of November.

The smallness of the decline came as somewhat of a surprise to Wall street, which had expected a bigger movement one way or the other. The final report for 1932 covers the worst period in the history of the industry, but leaves unfilled orders somewhat above the bottom of 1,966,302, set in July.

There was less guessing on the December tonnage figures than there has been for months, largely because of the disappointment over the November figures, which almost completely offset the preceding three months of improvement, and what guessing there was was about evenly divided between increase and decrease.

While 1932 was without question one of the worst years in the history of the industry, careful observers of big steel are now looking forward to a steady if moderate improvement in 1933.

All time record monthly figures for unfilled tonnage were established by the United States Steel corporation when 12,183,083 tons were reported on the books at the end of April, 1917, when world war orders were piling up.

MOVE TO PROTECT UNION INDEMNITY POLICYHOLDERS

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 10.—(AP)—An investigation of the affairs of the Union Indemnity company of New Orleans and its affiliate, the La Salle Fire Insurance company, both of which were placed in receivership last week, was decided upon late today by agents of the companies at a statewide meeting here to protect the interests of policy holders.

More than fifty state agents of the indemnity company and its affiliated concern discussed the receiverships and the effect of the proceedings at an informal executive session.

After the meeting it was announced that the investigation by a special committee had been agreed upon as essential for clear understanding of the situation.

Justin R. Querbes of Shreveport was named chairman of the committee and former State Senator Henry V. Larcade of Opelousas, secretary. Querbes will name three other committee members.

BARRETT HALTS PAY, EXPENSES OF BANK RECEIVERS

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Receivers of closed banks in Illinois were today advised by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, to disburse no monies for expenses or salaries, but to continue paying dividends until further orders from his office.

The order was issued, Mr. Barrett said, when he received word from Kewanee that a bank there had refused to pay dividends on the ground an order had been issued stopping such payments. It was sent out by mail and directed receivers not to disburse any funds of closed banks except for dividends.

MORE THAN 38,000,000 NOW HAVE JOBS IN U. S., SAYS FEDERAL BOARD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Commerce department research workers estimate that between 38,000,000 and 39,000,000 persons are gainfully employed in the United States.

The estimate was based on the employment census taken by the census bureau in 1930 and the estimate of the American Federation of Labor that 11,590,000 persons were out of work in November.

The commerce department research figure is based on the fact that on April 1, 1930, the census bureau found there were 48,823,589 "gainful workers" in the country. The term "gainful workers" is used as meaning those employed or seeking employment. There has been some natural increase in this figure during the last two years, it was pointed out, which would bring the census total to a figure which, when the federation estimate of unemployment is subtracted, would leave between 38,000,000 and 39,000,000 still employed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—Automobile production for the entire year 1932 is estimated in reliable private figures at 1,434,197 units, against 2,418,216 in 1931.

Production for the first week in January was set at 25,479, against 27,431 in the preceding week and 30,775 for the corresponding week of 1932.

During 1932 General Motors led all producers with a total output of 545,553 units, against 1,032,885 in 1931. Ford produced 410,631 units, against 759,387, and Chrysler 232,268, against 270,901 in 1931.

Chevrolet led Ford for the year, turning out 417,243 units, against 767,973 in the preceding twelve months. Plymouth output was 121,630, against 114,080.

COURT ORDER HALTS DIVISION OF RADIO STOCK

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Torquay corporation, a Delaware concern, representing itself merely as a stockholder, late today petitioned Federal Judge John P. Nields to reopen and modify the consent decree handed down last November dissolveing the alleged radio alliance between Radio Corporation of America, General Electric company, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, and other concerns. The court fixed Jan. 18 for a hearing of the petition.

The court ordered that until the hearing and the final determination of the case General Electric company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company are enjoined from making any disposition of capital stock of Radio Corporation of America under the consent decree entered in the case.

Senators Will Reopen Stock Market Investigation Today

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—New light on the career of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish industrial magnate, whose reputation flared and died as did the matches he made, will be sought tomorrow at the reopening of the senate's stock market investigation.

Preparing for a long delayed resumption of the inquiry, the senate banking committee, today employed as counsel Irving Ben Cooper, who has been associated with Samuel Seabury in the investigation of New York City's government.

The immediate objective of the inquiry will be to determine what responsibility, if any, the New York Stock exchange had in the flotation of Kreuger & Toll securities in which Americans lost millions of dollars.

Eight witnesses, including officials of the exchange, brokers who handled the securities, auditors, and others, have been summoned to testify.

"We are trying to find out to what extent the American investor has been played for a sucker by European promoters, with the help of American bankers and the stock exchange," Chairman Norbeck said in announcing the reopening of the inquiry.

Among the subpoenaed witnesses tomorrow will be Roland L. Redmond, counsel for the exchange; Allen Lindley, chairman of the exchange committee on business conduct, and Frank Altschul, chairman of the exchange stock list.

The committee discussed at some length the tax evasion cases it has been secretly investigating for the last six months. These probably will be made the basis of the next phase of the inquiry.

UNCLE SAM MUST REFINANCE 12 BILLION OF DEBT

Big Task Confronts New Regime.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Refinancing of about 12 billion dollars out of the federal government's $20,800,000,000 public debt will be one of the first jobs confronting the new Democratic administration.

That the present officials will not undertake to launch the huge refinancing operation before they leave office became practically certain here today. Treasury experts pointed out that little opportunity offers between now and March 4 to start the work.

The refunding problem falls into two major divisions, it was said, refinancing of the 6 billion dollar Fourth Liberty loan and funding of about 6 billions of short term paper into bonds. Neither of these operations lends itself readily to manipulation during the present administration, it was said.

Fourth Liberty Loan.

Refinancing of the huge Fourth Liberty loan, the largest financial task facing the government, cannot actually be begun until the bonds become callable on Oct. 15 of this year. To call them or any part of them on that date the treasury must give notice six months in advance, that is by April 15. Experts call attention to the fact this date is well within the new administration.

Opportunities for tackling the second phase of the problem—funding the short term securities into bonds—will not present themselves before the present administration goes out of office. The largest maturity of short term paper between now and March 4 is $144,400,000 of certificates due Feb. 1 and this issue is too small to be refunded into a bond.

On March 15 approximately $693,300,000 of certificates mature and announcement of this refinancing operation probably will be planned and circulated to banks by the present treasury staff. Because Secretary of the Treasury Mills and his assistants are believed unwilling to commit their successors to any change, however, this maturity is expected to be refinanced in about the same sort of issue as it now is.

Tell Need for Action.

While pointing out the inability of the present treasury administration to deal with the refinancing problem, experts tell of the urgent need for action. The treasury, with its short term debt, is in the position of a man with many demand notes out against him, they say. If the market for short term paper should dwindle the treasury would have immense difficulty in rolling over its notes, certicates and bills.

Meanwhile the government must, between 1933 and 1938, obtain six billion dollars of longer term credit for the refinancing of the Fourth Liberty loan alone. Orderly practice would require that more than a billion of this issue be called in each of the five years between 1933 and 1938, the experts declare, and at the same time another 6 billions of long term bonds should be floated in order to relieve the treasury from continually having to seek refinancing for short term paper.

By obviating the necessity for new issues of notes, certificates and bills a balanced budget would help greatly in the refinancing work, it was said.

Associated Oil to Spend $750,000 on Advertising

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Associated Oil company will spend $750,000 in advertising in 1933, B. I. Graves, general sales manager, announced today at the annual newspaper men's luncheon. This is about the same sum as was budgeted for 1932. Graves attributed much of the company's sales gain in 1932 to newspaper advertising. Sales increased about 10 per cent, he said, over 1931.

COMMITTEE ADOPTS BARLEY TRADE RULES; AWAIT BEER RETURN

After several months of work a special committee composed of Chicago and Milwaukee barley experts and members of the United States department of agriculture have adopted rules for grading and regulations for trading in barley for cash and future delivery. The action was taken in the event beer is restored. The report was submitted to the directors of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday and also forwarded to the department of agriculture at Washington.

Three grades of barley have been decided on which are satisfactory to all interests and will provide not only for cash barley suitable for malting but also for delivery on future contracts. Malsters at Chicago and Milwaukee, it is said, have been consulted freely and coöperate with the committee.

The regulations when adopted will provide hedging facilities for trading in barley for future delivery. Before trading in the new grades can start officially the approval of the department of agriculture and the directors of the Chicago Board of Trade must be secured.

World Gold Output Record Broken in '32

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—Swollen by the largest American gold production in eight years, the total world production of gold probably established a new all-time record in 1932.

If preliminary reports from Russia are substantiated, production during the first 11 months of the year alone will be sufficient to shatter the previous record. The world total based on the Russia claims would be 23,815,000 ounces, valued at $476,300,000 for the first 11 months of last year; production for all of 1915 was 23,737,520 ounces, the previous high record.

An 8 Year U. S. Record.

While American gold production was setting the highest mark since 1924, American silver production last year showed the lowest volume since 1872 and the smallest value since about 1860. Although 24,425,089 ounces of silver were produced, they were valued at only $6,887,875, according to official figures from the bureau of the mint.

South Africa, as usual, led the world in gold production last year, yielding 10,598,000 ounces in the first 11 months of the year. Canada was second with 2,778,000 ounces and the United States third with 2,288,000 ounces produced during the first 11 months and 2,507,587 ounces for the full year.

Russia is claiming production of 1,900,000 ounces of the precious metal during the first 11 months of 1932, according to reports from London, although estimates in this country credit her with only 1,485,000 ounces. If her claims are upheld, as they may be, because she is known to be shipping quantities of gold to Germany, the world's record for gold production will be broken.

U. S. Output $51,836,400.

In America preliminary reports for the full year show that gold production from the States, Alaska and the Philippines amounted to 2,507,587 ounces and was valued at $51,836,400. The increase from 1931 to 1932 was estimated at about $2,309,200, but the total for the year was still $49,199,300 below the peak year of 1915.

California led the list of gold producing states with 566,031 ounces, valued at $11,700,000. South Dakota was second with 485,051 ounces and Alaska was third with 434,514 ounces.

Utah headed the list of silver producing states, having yielded 7,815,956 ounces valued at $2,204,099. Idaho was second with 6,733,760 ounces and Montana third with 2,426,371 ounces. South Carolina reported the production of four ounces of silver valued by the bureau of the mint at $1.

PERSONAL LOAN REPORT SHOWS PUBLIC PAYING UP

Willoughby G. Walling, president of the Personal Loan and Savings bank, reporting on the operations of the bank during 1932 to the stockholders, asserts that the results reflect an orderly reduction in private debts of the public.

During 1932 44,473 borrowers completely liquidated $10,984,715 of loans, Mr. Walling reported. At the same time the bank made 11,000 fewer loans as compared with 1931, while the average loan shower a decrease of $35.

"This substantial payment of outstanding indebtedness and the decreased demand for new loans clearly indicate that wage earners, salaried men, proprietors, and professional people are persistently getting their financial houses in order," Mr. Walling said. "The bank made a net profit of 7 per cent on its capital stock after writeoffs and after providing adequate contingent reserves."

During the year Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was added to the board of directors, which was reëlected at the annual meeting.

CHASE NATIONAL OF NEW YORK CUTS DIRECTORS

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Chase National Bank of New York held their annual meeting today at which A. H. Wiggin, chairman of the governing board, formally notified them of his desire to retire as active head of the bank.

In accordance with a previously announced plan to reduce the bank's board of directors from 77 to 72, the retirement of five directors was announced.

A.T. & T. Operating Income for November, $1,328,720

American Telephone and Telegraph company reports November operating income of $1,328,720, compared with $2,186,345 in the same 1931 month. Gross was $6,694,578 against $8,452,629. The figures do not include nonoperating income, such as dividends, interest and other revenues.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK REDUCES DIRECTORATE

Three of 4 Vacant Places Not Filled.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The board of directors of the First National Bank of Chicago has been reduced to 50 members, three less than a year ago. Only one new director was elected at the annual meeting of stockholders yesterday. He is Charles J. Whipple, president of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.

CHAS. J. WHIPPLE.

Five vacancies were created during the year by the death of three directors and the retirement of two others. One was filled last July through the election of Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad. The other vacancies will not be filled.

Union Trust Board Cut.

The board of the affiliated state institution, the First Union Trust and Savings bank, has been reduced by a corresponding number. The directorate of the latter institution is made up of board members of the First National.

The directors who died during the year were William Wrigley Jr., H. H. Hitchcock and D. Mark Cummings. The retiring directors are Richmond Dean and Clive Runnells.

The reduction in the number of directors of the First National was regarded in La Salle street as significant. Recently there has been a disposition on the part of big banks and corporations to strive for more compact and efficient directoriates. This has been accomplished largely by letting the vacancies created by deaths and resignations go unfilled.

Retiring Directors.

Mr. Dean, one of the retiring directors, is relinquishing his business activities, and Mr. Runnells no longer lives in Chicago. Mr. Whipple, the new director, has been associated with Hibbard-Spencer since 1908 and has been president of the company since 1926.

At a meeting of the new board after the stockholders' meeting Guy C. Kidoo was promoted from assistant vice president to vice president of the First National bank. Horace O. Wetmore and Herbert V. Prochnow were named assistant cashiers of the First National bank, and Lewis Miller was appointed assistant cashier of the First Union Trust and Savings.

Promotions at Northern Trust.

Several promotions were made yesterday by the directors of the Northern Trust company following the annual meeting of stockholders. No changes were made at the stockholders' meeting, all sitting directors being reëlected.

Arlen J. Wilson and Keith J. Sheckler were made vice presidents. Both have been second vice presidents. Solomon Byron Smith and Harry M. Gustafson were promoted to second vice presidents from assistant cashiers. Reginald G. Olderr was made assistant cashier and manager of the savings department. He formerly held the title of assistant cashier.

Additional appointments also were made in other departments. John M. Easton was made manager of advertising and publicity. Harry Hunsberger, Lyell H. Ritchie, and Theodore Lely were promoted to assistant cashiers. John R. Bjorkman was named assistant cashier and assistant manager of the savings department; Maurice E. Graves, assistant controller, and Irving L. Phillips, assistant manager of the bond department.

Stockyards Banks Merge.

Union of the Stockyards National bank of Chicago and the Stockyards Trust and Savings bank was ratified by stockholders yesterday. The new bank is known as the Stockyards Bank and Trust company. Capital, surplus, and reserves total $2,000,000 and deposits amount to $15,000,000. Book values have been revised downward to conform to current value. The bank is the largest outside of the loop.

D. H. Reimers is president of the combined banks. The directors are F. H. Prince, Arthur G. Leonard, O. T. Henkle, D. H. Reimers, J. A. McDonough, Thomas E. Wilson, George F. Bridge, G. F. Emery, Clyde H. Schryver, and Harry I. Tiffany.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Terminal National bank the board was reduced from 23 to 18 members. Five directors retired and the others were reëlected. Those resigning were Louis L. Emmerson, re-

THREE MEN WANTED

One of the oldest, best established and most widely known Life Insurance Companies has decided upon considerable expansion of its Chicago and Northern Illinois Agencies. They desire to connect with three men for very important work. Two of these men will be assigned to Chicago, the other out in the State.

The men they want need not have had Life Insurance experience, as they will be trained for the work they are to do. The men they want should have attained some degree of success, briefly, they are not looking for a job or position, but seeking an opportunity. The men they want are probably not younger than 30, nor older than 45. They are married, have responsibilities and probably are college men.

If you believe you have qualifications that come up to our requirements, address us in confidence, telling about yourself, your experience, etc., after which time, an interview will be arranged.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Talk of a bull market in wheat, such as lifted the United States out of the 1893-'96 business depression, was heard in the corridors of the Chicago Board of Trade for the first time in many months.

All deliveries of wheat futures sold at 50c or above on the local exchange yesterday, closing with net gains of 2⅛@2⅝c. May finished at 50¼@50⅜c, the highest price since Nov. 15. Sharp as was the bulge in the Chicago market it was mild in comparison with the net gain of 3¼@3¾c in Duluth durum, while Minneapolis futures were 2⅞@3c higher and cash wheat in the latter market was up 3@4c for the day.

Speculative interest in the wheat market, which had shown signs of reviving of late, became heavy in the last 15 minutes of yesterday's session. Buying orders for large amounts through commission houses absorbed the surplus offerings in the pit and started a stampede on the part of shorts to cover. All opposition to the advance was quickly swept aside, and and later traders who had sold daily and weekly offers were forced to protect themselves.

As a result of the increased speculative buying and liberal purchases of cash grain by mills, the price of wheat has appreciated nearly 20 per cent in less than two weeks. May wheat sold at 43¼c on Dec. 28, the lowest figure of the season, and was up 7¼c at the top figure yesterday. Cash wheat, which was recently quoted at a liberal discount under the May, has advanced to a point where No. 2 red yesterday was 2@3c over the future. Farmers have shown no disposition to sell their grain for several weeks.

Higher Prices Expected.

A conviction that the wheat situation had turned for the better has been the subject of comment recently by several leading commission houses and local professional operators, but the market failed to show any real activity until the last week.

Buying of wheat in Chicago against sales at Winnipeg caused the latter market to drag and it gained only 1⅛@1⅝c for the day, although messages from there indicated semi-government interests were active on the buying side. Liverpool, which closed before the advance in American markets started, was off ⅞@1¼c for the day, and was a factor in influencing some selling here early.

May wheat sold at 47⅝c early and was up to 50½c at the last, while the July finished at 49⅞@50c, and September at 50⅜@50½c. The trade figures that it costs over 5c per bu to carry cash wheat from now until May 1, and to have the actual wheat at a premium over the May and the latter selling above the July steel rod, in favorable comment. For several years the cash and the nearby future has been at a big discount under the distant futures.

Other Grains Follow Wheat.

There was not the activity in corn and other grains so noticeable in wheat but they responded to the strength in the latter. Corn finished ⅝@⅝c higher, with May at 27¾c; July, 29@29⅛c, and September, 30¼c, while oats were ⅝c higher. The May future of the latter was 18c at the close and July, 18¼c. The country sold 95,000 bu corn to arrive as the result of the advance.

Houses with eastern connections bought May rye and sold May wheat. Rye gained 1½@2⅝c, the latter on the nearby future, which was 37c at the last. July was 36⅞c. Barley was nominally 29¼c, or ⅝c higher for the day without trades.

LARD MARKET WEAK WITH LIMITED TRADE

Trading in lard was light, weakness in January being a feature, which was due to falling off of cash demand. The close, however, was at a net loss of 5c, with other months higher and offerings light, and at a gain of 2½@5c. Liverpool lard was lower; export clearances were 3,304,860 lbs, reflecting previous sales to Germany principally. Cash lard was $4.60 for regular, $4.05 for loose, and $4 for leaf. Bellies were traded in more actively and closed 2½@15c higher, with January leading in strength. Cash trade was fair at $3.87½. Hog prices were lower and receipts larger than a week ago, but smaller than last year. Prices follow:

BROAD EASTERN BUYING ORDERS BOLSTER HOGS

The broadest eastern buying orders in hogs since last March supported the market yesterday after a 5@10c lower opening, but the bulk of the day's crop had changed hands before the strength appeared. Closing rounds were lively and highest of the day. It was estimated that at least 6,500 hogs sold to order buyers for eastern slaughter, or 23 per cent of the total arrivals. Yet eastern demand is not up to normal for early January.

During the first ten days of 1933 eastern buyers took 32 per cent of the Chicago receipts. The early reduction brought yesterday's general average price down 5c to $3.05. The extreme top at $3.20 showed 5c loss. Current quotations are only 20@25c above the 54 year low marks established on the last day of 1932. Reports from the wholesale trade were rather discouraging yesterday. Despite the increase in shipping orders the hog market has been slipping since last Friday, the larger run offsetting the broader outlet. Yesterday's market was 15@20c under Friday, the high day of last week.

Cattle Trend Mixed.

Light weight steers and yearlings continued the recovery yesterday, but the Monday improvement apparently attracted too many of the medium and heavy cattle from nearby feed lots, and these suffered a setback. The reduction was mild, however. Good action featured the market for steers weighing 1,100 lbs and under, while trading in stock above that weight were just the opposite.

The price spread between yearlings and heavy cattle was more pronounced than ever. Fancy 1,012 lb yearlings topped the list again at $7.25. Outstanding 1,234 lb steers reached $7.00, but the best sale of heavy beeves stopped at $6.00. These averaged 1,484 lbs. Many sales of these weights were made at $4.50@5.50, with some 1,591 lb averages at the inside figure. A big quota of grain fed steers that had not taken on good finish sold down to $4.00, while $3.50 obtained thin stock.

Eastern Demand Broad.

Broad eastern demand for lambs failed to hold off a break in prices yesterday when 17,000 head were unloaded on the market. The increase in receipts more than offset the expanded shipper outlet. Prices declined 15@25c, city butchers and eastern order buyers getting their pick of the crop at $6.25, while large local houses bought at $6.15 and under. Choice 112 lb yearling wethers sold at $5.25 and old ewes at $2.75. Shipping demand is the largest since early last year. On Monday's session eastern buyers took 9,379, or 45 per cent of the total receipts that day.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

MEN.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WILL BE PAID IN 1933 TO MEN WHO QUALIFY TO SUCCESSFULLY REPRESENT THIS COMPANY. NEW ADDITIONAL POSITIONS ARE OPEN IN OUR LOCAL BRANCH OFFICE.

These positions offer permanent opportunity for earnings of $4,000 to $10,000 a year to qualified men.

Our product meets such a genuine need, our method of work is so effective, so applicable to present day conditions, that throughout the entire country our men are doubling and tripling their former incomes as mechanics, salesmen, accountants, clerks, teachers, etc. Thus, a former tool and die maker, T. Lind, made 5 showings, to earn $125, while a former accountant, W. Wilson, made 4 showings to earn $100; another man, more experienced in this kind of work, earned $200 from 8 showings here. In another locality, a former shoe worker showed this invention to 21 prospects and made $115, and his profits from 19 previous showings were $300. A former teacher made 13 showings to earn $110, while his brother made 16 showings to earn $116.

Today a man must have something of tremendous value to sell—and for such men there is tremendous uncontested opportunity. Just ordinary products and ordinary work do not make money today. Sales success requires a product with a kick and a man with a punch. December was another record sales month, 1932 was our third consecutive record sales year.

The men who make $5,000, $7,500, $10,000 regularly in our company learned how to do the necessary things for success in our business. They acquired sufficient self management and self assurance to face and master the obstacles and difficulties that must perforce be met by enterprising business men in taking advantage of any substantial opportunity.

All of these men did not make one hundred dollars per week the first month, although some made more than that. Some had to get along on $125 to $200 a month while learning. This work is not something for nothing, but something real for the man who can learn and has the self control to consistently and courageously go ahead and do things—things which in and of themselves are simple and easy to do, but which must be pursued and performed with purpose, determination, and self confidence.

How much moral stamina and readiness to learn do you have? Are you mentally prepared to go out and work as these men have worked? Will you keep right on working even after earning a little more than the average man thinks he needs nowadays? If, upon reviewing the facts with us, you welcome this opportunity, we will train you, back you, finance your business without any investment on your part. But we will expect you to go ahead and do the necessary things for success in this business. For a personal interview with an executive of this company, call at 215 McGraban Bldg., 1046 Wilson-av., at 2 p. m. today.
